ROOSEVELT BACKS MUNITIONS PROBE

Drought Relief Program Announced By Government

50 MILLIONS TO BE SPENT UNDER PLAN

Five Fold Program Announced By Harry Hopkins In Washington

WORK STARTS AT ONCE

Plans Call For Purchase Of Surplus Cattle And Planting Forage Crops

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(UP)—Federal Emergency Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins today announced adoption of a wide spread drought relief program estimated to cost the government in excess of $50,000,000.

The plan, applying particularly to North and South Dakota, Minnesota and Wisconsin will cover these phases:

1. Purchase of surplus cattle.
2. Planting of forage crops.
3. Feeding of work stock.
4. A work program adopted particularly to the drought area.
5. Transplantation of "thousands" of destitute farm families, largely in South Dakota.

"We are prepared and we intend to take care of the people in the drought area," Hopkins said.

Operations will start next week, he said.

The plan was developed in cooperation with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, the Farm Credit Administration, the Federal Surplus Relief Corporation and Agricultural Extension agents of the states involved.

Purchase of cattle, the major phase of the new drought program, will be conducted under supervision of the AAA through the Federal Surplus Relief Corporation. Enough money will be spent in the drought area, Hopkins said, so that in the next three weeks the AAA will have really taken the surplus cattle from the area.

Hopkis did not estimate how much cattle purchases would involve but said that apart from this phase "the whole cost of drought relief, including the work program, will run about $6,000,000 a month to the time the drought is broken."

Allotments have been made to states of the area for the planting of forage crops which will grow rapdily, Hopkins said. The initial expense to the government will be $1,000,000, involving purchase of seed.

BREMER PRISON IN WISCONSIN FOUND

LANCASTER, Wis., May 18.—(UP)—John Dillinger and several of his machine gun killers were linked today with the $200,000 kidnaping of Edward G. Bremer of St. Paul by reports that federal agents had discovered the prison in which the banker was held and that it was used by Dillinger as a hideout.

A dreary, abandoned mine house near Cuba City, Wis., was identified as the spot where Bremer was held for 22 days. Sheriff Harry Greer said he understood federal investigators also had learned definitely that Dillinger hid there for several days after a bloody battle several weeks ago at Spider Lake, Wis., in which a federal agent and a civilian were killed and four men wounded.

LATE NEWS FLASHES

TUCSON, Ariz., May 18—(UP)—Sought for more than three weeks in connection with the kidnaping of June Robles, a man, said to be a former night club owner, surrendered to police today.

After more than an hour of grilling by authorities in the county jail, he was taken to the Robles home for possible identification.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(UP)—Sen. Key Pittman, D., Nev., chairman of the senate foreign relations committee today reported favorably to the senate a resolution for ratification of a convention for the supervision of international trade in arms and ammunition which was signed at Geneva, June 17, 1925.

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(UP)—President Roosevelt today signed six bills designed to curb gangsters and racketeers with the declaration "I stand squarely behind the efforts of the department of justice to bring to book every lawbreaker, big and little."

LEAGUE MOVES TO STOP WAR IN GRAN CHACO

Appeal Sent All Powers To Halt Sale Of Arms To Bolivia, Paraguay

GENEVA, May 18—(UP)—League of Nations chiefs today prepared today to cable an appeal to armaments manufacturing nations of the world, including the United States, to halt sale of arms to Paraguay and Bolivia, and thus force an end to the sanguinary Gran Chaco war.

The league council today sent a proposal for an arms embargo to a committee of jurists, authorized to draft a specific proclamation during the council's present meeting.

The league secretariat was ready to send the mesages as soon as the draft was approved—the first one to the United States as the key nation.

As a world agreement is necessary, the appeal will ask each nation if it is prepared to see that no munitions shall be sent by or through it to Bolivia and Paraguay, neither of which has a seaport and neither of which has sufficient industries to permit large scale munitions manufacture.

In the case of the United States, congressional authorization for an embargo would be necessary. But league chiefs, with President Roosevelt's record in mind, expressed complete confidence he would get the authority promptly if he asked for it.

In addition to the United States, 18 nations must be appealed to. Six of them, represented on the league council, are ready to clamp on the embargo—Great Britain, France, Italy, Czechoslovakia, Spain and Argentina. The others are:

Germany, Japan, Russia, Jugoslavia, Belgium, Sweden, Switzerland, Brazil, Chile and Peru.

Replies are expected from all in time for a special league council meeting to effect the embargo early in June.

BELIEVE DILLINGER IN BANK ROBBERY

FLINT, Mich., May 18.—(UP)—Machine gun bandits, one described as John Dillinger, held up the Glenwood Avenue branch of the Citizens and Commercial Savings bank today and fled with $25,000.

Another $75,000 in cash, hidden a few minutes previously, escaped the bandits' notice.

The trio apparently trailed an armored car which had delivered $100,000 in payroll money only a few minutes before the holdup. They broke through a police net which had been thrown about the neighborhood when officers were tipped that several stores in the vicinity were "marked."

One of 10 witnesses to the holdup was positive Dillinger was among the bandits. Police immediately linked his statement with reports that the outlaw had established headquarters in Chicago planning forays in search for needed funds.

FORD BARRED FROM SUBMITTING BIDS

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(UP)—Threats of Ford Motor company dealers to sue the government in an effort to enforce its low bids on federal equipment contracts, will not be heeded, the comptroller general's office indicated today.

Rumors of impending suits were circulated after Comptroller J. R. McCarl issued three decisions barring Ford dealers from competitive bidding because the Ford Motor company failed to join NRA.

The decisions stressed a presidential order of March 4 requiring bidders on government contracts to produce certificates showing they complied with NRA codes or the president's re-employment agreement.

LOS ANGELES, May 18.—(UP)—George Creel of San Francisco, candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor, brought his campaign into Southern California last night by denouncing the historic doctrine of Laissez Faire.

BIG DIRIGIBLE MOORED TODAY AT SUNNYVALE

Macon Arrives At Base 48 Hours After Leaving Miami, Florida

SUNNYVALE, Calif., May 18.—(UP)—The navy dirigible Macon moored to her Sunnyvale mast today at 7:07 a. m., 48 hours after she left Miami, Fla., on a transcontinental hop from the scene of the recent fleet war games.

The craft encountered rough weather over mountains in Texas, but rode out the squalls, her commander radioed to the United Press.

Commander A. H. Dresel was most enthusiastic about the success of the westward trip. It was recalled that in flying east to Miami the dirigible had strained several girders, a condition which gave rise to reports of structural weakness. Navy officers denied the truth of the reports.

In his message to the United Press, sent by radio as the Macon approached her home hangar, Dresel said:

HOPE FOR PEACE IN COAST STRIKE SEEN

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—(UP)A ray of hope for peace entered the Pacific Coast longshoremen strike today when it was announced that a definite basis of settlement, proposed by civic leaders with full power to act for ship owners, will be handed to representatives of the striking workers.

This was announced by mediators representing President Roosevelt after a conference with San Francisco business men who entered the picture on the ground that the trouble had ceased to be merely a waterfront matter but an affair of serious civic importance.

William J. Lewis, president of the district international longshoremen's association, was one of the labor leaders summoned to receive the proposals.

Second Clue Is Found In "Grave" Pit

Half Torn Letter Is Being Guarded By Officers As Trail Warms

TUCSON, Ariz., May 18.—(UP)—Fears of mob violence growing out of the torture-kidnaping of June Robles, 6, abated today, leaving authorities free to pursue a trail of fingerprints left on a vault-like cage in which the girl was found partly buried in the desert.

Two suspects who inflamed a mob to cries of "lynch them" were spared the possibility of such a fate by being released but were kept under surveillance. They were expected to be re-questioned later today.

More than a score of fingerprints found on the corrugated iron cage in which June was imprisoned and on fruit and jelly jars discovered in the shallow pit were the chief clues so far unearthed. As many more fingerprints were eliminated as those of officers who handled the box after releasing June.

The fingerprinting tests were directed by Gerard Engert, identification expert of the department of justice, who flew here from Washington. Copies were sent to Washington by airmail to check against the records of thousands of ex-convicts and other police

CONGRESS WILL ACT IN SALES TAX CASE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 18.—(UP)—Congress soon will enact legislation to relieve California and other sales tax states from unfair competition through nontaxable interstate transactions, Fred E. Stewart, member of the state board of equalization, predicted in a message to his office today.

Stewart is in Washington with other tax officials to urge passage of a law which will permit the taxing of interstate sales. He reported that the bill has been favorably reported by a subcommittee of which Congressman Clarence F. Lea of Santa Rosa is chairman.

CLARENCE DARROW MAY HEAD STAFF OF NOTED ATTORNEYS TO DEFEND SAMUEL INSULL

CHICAGO, May 18.—(UP)—Clarence Darrow, for a half century the rugged foe of monopolies and big business, may be hired to defend Samuel Insull in the fallen utility czar's criminal trials

A member of the Insull family said negotiations are being carried on with Darrow, veteran of a score of sensational trials in which he bitterly attacked "primitive injustices" of America's social system.

Should the famous trial lawyer emerge from his announced "retirement" to handle Insull's case it would mark the first time he has ever taken up the cause of a man identified with big business.

In the years when Darrow, at the height of his colorful career, was battling through the courts and unleashing stinging tirades against big business, Insull was building up one of the greatest industrial empires in the history of the world—the Insull Utilities.

Darrow damned the "yoke of monopolies that oppressed the masses" while Insull was making speeches in their defense.

A spokesman for the Insull family, three members of which are under indictment on criminal charges growing out of the collapse of their three billion dollar domain, said Darrow's entrance into the case was "still under advisement."

"Mr. Darrow may be brought into the case," the United Press' informant said, "but we have no announcement to make yet. We also are considering several other men of outstanding legal talent."

Darrow, who is 77 years old and in poor health, is in Washintgon serving as chairman of the national NRA review board.

When the findings of the board are released next week Darrow's governmntal duties will be at an end and he will return to Chicago.

BORAH ATTACKS TARIFF POLICY OF ROOSEVELT

Opposition Of Idaho Senator Expected To Cripple Original Bill

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(UP)—Sen. William E. Borah, master orator of the senate, today lifted Republican opposition to the Roosevelt tariff program out ofguerilla warfare to the broad platform of patriotism and a defense of the whole theory of democracy.

Borah's address was seen as shifting the whole course of the tariff fight. But it was not expected to defeat the administration measure. Passage was still expected by a vote of about two-to-one.

The Borah address, which many thought would take its place with outstanding utterances of the nation's great, came as Republican opposition to the tariff proposal was faltering.

Without striking directly at the "new deal," Borah deplored what

ORANGE EXPORT SHIPPERS FEEL STRIKE WORST

Survey Shows Citrus Growers Facing Distressing Conditions

SAN PEDRO, Cal., May 18.—Orange shippers are more vitally affected by the strike of Pacific Coast longshoremen than any other class of shipper, it was indicated in a survey today.

Paul S. Armstrong, general manager of the California Fruit Growers Exchange, termed conditions "distressing." The strike is imperilling export shipments through deterioration of oranges tied up at the docks. Foreign cargoes are moving slowly and coastwise shipping is at a virtual standstill, Armstrong reported.

Banana importers said slow movement of cargoes presaged "some danger of loss." Local supplies are sufficient to meet present demands.

Soap manufacturers said a 30-day supply of copra was on hand but that more would have to be imported by the end of that time. Lumber supplies are adequate. One local importer reported 50,000,000 feet of lumber available. Tire factories also reported a sufficiency of crude rubber. The same condition was described by cotton and wool importers who said there was no danger of a shutdown of apparel manufacturing plants.

An assault on one strikebreaker was the sole disturbance reported since Walter Hannefield, 42, private guard, was arrested on suspicion of having fired the shot that killed a youthful striker in Monday night's riot. Hannefield denied the shooting despite police

TOM MOONEY DENIED U. S. COURT APPEAL

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—(UP)—Attorneys for Tom Mooney, labor leader convicted of murder in the preparedness day bombings, today planned an appeal to the U. S. circuit court of appeals as their next step in the right to lay Money's case before the U. S. supreme court.

The action of Federal District Judge A. F. St. Sure in refusing to grant Mooney a writ of habeas corpus was "expected," George T. Davis, one of the noted prisoner's numerous counsel, said.

The federal jurist claimed he had no jurisdiction, although the petition alleged that Money's constitutional rights were being violated by his intended imprisonment. Judge St. Sure recommended that the Money fight be taken into the state courts again, then carried to the U. S. court on a writ of certiorari.

APPEAL IS MADE TODAY IN MESSAGE

Senate Asked To Approve Convention To Supervise Traffic In Arms

WORLD ACTION ASKED

Declares People Of Many Nations Over-Taxed As Armament Race On

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(UP)—President Roosevelt, in a special message to the senate today, asked that the committee for investigation of private manufacture of arms and munitions and international traffic receive the generous support of that body.

At the same time Mr. Roosevelt asked that the senate approve the convention for supervision of international traffic in munitions, which was signed at Geneva in 1925, and which still is before the senate for action.

"It is my earnest hope," the president wrote, "that the representatives of the nations who will reassemble at Geneva on May 29 will be able to agree upon a convention containing provisions for the supervision and control of the traffic in arms much more far-reaching than those which were embodied in the convention of 1925."

Mr. Roosevelt ebphasized that some international organization must and will take such action. He pointed out that the peoples of many nations were being "taxed to the point of poverty and starvation to enable governments to engage in a mad race in armament which, if permitted to continue, may well result in war."

Grave Menace

"This grave menace to the peace of the world is due in no small measure to the uncontrolled activities of the manufacturers and merchants of engines of destruction, and it must be met by the concerted action of the peoples of all nations."

The message:

"I have been gratified to learn that, pursuant to a resolution of the senate, a committee has been appointed to investigate the problems incident to the private manufacture of arms and munitions of war and the international traffic therein. I earnestly recommend that this committee receive the generous support of the senate in order that it may be enabled to pursue the investigation with which it is charged with a degree of thoroughness commensurate with the high importance of the questions at issue.

"The executive departments of the government will be charged to cooperate with the committee to the fullest extent in furnishing it with any information in their possession which it may desire to receive, and their views upon the adequacy or inadequacy of existing legislation and of the treaties to which the United States is a party for the regulation and control of the manufacture of and traffic in arms.

Relation Of Orange Prices To Supply

(An Editorial)

A study of the United States farm price of oranges relating to the 12-year period beginning with the season of 1921-22 and extending through the 1932-33 season, reveals that under demand conditions equal to those prevailing for the 1931-32 marketing season, a 10-percent decrease in commercial supply from 40,000,000 boxes results in a 35-percent increase in the farm price. It further reveals that under the demand conditions given a commercial supply of 45,000,000 boxes is likely to return $33,750,000 to the orange growers of the United States, whereas a commercial supply of 25,000,000 boxes is likely to return to them $83,750,000. The fact that charges between the producer and consumer represent a high percentage of the consumers' price accounts for this situation. A small change in the market price results in a large percentage change in the price to growers because total marketing charges remain relatively fixed. In other words, growers as a group, therefore, within certain limits, stand to gain materially from shipping small rather than large supplies to market. For various reasons, however, it would not be advisable to reduce a commercial supply of 45,000,000 boxes to 25,000,000 boxes because it would result in bringing undue hardship to packing plants and transportation facilities, and it would be difficult to use so large a surplus quantity in by-products form or to render it inedible.

In order to take advantage of this situation and relieve the distressed economic status of the citrus growers it is necessary to restrict supply on an industry basis. Since the benefit accruing from restricting supply is in the form of increased market price, it accrues only from that portion of the fruit which is sold and arises only from the fact that the total supply has been restricted. It is therefore essential that insofar as it is possible, all parts of the industry share in restricting the supply. If any part does not equally contribute in the restriction which is necessary to bring about an improvement in market price, that part will receive benefit at the expense of those who do make the necessary sacrifices. Benefits accruing to recalcitrant minorities of growers have, in a number of instances, resulted in breaking down efforts designed to benefit the industry as a whole. A program in which each person in the industry participates equitably is the ideal method of approach.

Market price behavior during a brief period of effective operation of the marketing agreement and license serves to illustrate possible increases in the returns to growers. This may be illustrated from the actual experience of Florida growers last winter. New York auction price of Florida oranges for the week ended December 15, 1933, average $2.07 a box. Considering transportation and selling charges, this would mean a return of approximately 40 cents a box to the grower shipping through Tampa, Florida, and 50 cents a box to the grower shipping through Jacksonville. For the week ended January 12, 1934, a week reflecting an effective operation of the marketing agreement, the New York auction price of oranges averaged $2.66 a box. With transportation and selling charges remaining the same, the grower's price becomes 99 cents a box through Tampa and $1.09 through Jacksonville. This represents an increase of 59 cents a box. In mid-January regulations of shipments were withdrawn. The New York auction price for Florida oranges for the week ended February 2, 1934, averaged $2.12 or practically the same as the price which prevailed prior to the approval of the marketing agreement and license. This reflected back to the grower, meant 54 cents a box decline for the value on the tree. On February 20, 1934, control was again undertaken; the average market price for six days ending March 6 had risen to $2.86 a box representing an increase in the calculated price on the tree of 74 cents a box.

Wholehearted compliance with the industry plan of regulation by all growers and shippers, to meet the present emergency, will result in increased returns, not only to the producer but to the entire community. It behooves every resident of Orange County, the heart of the Valencia industry, to understand the potential benefits of the new citrus marketing agreement and lend every possible encouragement.

CONGRESS WILL ACT IN SALES TAX CASE

SACRAMENTO, Cal., May 18.—(UP)—Congress soon will enact legislation to relieve California and other sales tax states from unfair competition through nontaxable interstate transactions, Fred E. Stewart, member of the state board of equalization, predicted in a message to his office today.

Stewart is in Washington with other tax officials to urge passage of a law which will permit the taxing of interstate sales. He reported that the bill has been favorably reported by a subcommittee of which Congressman Clarence F. Lea of Santa Rosa is chairman.

CLARENCE DARROW MAY HEAD STAFF OF NOTED ATTORNEYS TO DEFEND SAMUEL INSULL

CHICAGO, May 18.—(UP)—Clarence Darrow, for a half century the rugged foe of monopolies and big business, may be hired to defend Samuel Insull in the fallen utility czar's criminal trials

A member of the Insull family said negotiations are being carried on with Darrow, veteran of a score of sensational trials in which he bitterly attacked "primitive injustices" of America's social system.

Should the famous trial lawyer emerge from his announced "retirement" to handle Insull's case it would mark the first time he has ever taken up the cause of a man identified with big business.

In the years when Darrow, at the height of his colorful career, was battling through the courts and unleashing stinging tirades against big business, Insull was building up one of the greatest industrial empires in the history of the world—the Insull Utilities.

Darrow damned the "yoke of monopolies that oppressed the masses" while Insull was making speeches in their defense.

A spokesman for the Insull family, three members of which are under indictment on criminal charges growing out of the collapse of their three billion dollar domain, said Darrow's entrance into the case was "still under advisement."

"Mr. Darrow may be brought into the case," the United Press' informant said, "but we have no announcement to make yet. We also are considering several other men of outstanding legal talent."

Darrow, who is 77 years old and in poor health, is in Washintgon serving as chairman of the national NRA review board.

When the findings of the board are released next week Darrow's governmntal duties will be at an end and he will return to Chicago.

BORAH ATTACKS TARIFF POLICY OF ROOSEVELT

Opposition Of Idaho Senator Expected To Cripple Original Bill

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(UP)—Sen. William E. Borah, master orator of the senate, today lifted Republican opposition to the Roosevelt tariff program out ofguerilla warfare to the broad platform of patriotism and a defense of the whole theory of democracy.

Borah's address was seen as shifting the whole course of the tariff fight. But it was not expected to defeat the administration measure. Passage was still expected by a vote of about two-to-one.

The Borah address, which many thought would take its place with outstanding utterances of the nation's great, came as Republican opposition to the tariff proposal was faltering.

Without striking directly at the "new deal," Borah deplored what

ORANGE EXPORT SHIPPERS FEEL STRIKE WORST

Survey Shows Citrus Growers Facing Distressing Conditions

SAN PEDRO, Cal., May 18.—Orange shippers are more vitally affected by the strike of Pacific Coast longshoremen than any other class of shipper, it was indicated in a survey today.

Paul S. Armstrong, general manager of the California Fruit Growers Exchange, termed conditions "distressing." The strike is imperilling export shipments through deterioration of oranges tied up at the docks. Foreign cargoes are moving slowly and coastwise shipping is at a virtual standstill, Armstrong reported.

Banana importers said slow movement of cargoes presaged "some danger of loss." Local supplies are sufficient to meet present demands.

Soap manufacturers said a 30-day supply of copra was on hand but that more would have to be imported by the end of that time. Lumber supplies are adequate. One local importer reported 50,000,000 feet of lumber available. Tire factories also reported a sufficiency of crude rubber. The same condition was described by cotton and wool importers who said there was no danger of a shutdown of apparel manufacturing plants.

An assault on one strikebreaker was the sole disturbance reported since Walter Hannefield, 42, private guard, was arrested on suspicion of having fired the shot that killed a youthful striker in Monday night's riot. Hannefield denied the shooting despite police

TOM MOONEY DENIED U. S. COURT APPEAL

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—(UP)—Attorneys for Tom Mooney, labor leader convicted of murder in the preparedness day bombings, today planned an appeal to the U. S. circuit court of appeals as their next step in the right to lay Money's case before the U. S. supreme court.

The action of Federal District Judge A. F. St. Sure in refusing to grant Mooney a writ of habeas corpus was "expected," George T. Davis, one of the noted prisoner's numerous counsel, said.

The federal jurist claimed he had no jurisdiction, although the petition alleged that Money's constitutional rights were being violated by his intended imprisonment. Judge St. Sure recommended that the Money fight be taken into the state courts again, then carried to the U. S. court on a writ of certiorari.

APPEAL IS MADE TODAY IN MESSAGE

Senate Asked To Approve Convention To Supervise Traffic In Arms

Declares People Of Many Nations Over-Taxed As Armament Race On

WASHINGTON, May 18.—(UP)—President Roosevelt, in a special message to the senate today, asked that the committee for investigation of private manufacture of arms and munitions and international traffic receive the generous support of that body.

At the same time Mr. Roosevelt asked that the senate approve the convention for supervision of international traffic in munitions, which was signed at Geneva in 1925, and which still is before the senate for action.

"It is my earnest hope," the president wrote, "that the representatives of the nations who will reassemble at Geneva on May 29 will be able to agree upon a convention containing provisions for the supervision and control of the traffic in arms much more far-reaching than those which were embodied in the convention of 1925."

Mr. Roosevelt ebphasized that some international organization must and will take such action. He pointed out that the peoples of many nations were being "taxed to the point of poverty and starvation to enable governments to engage in a mad race in armament which, if permitted to continue, may well result in war."

Grave Menace

"This grave menace to the peace of the world is due in no small measure to the uncontrolled activities of the manufacturers and merchants of engines of destruction, and it must be met by the concerted action of the peoples of all nations."

The message:

"I have been gratified to learn that, pursuant to a resolution of the senate, a committee has been appointed to investigate the problems incident to the private manufacture of arms and munitions of war and the international traffic therein. I earnestly recommend that this committee receive the generous support of the senate in order that it may be enabled to pursue the investigation with which it is charged with a degree of thoroughness commensurate with the high importance of the questions at issue.

"The executive departments of the government will be charged to cooperate with the committee to the fullest extent in furnishing it with any information in their possession which it may desire to receive, and their views upon the adequacy or inadequacy of existing legislation and of the treaties to which the United States is a party for the regulation and control of the manufacture of and traffic in arms.

Relation Of Orange Prices To Supply

(An Editorial)

A study of the United States farm price of oranges relating to the 12-year period beginning with the season of 1921-22 and extending through the 1932-33 season, reveals that under demand conditions equal to those prevailing for the 1931-32 marketing season, a 10-percent decrease in commercial supply from 40,000,000 boxes results in a 35-percent increase in the farm price. It further reveals that under the demand conditions given a commercial supply of 45,000,000 boxes is likely to return $33,750,000 to the orange growers of the United States, whereas a commercial supply of 25,000,000 boxes is likely to return to them $83,750,000. The fact that charges between the producer and consumer represent a high percentage of the consumers' price accounts for this situation. A small change in the market price results in a large percentage change in the price to growers because total marketing charges remain relatively fixed. In other words, growers as a group, therefore, within certain limits, stand to gain materially from shipping small rather than large supplies to market. For various reasons, however, it would not be advisable to reduce a commercial supply of 45,000,000 boxes to 25,000,000 boxes because it would result in bringing undue hardship to packing plants and transportation facilities, and it would be difficult to use so large a surplus quantity in by-products form or to render it inedible.

In order to take advantage of this situation and relieve the distressed economic status of the citrus growers it is necessary to restrict supply on an industry basis. Since the benefit accruing from restricting supply is in the form of increased market price, it accrues only from that portion of the fruit which is sold and arises only from the fact that the total supply has been restricted. It is therefore essential that insofar as it is possible, all parts of the industry share in restricting the supply. If any part does not equally contribute in the restriction which is necessary to bring about an improvement in market price, that part will receive benefit at the expense of those who do make the necessary sacrifices. Benefits accruing to recalcitrant minorities of growers have, in a number of instances, resulted in breaking down efforts designed to benefit the industry as a whole. A program in which each person in the industry participates equitably is the ideal method of approach.

Market price behavior during a brief period of effective operation of the marketing agreement and license serves to illustrate possible increases in the returns to growers. This may be illustrated from the actual experience of Florida growers last winter. New York auction price of Florida oranges for the week ended December 15, 1933, average $2.07 a box. Considering transportation and selling charges, this would mean a return of approximately 40 cents a box to the grower shipping through Tampa, Florida, and 50 cents a box to the grower shipping through Jacksonville. For the week ended January 12, 1934, a week reflecting an effective operation of the marketing agreement, the New York auction price of oranges averaged $2.66 a box. With transportation and selling charges remaining the same, the grower's price becomes 99 cents a box through Tampa and $1.09 through Jacksonville. This represents an increase of 59 cents a box. In mid-January regulations of shipments were withdrawn. The New York auction price for Florida oranges for the week ended February 2, 1934, averaged $2.12 or practically the same as the price which prevailed prior to the approval of the marketing agreement and license. This reflected back to the grower, meant 54 cents a box decline for the value on the tree. On February 20, 1934, control was again undertaken; the average market price for six days ending March 6 had risen to $2.86 a box representing an increase in the calculated price on the tree of 74 cents a box.

Wholehearted compliance with the industry plan of regulation by all growers and shippers, to meet the present emergency, will result in increased returns, not only to the producer but to the entire community. It behooves every resident of Orange County, the heart of the Valencia industry, to understand the potential benefits of the new citrus marketing agreement and lend every possible encouragement.

GEORGE CREEL UPHOLDS WEAK IN L. A. SPEECH

iness should and must be free from leg chains and handcuffs, but at every point there must be recognition that all business today is vested with a public use, and a business that cannot return profits without lying, creating cut-throat competition and dogs' wages, is not a business that the country wants or means to endure."

Creel condemned any plan of wholesale transfer of city dweller to farm land as a means of curing unemployment ills.

JOHN QUINN REPLIES TO YOUNG'S ATTACK

LOS ANGELES, May 18.—(UP)—John R. Quinn, chairman of the county supervisors, defended his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor today by denying published statements that he previously had pledged his support to former Gov. C. C. Young, independent candidate.

"I never promised C. C. Young that I would not be a candidate against him under any circumstances," Quinn said. "I did discuss with him governorship matters, agreeing that the man who could get the most support from the Progressive element should be the Republican candidate. I told him if he had this support, he probably would be elected and that it would be idle for me to oppose him. After I was assured of Progressive support denied to Young, I felt it my duty to yield to the appeal of these Progressive groups to become a candidate."

Young sharply criticized Quinn's entry in the race.

"There is no truth in the blithe assumption that every man has in him the making of a good farmer," he told his city hearers. "Of course we want to send people back to the land, but we must be sure that those sent back have a fair chance to make good.

"An intelligent first step is to save the farms of unfortunates who are tax delinquent. What more feasible than to have the state return the properties to the owners, taking a first lien and spreading amortization over a long term at a low rate of interest."

Unprofitable land should be retired from cultivation, he continued.

"What I am now urging, and will continue to urge is a California soil survey by the Federal government that will determine scientifically just what land is suitable for crops, and in all cases where unsuitability is found, let that land be retired from agricultural use, and more fertile tracts made available to the owners," Creel said.

The speaker promised, if elected, to appoint an economic planning council "without regard to party" to advise him 'not only to meet present emergencies, but to plan a straight road and a safe road for the car of government."

GREAT BRITAIN TO BUILD AIR FORCES

LONDON, May 18. — (UP)— Britain's intention of building up her air force was tacitly announced by Stanley Baldwin, lord president of the council, in the house of commons today.

Shortly after Sir John Simon, foreign secretary, had admitted the imminent breakdown of the world arms conference, Baldwin urged a convention to limit air armaments.

He said the air convention would require sanctions (penalties) against violators and added:

WILL ROGERS says:

HOLLISTER, May 18.—(To the Editor of The Register:) Sure had a good time today. Been out to a calf branding at the "Quien Sabe" Ranch, 40,000 acres and one of the prettiest in California. Didn't mind all the men beating me roping, but when a girl did it looks like golf will be coming on me pretty soon. This is a real old cowtown, but prunes and easterners are getting a hold in here and they are both hard to eradicate. There is not a better day in the world to be spent than with a lot of wise old cow men around, barbecued beef, black coffee and good free holy beans. Cattle men have lost more in the last few years than anybody, and say less about it. When you ever have any doubt as to what might happen in these U. S. go to the country and talk with them and you will come back reassured.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

over the mountains. No material casualties. Ship functioning exceedingly well."

The value of the big dirigible as a fighting arm of the U. S. fleet has become an item of intense navy discussion. Some officials hold that the Macon has not proved itself sufficiently useful to warrant further expeditions on an airship construction program.

But decisions on the fate of the Macon and of future policy, it is understood, will be left tuntil next fall, when the Macon will have completed a full year under navy control.

Dresel himself believes that the unwieldly gas-filled ship he commands proved itself of value in the naval maneuvers in Carribean waters.

Officers implied it would require at least 24 hours more before the fingerprints of the two suspects in technical custody could be compared with those on the cage and food containers.

Another possible clue was a half-torn letter discovered in the prison pit. The envelope carried a Chicago postmark. It was from Chicago that a map was mailed last Thursday to Governor B. B. Moeur at Phoenix, containing specific instructions which led to the discovery of June and her release, 19 days after she was kidnaped for $15,000 ransom.

Contents of the letter were guarded closely but it was learned the missive contained several blurred figures and the name of a Tucson street. No street numbers were named but a microscopic test was planned to determine if they had been obliterated.

In the event of actual arrests, officers are expected to remove the prisoners to the state prison at Florence from where any confessions would be announced.

PRESIDENT IN MESSAGE ASKS ARMS PARLEY

Serious Threat

"The private and uncontrolled manufacture of arms and munitions and the traffic therein has become a serious source of international discord and strife. It is not possible, however, effectively to control such an evil by the isolated action of any one country. The enlightened opinion of the world has long realized that this is a field in which international action is necessary.

"The negotiation of the convention for the supervision of the international trade in arms and ammunition and in implements of war, signed at Geneva, June 17, 1925, was an important step in the right direction. That convention is still before the senate. I hope that the senate may find it possible to give its advice and consent to its ratification.

"The ratification of that convention by this government, which has been too long delayed, would be a concrete indication of the willingness of the American people to make their contribution toward the suppression of abuses which may have disastrous result for the entire world if they are permitted to continue unchecked.

"It is my earnest hope that the representatives of the nations who will reassemble at Geneva on May 29 will be able to agree upon a convention containing provisions for the supervision and control of the traffic in arms much more far reaching than those which were embodied in the convention of 1925. Some suitable international organization must and will take shch action.

"The peoples of many countries are being taxed to the point of poverty and starvation in order to enable governments to engage in a mad race in armament which, if permitted to continue, may well result in war. This grave menace to the peace of the world is due in no small measure to the uncontrolled activities of the manufacturers and merchants of engines of destruction, and it must be met by the concerted action of the people of all nations."

RUMORS OF PICKERS' STRIKE UNFOUNDED

Rumors that an orange pickers' strike was in progress at Fullerton today were proved unfounded today by The Register. The strike rumors grew out of the fact that operations in some houses had been suspended due to the dock workers strike at the harbor.

The Quality Fruit company, located on East Walnut street, Fullerton, reported today that the plant was closed down because of the strike on the docks at San Pedro and Wilmington. There has been no labor trouble at the independent packing house. This house is more seriously affected than other houses in the county because it does more export shipping than domestic shipping. The house hoped to open again this afternoon.

George Crawford, manager of the Northern Orange County Citrus Exchange, said today that fruit shipments are being delayed from three to four days because of the dock strike, but there is no labor trouble of any kind if shipments are made by train and not by truck.

BORAH ATTACKS TARIFF POLICY OF ROOSEVELT

he said was a trend away from constitutional government.

Personal Liberty

"Nowhere on this round globe today, "he said, "do the common people enjoy the blessings of liberty except in a constitutional democracy. There and there alone are to be found a free press, free speech, personal liberty and all those beissings which distinguish the people of a free country from the helpless, hapless persecuted individuals who constitute the mere cogs of some vast machine in an absolute dictatorship.

"Facism, Nazism, Communism, appealing to the forces of terror and fanaticisms, have buried the individual beneath the schemes of personal advantage and now they are constantly ridiculing and attacking democracy.

"Neither Fascism, Nazism nor Communism as a form of government could exist for a fortnight in the pure atmopshere of intellectual freedom.

Mass Enslavement

"Those governments rest upon the enslavement of the masses, upon the submergement of those who must do the working, the fighting and the dying. For personal aggrandizement they live and they will continue to live only so long as they put chains upon the body and fetters upon the brain."

Borah's speech elevated the opposition from a disjointed series of attacks designed to cripple the bill with amendments.

Borah was disturbed that "in the midst of this universal onslaught upon personal liberty and free institution," Democracy seemed to be apologetic and distrustful of its own methods.

"I am interested, I frankly say, in trying to present to my colleagues something which will stop the trend which I think is exceedingly dangerous.

"That does not apply to Mr. Hoover or to Mr. Roosevelt; it is a trend and it is a delegation of the taxing power. It is getting away from those in whom it was entrusted by the framers of the constitution to the congress it ought to be done now, and I think that we are just step by step delegating away the one power upon which the parliamentary government rests.

"There is no justification on earth for you and me to be here if the taxing power is gone."

PASSENGERS ABOARD S. S. MALOLO ROBBED

HONOLULU, T. H., May 18.—(UP)—Polly Moran, film comedienne, lost a $4000 brooch and other passengers abroad the S. S. Malolo lost cash and valuables enroute to Honolulu, police reported today.

Miss Moran was in tears when she reported the theft of the diamond and emerald brooch.

"I awoke Sunday night just in time to see a man disappearing through the stateroom door," she said.

Other victims of the alleged sneak thief included Mrs. Beulah Cole, Los Angeles, $100 in cash; Mrs. Abraham Shore, Los Angeles, a ring valued at $1000, and H. K. Fawks, Los Angeles, $250 in cash. Other passengers experienced smaller losses.

Authorities estimated the total loot aggregated $6000. A passenger was questioned and released.

RING STOLEN

Assertedly stolen while he was sleeping, a diamond ring was reported missing by Melvin Patterson, Finley hotel, in a report to police yesterday. The ring was of white gold, with a large diamond in the center and two on the side and was valued at $35, the report stated.

BOARD AWARDS CONTRACTS FOR $14,200 WORK

The Santa Ana board of education last night "renovized" to the extent of $14,200, in awarding contracts for remodeling of four buildings for new junior college quarters, and for repairs upon John Muir and McKinley elementary schools.

Contracts on the junior college buildings were awarded on bids covering general contract, plumbing, electrical work and furnishings, for the present school administration building, the old Willard building on North Main street, the two-story frame school building at 115 Church street, and the adjacent one-story former administration building at 119 Church street. Roof repairs for the John Muir and McKinley buildings were afterward awarded without bids, estimates on both jobs being under $1000. These two jobs complete needed minor repairs in the elementary system, aside from major reconstruction jobs on the Spurgeon and Edison schools, to be financed with $115,000 appropriation of Greene Bill funds.

General contracts were awarded as follows: two-story building at 115 Church street, to George A. Barrows, for $1175; one-story building at 119 Church street to Jules W. Markel for $678; old Willard building to William Rohrbacher for $3130; administration building to George A. Barrows for $276.

Plumbing contracts were awarded as follows: 115 Church street to Pacific Plumbing company for $1797 (on condition that specified equipment be furnished); 119 Church street to Russell Plumbing company for $180; old Willard building to C. R. Stauffer for $1715; administration building to Russell Plumbing company for $490.

All wiring contracts went to the Cave Electric company, which was low bidder on each building, and submitted a total bid of $1140.

Identical Bids

Four firms, the Barr Lumber company, Santa Ana Lumber company, and Santa Ana Cabinet and Fixture company, all Santa Ana firms, and Magel-Gohres and company, of Anaheim, submitted identical bids upon each of 12 items of furnishings, each total bid being $2568. The board simply shut its eyes and awarded the job to the Santa Ana Cabinet and Fixture company. Of this sum, $1763 represents equipment for the building at 115 Church street, and $805 for the old Willard building.

Contracts awarded last night thus represent expenditures of $5095 on the building at 115 Church, $964 at 119 Church street, $6327 at the old Willard building, and $807 on the administration building.

After these contracts were awarded the board decided to "clean up" the question of small repairs needed in the elementary buildings, aside from the $115,000 of Greene Bill funds to be expended on the Spurgeon and Edison buildings, plans for which now are being prepared for submission to the state.

Accordingly a motion by R. R. Hays to award a contract for roof repairs at McKinley school to R. C. McMillan on a "cost plus" basis, was adopted. The estimate of the work is $600. Another motion to award a contract for bracing the roof of the John Muir school, on a similar payment basis, to O. T. Moore, also was carried. The cost estimate was $450.

Total Bids On J. C.

In connection with the junior college contracts, each contractor submitted total bids, besides bids on each buildings. The board, however, selected the low bid on each building, rather than total bids, and awarded the contracts separately. The only exception was in the case of the Cave Electric company, which was low bidder on each building, and submitted a total bid $44 less than the combined aggregate of its four separate bids.

Total bids were as follows:

General contract—William Rohrbacher $5385; O. T. Moore, $5951; R. C. McMillan $6296.18; L. R. Wilson $6299; Adolf C. Schmid and Stark $7380; Jules W. Markel $7482. George Barrows did not submit a total bid, having filed bids on only three of the four units.

Plumbing contract—C. R. Stauffer $4327; Pacific Plumbing company $4354; Russell Plumbing company $4363; Wright, Lawrence and Cameron $4675.

Electric contract—Cave Electric $1140; MacFarlan Electric $1332.60; Allen-Trusty and Sons $1340; Gilbert-Weston-Stearns $1447; Cope Electric $1966.92.

By selecting the low item on each unit, the board kept the general contract cost to $5259 on the four units, as compared to the lowest total bid of $5385. The plumbing cost was held to $4182, as compared to the lowest total bid, $4327.

AIRPLANE CRASHES IN GRIFFITH PARK

LOS ANGELES, May 18.—(UP)—Two army pilots from Rockwell field, San Diego, escaped injury when their airplane crashed in Griffith park near the national guard flying field.

The two army men were not identified immediately.

According to witnesses, the plane went into a nose-dive in making a turn to land on the field and shot to the ground. It was totally wrecked.

iness should and must be free from leg chains and handcuffs, but at every point there must be recognition that all business today is vested with a public use, and a business that cannot return profits without lying, creating cut-throat competition and dogs' wages, is not a business that the country wants or means to endure."

Creel condemned any plan of wholesale transfer of city dweller to farm land as a means of curing unemployment ills.

JOHN QUINN REPLIES TO YOUNG'S ATTACK

LOS ANGELES, May 18.—(UP)—John R. Quinn, chairman of the county supervisors, defended his candidacy for the Republican nomination for governor today by denying published statements that he previously had pledged his support to former Gov. C. C. Young, independent candidate.

"I never promised C. C. Young that I would not be a candidate against him under any circumstances," Quinn said. "I did discuss with him governorship matters, agreeing that the man who could get the most support from the Progressive element should be the Republican candidate. I told him if he had this support, he probably would be elected and that it would be idle for me to oppose him. After I was assured of Progressive support denied to Young, I felt it my duty to yield to the appeal of these Progressive groups to become a candidate."

Young sharply criticized Quinn's entry in the race.

"There is no truth in the blithe assumption that every man has in him the making of a good farmer," he told his city hearers. "Of course we want to send people back to the land, but we must be sure that those sent back have a fair chance to make good.

"An intelligent first step is to save the farms of unfortunates who are tax delinquent. What more feasible than to have the state return the properties to the owners, taking a first lien and spreading amortization over a long term at a low rate of interest."

Unprofitable land should be retired from cultivation, he continued.

"What I am now urging, and will continue to urge is a California soil survey by the Federal government that will determine scientifically just what land is suitable for crops, and in all cases where unsuitability is found, let that land be retired from agricultural use, and more fertile tracts made available to the owners," Creel said.

The speaker promised, if elected, to appoint an economic planning council "without regard to party" to advise him 'not only to meet present emergencies, but to plan a straight road and a safe road for the car of government."

GREAT BRITAIN TO BUILD AIR FORCES

LONDON, May 18. — (UP)—Britain's intention of building up her air force was tacitly announced by Stanley Baldwin, lord president of the council, in the house of commons today.

Shortly after Sir John Simon, foreign secretary, had admitted the imminent breakdown of the world arms conference, Baldwin urged a convention to limit air armaments.

He said the air convention would require sanctions (penalties) against violators and added:

Police News

Ben Hayden, 59, Huntington Beach, concluding a 15-day jail sentence for drunkenness yesterday, was rebooked by probation officers for violation of probation.

John Vieira, 108 West Camille street, had his bicycle stolen from the Lathrop school yesterday, he reported to police.

WILL ROGERS says:

HOLLISTER, May 18.—(To the Editor of The Register:) Sure had a good time today. Been out to a calf branding at the "Quien Sabe" Ranch, 40,000 acres and one of the prettiest in California. Didn't mind all the men beating me roping, but when a girl did it looks like golf will be coming on me pretty soon. This is a real old cowtown, but prunes and easterners are getting a hold in here and they are both hard to eradicate. There is not a better day in the world to be spent than with a lot of wise old cow men around, barbecued beef, black coffee and good free holy beans. Cattle men have lost more in the last few years than anybody, and say less about it. When you ever have any doubt as to what might happen in these U. S. go to the country and talk with them and you will come back reassured.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

over the mountains. No material casualties. Ship functioning exceedingly well."

The value of the big dirigible as a fighting arm of the U. S. fleet has become an item of intense navy discussion. Some officials hold that the Macon has not proved itself sufficiently useful to warrant further expeditions on an airship construction program.

But decisions on the fate of the Macon and of future policy, it is understood, will be left tuntil next fall, when the Macon will have completed a full year under navy control.

Dresel himself believes that the unwieldly gas-filled ship he commands proved itself of value in the naval maneuvers in Carribean waters.

SECOND CLUE IS FOUND IN "GRAVE" PIT

Officers implied it would require at least 24 hours more before the fingerprints of the two suspects in technical custody could be compared with those on the cage and food containers.

Another possible clue was a half-torn letter discovered in the prison pit. The envelope carried a Chicago postmark. It was from Chicago that a map was mailed last Thursday to Governor B. B. Moeur at Phoenix, containing specific instructions which led to the discovery of June and her release, 19 days after she was kidnaped for $15,000 ransom.

Contents of the letter were guarded closely but it was learned the missive contained several blurred figures and the name of a Tucson street. No street numbers were named but a microscopic test was planned to determine if they had been obliterated.

In the event of actual arrests, officers are expected to remove the prisoners to the state prison at Florence from where any confessions would be announced.

IN ORANGE COUNTY JAIL

Below Loretta Wood and Joan Burke, right, who were arrested with Kirk, Williams and Kerrigan, convicted Gettle kidnapers, are being held in the Orange County jail, pending their trial in federal court on charges of attempted extortion.

PRESIDENT IN MESSAGE ASKS ARMS PARLEY

Serious Threat

"The private and uncontrolled manufacture of arms and munitions and the traffic therein has become a serious source of international discord and strife. It is not possible, however, effectively to control such an evil by the isolated action of any one country. The enlightened opinion of the world has long realized that this is a field in which international action is necessary.

"The negotiation of the convention for the supervision of the international trade in arms and ammunition and in implements of war, signed at Geneva, June 17, 1925, was an important step in the right direction. That convention is still before the senate. I hope that the senate may find it possible to give its advice and consent to its ratification.

"The ratification of that convention by this government, which has been too long delayed, would be a concrete indication of the willingness of the American people to make their contribution toward the suppression of abuses which may have disastrous result for the entire world if they are permitted to continue unchecked.

"It is my earnest hope that the representatives of the nations who will reassemble at Geneva on May 29 will be able to agree upon a convention containing provisions for the supervision and control of the traffic in arms much more far reaching than those which were embodied in the convention of 1925. Some suitable international organization must and will take shch action.

"The peoples of many countries are being taxed to the point of poverty and starvation in order to enable governments to engage in a mad race in armament which, if permitted to continue, may well result in war. This grave menace to the peace of the world is due in no small measure to the uncontrolled activities of the manufacturers and merchants of engines of destruction, and it must be met by the concerted action of the people of all nations."

he said was a trend away from constitutional government.

Personal Liberty

"Nowhere on this round globe today, "he said, "do the common people enjoy the blessings of liberty except in a constitutional democracy. There and there alone are to be found a free press, free speech, personal liberty and all those belssings which distinguish the people of a free country from the helpless, hapless persecuted individuals who constitute the mere cogs of some vast machine in an absolute dictatorship.

"Facism, Nazism, Communism, appealing to the forces of terror and fanaticisms, have buried the individual beneath the schemes of personal advantage and now they are constantly ridiculing and attacking democracy.

"Neither Fascism, Nazism nor Communism as a form of government could exist for a fortnight in the pure atmopshere of intellectual freedom.

Mass Enslavement

"Those governments rest upon the enslavement of the masses, upon the submergement of those who must do the working, the fighting and the dying. For personal aggrandizement they live and they will continue to live only so long as they put chains upon the body and fetters upon the brain."

Borah's speech elevated the opposition from a disjointed series of attacks designed to cripple the bill with amendments.

Borah was disturbed that "in the midst of this universal onslaught upon personal liberty and free institution," Democracy seemed to be apologetic and distrustful of its own methods.

"I am interested, I frankly say, in trying to present to my colleagues something which will stop the trend which I think is exceedingly dangerous.

"That does not apply to Mr. Hoover or to Mr. Roosevelt; it is a trend and it is a delegation of the taxing power. It is getting away from those in whom it was entrusted by the framers of the constitution to the congress it ought to be done now, and I think that we are just step by step delegating away the one power upon which the parliamentary government rests.

"There is no justification on earth for you and me to be here if the taxing power is gone."

ORANGE EXPORT SHIPPERS FEEL STRIKE WORST

claims that the "death bullet" was fired from the guard's revolver.

RUMORS OF PICKERS' STRIKE UNFOUNDED

Rumors that an orange pickers' strike was in progress at Fullerton today were proved unfounded today by The Register. The strike rumors grew out of the fact that operations in some houses had been suspended due to the dock workers strike at the harbor.

The Quality Fruit company, located on East Walnut street, Fullerton, reported today that the plant was closed down because of the strike on the docks at San Pedro and Wilmington. There has been no labor trouble at the independent packing house. This house is more seriously affected than other houses in the county because it does more export shipping than domestic shipping. The house hoped to open again this afternoon.

George Crawford, manager of the Northern Orange County Citrus Exchange, said today that fruit shipments are being delayed from three to four days because of the dock strike, but there is no labor trouble of any kind if shipments are made by train and not by truck.

PASSENGERS ABOARD S. S. MALOLO ROBBED

HONOLULU, T. H., May 18.—(UP)—Polly Moran, film comedienne, lost a $4000 brooch and other passengers abroad the S. S. Malolo lost cash and valuables enroute to Honolulu, police reported today.

Miss Moran was in tears when she reported the theft of the diamond and emerald brooch.

"I awoke Sunday night just in time to see a man disappearing through the stateroom door," she said.

Other victims of the alleged sneak thief included Mrs. Beulah Cole, Los Angeles, $100 in cash; Mrs. Abraham Shore, Los Angeles, a ring valued at $1000, and H. K. Fawks, Los Angeles, $250 in cash. Other passengers experienced smaller losses.

Authorities estimated the total loot aggregated $6000. A passenger was questioned and released.

RING STOLEN

Assertedly stolen while he was sleeping, a diamond ring was reported missing by Melvin Patterson, Finley hotel, in a report to police yesterday. The ring was of white gold, with a large diamond in the center and two on the side and was valued at $35, the report stated.

BOARD AWARDS CONTRACTS FOR $14,200 WORK

The Santa Ana board of education last night "renovized" to the extent of $14,200, in awarding contracts for remodeling of four buildings for new junior college quarters, and for repairs upon John Muir and McKinley elementary schools.

Contracts on the junior college buildings were awarded on bids covering general contract, plumbing, electrical work and furnishings, for the present school administration building, the old Willard building on North Main street, the two-story frame school building at 115 Church street, and the adjacent one-story former administration building at 119 Church street. Roof repairs for the John Muir and McKinley buildings were afterward awarded without bids, estimates on both jobs being under $1000. These two jobs complete needed minor repairs in the elementary system, aside from major reconstruction jobs on the Spurgeon and Edison schools, to be financed with $115,000 appropriation of Greene Bill funds.

General contracts were awarded as follows: two-story building at 115 Church street, to George A. Barrows, for $1175; one-story building at 119 Church street to Jules W. Markel for $678; old Willard building to William Rohrbacher for $3130; administration building to George A. Barrows for $276.

Plumbing contracts were awarded as follows; 115 Church street to Pacific Plumbing company for $1797 (on condition that specified equipment be furnished); 119 Church street to Russell Plumbing company for $180; old Willard building to C. R. Stauffer for $1715; administration building to Russell Plumbing company for $490.

All wiring contracts went to the Cave Electric company, which was low bidder on each building, and submitted a total bid of $1140.

Identical Bids

Four firms, the Barr Lumber company, Santa Ana Lumber company, and Santa Ana Cabinet and Fixture company, all Santa Ana firms, and Magel-Gohres and company, of Anaheim, submitted identical bids upon each of 12 items of furnishings, each total bid being $2568. The board simply shut its eyes and awarded the job to the Santa Ana Cabinet and Fixture company. Of this sum, $1763 represents equipment for the building at 115 Church street, and $805 for the old Willard building.

Contracts awarded last night thus represent expenditures of $5095 on the building at 115 Church, $964 at 119 Church street, $6327 at the old Willard building, and $807 on the administration building.

After these contracts were awarded the board decided to "clean up" the question of small repairs needed in the elementary buildings, aside from the $115,000 of Greene Bill funds to be expended on the Spurgeon and Edison buildings, plans for which now are being prepared for submission to the state.

Accordingly a motion by R. R. Hays to award a contract for roof repairs at McKinley school to R. C. McMillan on a "cost plus" basis, was adopted. The estimate of the work is $600. Another motion to award a contract for bracing the roof of the John Muir school, on a similar payment basis, to O. T. Moore, also was carried. The cost estimate was $450.

Total Bids On J. C.

In connection with the junior college contracts, each contractor submitted total bids, besides bids on each buildings. The board, however, selected the low bid on each building, rather than total bids, and awarded the contracts separately. The only exception was in the case of the Cave Electric company, which was low bidder on each building, and submitted a total bid $44 less than the combined aggregate of its four separate bids.

Total bids were as follows:

General contract—William Rohrbacher $5385; O. T. Moore, $5951; R. C. McMillan $6296.18; L. R. Wilson $6299; Adolf C. Schmid and Stark $7380; Jules W. Markel $7482. George Barrows did not submit a total bid, having filed bids on only three of the four units.

Plumbing contract—C. R. Stauffer $4327; Pacific Plumbing company $4354; Russell Plumbing company $4363; Wright, Lawrence and Cameron $4675.

Electric contract—Cave Electric $1140; MacFarlan Electric $1382.60; Allen-Trusty and Sons $1340; Gilbert-Weston-Stearns $1447; Cope Electric $1966.92.

By selecting the low item on each unit, the board kept the general contract cost to $5259 on the four units, as compared to the lowest total bid of $5385. The plumbing cost was held to $4182, as compared to the lowest total bid, $4327.

AIRPLANE CRASHES IN GRIFFITH PARK

LOS ANGELES, May 18.—(UP)—Two army pilots from Rockwell field, San Diego, escaped injury when their airplane crashed in Griffith park near the national guard flying field.

The two army men were not identified immediately.

According to witnesses, the plane went into a nose-dive in making a turn to land on the field and shot to the ground. It was totally wrecked.

Name Similarity Causes Confusion

Robert Fernandez, manager of the Tiernan Typewriter company, of Santa Ana, today asked The Register to explain that he is not the "Robert Fernandez, of Orange," whose name was signed to the petition filed yesterday with the county clerk, asking that the Communist party be placed upon the August primary election ballot.

L. O. Lamont, of Anaheim, whose signature was attached to the petition, yesterday advised County Clerk J. M. Backs that he signed the petition through a misunderstanding, believing it was some kind of CWA petition.

EVOLVE PLAN TO BLOCK ALL COUNTY ROADS

Perfection of a complete emergency blockade of county highways was made this morning in the supervisors' room at the courthouse when Sheriff Logan Jackson conferred with all police departments, constables, California Highway Patrol officers and other officers of the county.

Agitation for the organized blockade was started some time ago but was crystallized with the search for the kidnapers of William F. Gettle last week. At that time, Orange county officers assisted Los Angeles county officers in patrolling roads.

The plan will be used to apprehend suspects in all major crimes, such as kidnaping, robbery and murder. By police radio and telephone, all officers can be notified on short notice and dispatched to their respective stations on high ways entering the county. Since virtually every city in the county has radio equipped police equipment, all cars can be in close touch with activities at headquarters.

In addition to the highway blockade, the services of seven airplanes have been volunteered to the sheriff, to be ready for call at all times. The planes are located at strategic points throughout the county.

Los Angeles county has had such a blockade plan in effect for some time and Orange county has been assured that the two counties will cooperate, according to Jackson.

Supervisor William Jerome represented the board of supervisors at the meeting.

CONDITION OF INJURED BOY HELD CRITICAL

One woman was hurt yesterday, a man was taken to the Orange county hospital last night and a Lathrop junior high school student is in a critical condition at the Santa Ana Valley hospital as the result of auto wrecks yesterday.

Joe Ortego, 15, 507 Beverly place, is suffering from a basal skull fracture from a peculiar wreck at Cypress and Cubbon streets yesterday afternoon. He fell from the back of a car driven by Charles Nielson, 16, 943 West Highland street, and fell on his head. The youth was conscious today and is given a slight chance to recover.

Silvia Hardin, 24, 1008 North Flower street, was slightly hurt yesterday when cars driven by Fred Shaylor, 26, 1008 North Flower street and H. C. Lane, 28, Los Angeles, collided on Broadway near Sixth street.

Although no report was made to authorities, a man giving the name of Tom Hutchinson was treated for scalp wounds and cuts at the Orange County hospital last night. He had been drinking but was not drunk, according to hospital authorities.

COUNTY ROAD WORKER DIES OF INJURIES

An inquest will be held tomorrow at 10 a. m. from the Winbigler funeral home concerning the death of Homer A. Wilson, 43, 280 Wilson street, Costa Mesa, who passed away last night at St. Joseph's hospital from injuries received Wednesday near Olive.

Wilson was working for the Orange county road department and was engaged in shoveling gravel from a truck at the time of the accident. When the truck backed up, Wilson was caught beneath it and suffered a broken leg and internal injuries.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Gladys N. Wilson, of Costa Mesa; five daughters, Vivian, Ruth, Lillian and Florence Wilson of Costa Mesa, and Opal Wilson of Glendale; two brothers, Olen Wilson, Grand Valley, Okla., and Ira A. Wilson, of Glendale; and two sisters, Mrs. Lulu White and Mrs. Laura Winrod, of La Clede, Mo.

Announcement of funeral services will be made later by the Winbigler Funeral home.

"The summons to shoulder your burden and plod along doing the best you can, even though you are unable to do as well as you wish you could, is not a task for a small man. It is a big man's job but, if you link your life-purpose with God and refuse to repine, you will be strong enough for it.

No one could grow into such a man as the times demand along any easy road. The world needs just what you are becoming.

Name Similarity Causes Confusion

Robert Fernandez, manager of the Tiernan Typewriter company, of Santa Ana, today asked The Register to explain that he is not the "Robert Fernandez, of Orange," whose name was signed to the petition filed yesterday with the county clerk, asking that the Communist party be placed upon the August primary election ballot.

L. O. Lamont, of Anaheim, whose signature was attached to the petition, yesterday advised County Clerk J. M. Backs that he signed the petition through a misunderstanding, believing it was some kind of CWA petition.

EVOLVE PLAN TO BLOCK ALL COUNTY ROADS

Perfection of a complete emergency blockade of county highways was made this morning in the supervisors' room at the courthouse when Sheriff Logan Jackson conferred with all police departments, constables, California Highway Patrol officers and other officers of the county.

Agitation for the organized blockade was started some time ago but was crystallized with the search for the kidnapers of William F. Gettle last week. At that time, Orange county officers assisted Los Angeles county officers in patrolling roads.

The plan will be used to apprehend suspects in all major crimes, such as kidnaping, robbery and murder. By police radio and telephone, all officers can be notified on short notice and dispatched to their respective stations on high ways entering the county. Since virtually every city in the county has radio equipped police equipment, all cars can be in close touch with activities at headquarters.

In addition to the highway blockade, the services of seven airplanes have been volunteered to the sheriff, to be ready for call at all times. The planes are located at strategic points throughout the county.

Los Angeles county has had such a blockade plan in effect for some time and Orange county has been assured that the two counties will cooperate, according to Jackson.

Supervisor William Jerome represented the board of supervisors at the meeting.

CONDITION OF INJURED BOY HELD CRITICAL

One woman was hurt yesterday, a man was taken to the Orange county hospital last night and a Lathrop junior high school student is in a critical condition at the Santa Ana Valley hospital as the result of auto wrecks yesterday.

Joe Ortego, 15, 507 Beverly place, is suffering from a basal skull fracture from a peculiar wreck at Cypress and Cubbon streets yesterday afternoon. He fell from the back of a car driven by Charles Nielson, 16, 943 West Highland street, and fell on his head. The youth was conscious today and is given a slight chance to recover.

Silvia Hardin, 24, 1008 North Flower street, was slightly hurt yesterday when cars driven by Fred Shaylor, 26, 1008 North Flower street and H. C. Lane, 28, Los Angeles, collided on Broadway near Sixth street.

Although no report was made to authorities, a man giving the name of Tom Hutchinson was treated for scalp wounds and cuts at the Orange County hospital last night. He had been drinking but was not drunk, according to hospital authorities.

COUNTY ROAD WORKER DIES OF INJURIES

An inquest will be held tomorrow at 10 a. m. from the Winbigler funeral home concerning the death of Homer A. Wilson, 43, 280 Wilson street, Costa Mesa, who passed away last night at St. Joseph's hospital from injuries received Wednesday near Olive.

Wilson was working for the Orange county road department and was engaged in shoveling gravel from a truck at the time of the accident. When the truck backed up, Wilson was caught beneath it and suffered a broken leg and internal injuries.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Gladys N. Wilson, of Costa Mesa; five daughters, Vivian, Ruth, Lillian and Florence Wilson of Costa Mesa, and Opal Wilson of Glendale; two brothers, Olen Wilson, Grand Valley, Okla., and Ira A. Wilson, of Glendale; and two sisters, Mrs. Lulu White and Mrs. Laura Winrod, of La Clede, Mo.

Announcement of funeral services will be made later by the Winbigler Funeral home.

Receives Word Of Mother's Death

Mrs. John Broadread, 67, mother of Mrs. Ernest O. Bachman, 116 Mountain View drive, Tustin, passed away Wednesday at her home in Methuen, Mass., it was learned today.

Mrs. Broadhead had many friends in Orange county, having made visits here on three occasions. She had been ill for three months before her death.

The deceased is survived by her husband, John Broadhead, and two daughters, Mrs. Arthur Lowe, Methuen, Mass., and Mrs. Bachman, who moved to Tustin from Santa Ana this week.

RELIEF, JAIL RATES TOPICS FOR OFFICIALS

Program features for the next meeting of the Orange County League of Municipalities were planned last night in the Green Cat cafe at a meeting of the executive committee of the league.

An attempt will be made to secure Charles Schottland, regional representative of the SERA administration, to tell of any new developments on the relief situation.

A new plan of financing the county league will be brought before the entire organization in a resolution prepared by Attorney Ray Overacker of Huntington Beach and Councilman Leo Sheridan of Anaheim.. Costs based upon population is expected to be instituted.

In the absence of President A. C. Hasenjaeger and Secretary Albert Launer, Vice-President L. A. Hogue, mayor of Brea, was in charge of the committee meeting and will preside at the meeting next Thursday in the Huntington Beach City auditorium.

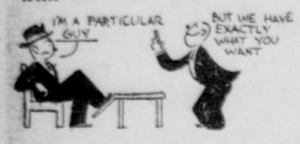

Overacker was instructed to present the resolution from the league demanding an adjustment on rates paid by cities for boarding prisoners at the county jail, in view of the fact that the supervisors have been advised that the previous prices were too high.

Other matters discussed were the necessity of peace officers co-operating among themselves and with city officials; relief activities in the various cities, and inviting electrical dealers to present a brief appeal at Huntington Beach for a uniform ordinance to prohibit the selling of inferior merchandise.

COUNTY TEACHERS HEAR NOTED ACTOR ARRAIGN PRODUCERS OF BAD PICTURES; ELECT OFFICERS

"If motion pictures are bad it is up to the people who make them," Francis Lederer, famous star of stage and screen, told members of the Orange County Principals and Teachers association last night, in a frank speech on conditions in the industry following a dinner at the Laguna Beach grammar school.

Emphasizing the fact that all real art is good and lasting, the actor continued:

"If all producers were real artists there could not be anything but good pictures. Perhaps the only solution is for us to kneel down and pray that the people of Hollywood will get a real inspiration. Art is brought out of the mentality and soul of the people. America has a great opportunity through the motion picture. It should be a great cultural influence on the life of the nation, but the art has been dragged down to a cheap and senseless part of every day life."

Lederer remarked that in criticizing the motion picture producers, "we should spank the broadcasting stations, also."

Referring to some of the newer productions the picture star declared that "something is moving in the masses (the people) that is gaining a victory over the bad kind. The motion picture people, when they started, had a diamond but they thought it was a piece of shiny glass. In the silent days many of the pictures were educational and artistica Then came the talking pictures as a cycle where crime was idolized and sex problems exaggerated."

Tribute to America

Lederer paid a high tribute to America as a nation "that has a more highly developed morality than any other nation."

"The only thing in motion pictures that will satisfy everybody is a real work of art, but art must achieve a victory over the commercial intentions of the producers. We cannot create art by writing prescriptions."

Referring to Hollywood and its people, the actor declared it a mistaken idea that the film capital is a place only for pleasure.

"It is not a paradise as some people think," declared emphatically. "It is a workshop. You get to bed at 8 o'clock at night and are up in the morning at 5:30 or not later than 6 o'clock. The work is harder than that performed by a laborer. Then in between pictures you are studying and worrying over the next."

Making a bitter attack on yellow journalism and sensational magazines that play up and exaggerate the love affairs of the picture stars, the actor declared that conditions "are absolutely not as portrayed."

Lederer's talk followed an equally frank speech on the motion picture by Mrs. Herbert D. Field, associated with the public relations department of the Motion Picture Producers association. She declared to the teachers that few motion pictures nowadays are suitable for children but held out hope for the future in what she called the present cycle of historic and classical productions, referring to "Little Women," "Baron Rothschild," and some that are in preparation such as "Treasure Island," and "Tale of Two Cities." Mrs. Field explained the reason that motion picture dialogue in films produced from novels often is a disappointment because the effect of the greater emotional force of the picture over the novel makes it necessary for the producer to cut out "racy dialogue" that is not condemned in the book. The speaker declared that motion picture has a greater emotional affect on the child than "the church, the home or the school," and for that reason it is difficult to produce films suitable for them as well as the adults.

Elect Officers

Rolland Upton of Buena Park was elected president for the coming year; C. Addison Van Loenen, Laguna Beach, vice-president; Miss Helen Aupperle, Garden Grove, secretary; Dan Donner, Orange, treasurer. Upton was elected delegate to the national convention of the National Education association to be held in Washington, D. C., in July.

President Ray L. Spaugh of Olive declared that Harry Toplitzsky, president of the Southern California Disinfecting company, made the evening porgram possible. E. H. Marx of Los Angeles showed motion pictures from two types of machine, both having sound equipment. One was small with the sound toned down to be used in the school room. The other was worked from the gallery.

Dinner was served in the patio of the school by the Laguna Beach P.-T. A. During the dinner musical selections were given by the school orchestra under the direction of Miss Josephine Hills. There were solos by Mary Carolyn Bell, McChesney Bethea and Warren Endres. In the auditorium, later, solos were sung by Jimmy Burroughs and by Harold Dodge, the "Your Pal Jimmy," of the radio.

GETTLE CASE SUSPECTS IN COUNTY JAIL

Interest in the Gettle kidnaping case shifted to Santa Ana today when Mrs. Lauretta Woody, 23, and Mona Gallighen, true name Jean Burke, 21, both of Los Angeles, were transferred to the Orange county jail last night on federal charges of attempted extortion.

The women, together with Jimmie Kirk, Ray Williams and Larry Kerrigan, the three men now in San Quentin prison for their part in kidnaping William Gettle, are under federal indictments, charging use of the mails for attempted extortion. The indictments arose from the $60,000 ransom notes sent by the kidnapers while they held Gettle.

The women have persisted that they were ignorant of the gang's plot against Gettle and its execution. Investigators are seeking to connect one of the women with a mysterious phone call from a woman to the Gettle estate an hour after the kidnaping.

JURY VERDICT CLEARS ONE. CONVICTS TWO

Two of the three Brea men charged with contributing to the delinquency of an Anaheim girl, 18, were convicted by a jury in Superior Judge H. G. Ames' court late yesterday, the third being acquitted of the charge after he and his companions all testified that he had nothing to do with an attack shown to have been committed against the girl.

Loren Finley, who is unmarried, not only refused to join in the attack upon the girl, but attempted to dissuade the two married men, Sam Ross and V. W. Baker, from committing the offense, according to evidence at the trial.

Baker and Ross are scheduled to be sentenced by Judge Ames at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

RELIEF, JAIL RATES TOPICS FOR OFFICIALS

Program features for the next meeting of the Orange County League of Municipalities were planned last night in the Green Cat cafe at a meeting of the executive committee of the league.

An attempt will be made to secure Charles Schottland, regional representative of the SERA administration, to tell of any new developments on the relief situation.

A new plan of financing the county league will be brought before the entire organization in a resolution prepared by Attorney Ray Overacker of Huntington Beach and Councilman Leo Sheridan of Anaheim.. Costs based upon population is expected to be instituted.

In the absence of President A. C. Hasenjaeger and Secretary Albert Launer, Vice-President L. A. Hogue, mayor of Brea, was in charge of the committee meeting and will preside at the meeting next Thursday in the Huntington Beach City auditorium.

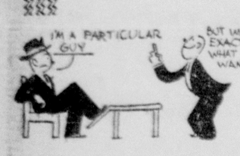

Overacker was instructed to present the resolution from the league demanding an adjustment on rates paid by cities for boarding prisoners at the county jail, in view of the fact that the supervisors have been advised that the previous prices were too high.

Other matters discussed were the necessity of peace officers co-operating among themselves and with city officials; relief activities in the various cities, and inviting electrical dealers to present a brief appeal at Huntington Beach for a uniform ordinance to prohibit the selling of inferior merchandise.

COUNTY TEACHERS HEAR NOTED ACTOR ARRAIGN PRODUCERS OF BAD PICTURES; ELECT OFFICERS

"If motion pictures are bad it is up to the people who make them," Francis Lederer, famous star of stage and screen, told members of the Orange County Principals and Teachers association last night, in a frank speech on conditions in the industry following a dinner at the Laguna Beach grammar school.

Emphasizing the fact that all real art is good and lasting, the actor continued:

"If all producers were real artists there could not be anything but good pictures. Perhaps the only solution is for us to kneel down and pray that the people of Hollywood will get a real inspiration. Art is brought out of the mentality and soul of the people. America has a great opportunity through the motion picture. It should be a great cultural influence on the life of the nation, but the art has been dragged down to a cheap and senseless part of every day life."

Lederer remarked that in criticizing the motion picture producers, "we should spank the broadcasting stations, also."

Referring to some of the newer productions the picture star declared that "something is moving in the masses (the people) that is gaining a victory over the bad kind. The motion picture people, when they started, had a diamond but they thought it was a piece of shiny glass. In the silent days many of the pictures were educational and artistica Then came the talking pictures as a cycle where crime was idolized and sex problems exaggerated."

Tribute to America

Lederer paid a high tribute to America as a nation "that has a more highly developed morality than any other nation."

"The only thing in motion pictures that will satisfy everybody is a real work of art, but art must achieve a victory over the commercial intentions of the producers. We cannot create art by writing prescriptions."

Referring to Hollywood and its people, the actor declared it a mistaken idea that the film capital is a place only for pleasure.

"It is not a paradise as some people think," declared emphatically. "It is a workshop. You get to bed at 8 o'clock at night and are up in the morning at 5:30 or not later than 6 o'clock. The work is harder than that performed by a laborer. Then in between pictures you are studying and worrying over the next."

Making a bitter attack on yellow journalism and sensational magazines that play up and exaggerate the love affairs of the picture stars, the actor declared that conditions "are absolutely not as portrayed."

Lederer's talk followed an equally frank speech on the motion picture by Mrs. Herbert D. Field, associated with the public relations department of the Motion Picture Producers association. She declared to the teachers that few motion pictures nowadays are suitable for children but held out hope for the future in what she called the present cycle of historic and classical productions, referring to "Little Women," "Baron Rothschild," and some that are in preparation such as "Treasure Island," and "Tale of Two Cities." Mrs. Field explained the reason that motion picture dialogue in films produced from novels often is a disappointment because the effect of the greater emotional force of the picture over the novel makes it necessary for the producer to cut out "racy dialogue" that is not condemned in the book. The speaker declared that motion picture has a greater emotional affect on the child than "the church, the home or the school," and for that reason it is difficult to produce films suitable for them as well as the adults.

Elect Officers

Rolland Upton of Buena Park was elected president for the coming year; C. Addison Van Loenen, Laguna Beach, vice-president; Miss Helen Aupperle, Garden Grove, secretary; Dan Donner, Orange, treasurer. Upton was elected delegate to the national convention of the National Education association to be held in Washington, D. C., in July.

President Ray L. Spaugh of Olive declared that Harry Toplitzsky, president of the Southern California Disinfecting company, made the evening porgram possible. E. H. Marx of Los Angeles showed motion pictures from two types of machine, both having sound equipment. One was small with the sound toned down to be used in the school room. The other was worked from the gallery.

Dinner was served in the patio of the school by the Laguna Beach P.-T. A. During the dinner musical selections were given by the school orchestra under the direction of Miss Josephine Hills. There were solos by Mary Carolyn Bell, McChesney Bethea and Warren Endres. In the auditorium, later, solos were sung by Jimmy Burroughs and by Harold Dodge, the "Your Pal Jimmy," of the radio.

GETTLE CASE SUSPECTS IN COUNTY JAIL

Interest in the Gettle kidnaping case shifted to Santa Ana today when Mrs. Lauretta Woody, 23, and Mona Gallighen, true name Jean Burke, 21, both of Los Angeles, were transferred to the Orange county jail last night on federal charges of attempted extortion.

The women, together with Jimmie Kirk, Ray Williams and Larry Kerrigan, the three men now in San Quentin prison for their part in kidnaping William Gettle, are under federal indictments, charging use of the mails for attempted extortion. The indictments arose from the $60,000 ransom notes sent by the kidnapers while they held Gettle.

The women have persisted that they were ignorant of the gang's plot against Gettle and its execution. Investigators are seeking to connect one of the women with a mysterious phone call from a woman to the Gettle estate an hour after the kidnaping.

JURY VERDICT CLEARS ONE, CONVICTS TWO

Two of the three Brea men charged with contributing to the delinquency of an Anaheim girl, 18, were convicted by a jury in Superior Judge H. G. Ames' court late yesterday, the third being acquitted of the charge after he and his companions all testified that he had nothing to do with an attack shown to have been committed against the girl.

Loren Finley, who is unmarried, not only refused to join in the attack upon the girl, but attempted to dissuade the two married men, Sam Ross and V. W. Baker, from committing the offense, according to evidence at the trial.

Baker and Ross are scheduled to be sentenced by Judge Ames at 10 a. m. tomorrow.

GRAND CENTRAL TO CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Celebrating the twelfth year of active service to the shopping public of Santa Ana and Orange county, the Grand Central Market, beginning tomorrow, will launch a series of events and will stage attractions in the form of entertainment and real values offered by 30 merchants in the market in a marketing celebration which will extend until and including Saturday, May 26, it was announced today by Jack Boardman, manager of the market.

Rube White, famous Leslie Salt clown who is a veteran of many big circuses, will be at the Grand Central Market all day tomorrow to aid in making the initial day of the anniversary celebration entertaining.

Many national food concerns are cooperating with the Grand Central Market in the special merchandising events by supplying the food markets with demonstrators who will give away samples of their products in the stores. Many other special events are being planned, which will be announced from time to time.

All 30 merchants in the Grand Central Market will offer special inducements to shop in the market during the celebration. A miniature city under one roof, the market is the largest of its kind in the nation in cities under 50,000 population, Boardman said.

Merchants in the market include operators of four complete grocery stores, four meat markets, two delicatessens, a bakery, a jeweler and watchmaker, a fish and poultry market, two barber shops, florist, cleaner, restaurant, vacuum cleaner shop, radio shop health food shop, shoe repair shop, paint store, feed and fuel store drug store, two cigar stands, candy kitchen, pottery shop and puzzle exchange.

A feature of the service offered patrons of the Grand Central Market is the complete branch post office operated in the heart of the market to serve the needs of the public. Every service obtainable at the main post office is offered at the branch, Boardman declared.

A roomy parking lot directly opposite the Goodrich Silverton station is operated for the convenience of patrons of the Grand Central Market. On busier days an attendant assists in parking cars and in watching them while persons do their shopping.

A crew of red cap boys are placed throughout the market on Saturdays to assist patrons with their packages and to deliver them to automobiles, regardless of where they are parked.

"The Grand Central Market has fulfilled a definite need in Santa Ana since it was opened 12 years ago," Boardman said. "Construction of the market was responsible for the remarkable growth of the section of the city where it stands. We wish to invite all of our old friends, as well as new ones, to be our guests during the gala celebration we have planned."

ASKS $50,000 FOR ALIENATION OF AFFECTIONS

A $50,000 "abduction," in which a woman allegedly abducted a man, was reported to superior court today, the $50,000 representing demand, not of the woman abductor, but of the "victim's" wife.

Mrs. Blanche M. Barnum brought suit for $50,000 damages against Mrs. C. D. Edwards, charging alienation of the affections of Dallas Barnum, of Brea, husband of the plaintiff. Mrs. Edwards, it was charged, "illegally enticed and abducted" Barnum from his wife a year ago.

The complaint cites "endearing notes" alleged to have been written to Barnum by Mrs. Edwards, in which she urged that he should proceed "to find his soul mate and not be bound by the fetters of conventions."

Barnum, who had married the plaintiff October 16, 1928, was deeply attached to her until Mrs. Edwards interfered, the wife charges. Barnum deserted her May 17, 1933, she claims.

Mrs. Barnum had sued for separate maintainance on the day following the separation, charging that two weeks earlier Barnum had gone on a week's trip north with another woman, who was not named. She demanded $100 per month maintenance, stating that her husband was employed by the Southern California Telephone company at $150 per month.

The action still is pending, no trial date ever having been set.

Mrs. Jane Guthrie Dies at Her Home

Mrs. Jane Ann Guthrie, 73, resident of this city for the past eight years, died at her home, 926 West Pine street, yesterday following an extended illness.

She was the mother of Mrs. Alex C. Stone of Caledonia, New York, Mrs. Walter Grant of Nueva Calif., and Mrs. Ronald Shearme, Santa Ana, with whom she made her home; sister of Mrs. William Poggendorf of Rochester, New York, John J. Elliott of Pavileon, New York, George Elliott of Hillsdale, Michigan, and James Elliott of Plymouth, Michigan. She also is survived by six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 11 a.m. from the chapel of the Smith and Tuthill Funeral home, Sixth and Broadway, with the Rev. Samuel Edgar officiating, after which the body will be forwarded to Caledonia N. Y., for final services.

PRODUCTIVE LABOR URGED AS WAY OUT

Pointing out that there are three alternative courses before the American people, H. Jerry Voorhis, head of the Voorhis school for boys at San Dimas, addressed a meeting at the People's Forum last night under auspices of the End Poverty League, in behalf of Upton Sinclair's campaign for governor.

The three alternatives he listed as: (1) go back to "rugged individualism" of 1926; (2) continue the dole by means of direct relief or "made work"; or (3) put the unemployed to work at productive labor as proposed by Upton Sinclair with his EPIC plan.

The speaker said the Roosevelt administration had put superhuman efforts into the crisis the past year and a half, but something more fundmental must be attempted if the unemployment problem is to be solved.

"We have got to be great in this world crisis, or perish,' Voorhis declared. "We have not been thinking straight. We have so much wealth piled so high, but so poorly distributed, that the mass of the public has lost the capacity to sustain itself. It is required of every true man, at this time, that he show courage, vision, and a deep passion for justice. Anything is possible in this Democracy if we believe in it firmly enough."

The speaker cited the objectives of the EPIC plan as follows: (1) To put the unemployed to work on idle land and in idle factories producing for themselves, and relieving taxpayers of the great relief burden; (2) To develop a tax system which would relieve those of small means and tax the anti-social accumulations of wealth; and (3) Pensions for the aged, for widowed mothers, and for those incapiciated for work.

Voorhis was introduced by Harry S. Gerhart, Sinclair manager for this district.

GRAND CENTRAL TO CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Celebrating the twelfth year of active service to the shopping public of Santa Ana and Orange county, the Grand Central Market, beginning tomorrow, will launch a series of events and will stage attractions in the form of entertainment and real values offered by 30 merchants in the market in a marketing celebration which will extend until and including Saturday, May 26, it was announced today by Jack Boardman, manager of the market.

Rube White, famous Leslie Salt clown who is a veteran of many big circuses, will be at the Grand Central Market all day tomorrow to aid in making the initial day of the anniversary celebration entertaining.

Many national food concerns are cooperating with the Grand Central Market in the special merchandising events by supplying the food markets with demonstrators who will give away samples of their products in the stores. Many other special events are being planned, which will be announced from time to time.

All 30 merchants in the Grand Central Market will offer special inducements to shop in the market during the celebration. A miniature city under one roof, the market is the largest of its kind in the nation in cities under 50,000 population, Boardman said.

Merchants in the market include operators of four complete grocery stores, four meat markets, two delicatessens, a bakery, a jeweler and watchmaker, a fish and poultry market, two barber shops, florist, cleaner, restaurant, vacuum cleaner shop, radio shop health food shop, shoe repair shop, paint store, feed and fuel store drug store, two cigar stands, candy kitchen, pottery shop and puzzle exchange.

A feature of the service offered patrons of the Grand Central Market is the complete branch post office operated in the heart of the market to serve the needs of the public. Every service obtainable at the main post office is offered at the branch, Boardman declared.

A roomy parking lot directly opposite the Goodrich Silverton station is operated for the convenience of patrons of the Grand Central Market. On busier days an attendant assists in parking cars and in watching them while persons do their shopping.

A crew of red cap boys are placed throughout the market on Saturdays to assist patrons with their packages and to deliver them to automobiles, regardless of where they are parked.

"The Grand Central Market has fulfilled a definite need in Santa Ana since it was opened 12 years ago," Boardman said. "Construction of the market was responsible for the remarkable growth of the section of the city where it stands. We wish to invite all of our old friends, as well as new ones, to be our guests during the gala celebration we have planned."

ASKS $50,000 FOR ALIENATION OF AFFECTIONS

A $50,000 "abduction," in which a woman allegedly abducted a man, was reported to superior court today, the $50,000 representing demand, not of the woman abductor, but of the "victim's" wife.

Mrs. Blanche M. Barnum brought suit for $50,000 damages against Mrs. C. D. Edwards, charging alienation of the affections of Dallas Barnum, of Brea, husband of the plaintiff. Mrs. Edwards, it was charged, "illegally enticed and abducted" Barnum from his wife a year ago.

The complaint cites "endearing notes" alleged to have been written to Barnum by Mrs. Edwards, in which she urged that he should proceed "to find his soul mate and not be bound by the fetters of conventions."

Barnum, who had married the plaintiff October 16, 1928, was deeply attached to her until Mrs. Edwards interfered, the wife charges. Barnum deserted her May 17, 1933, she claims.

Mrs. Barnum had sued for separate maintainance on the day following the separation, charging that two weeks earlier Barnum had gone on a week's trip north with another woman, who was not named. She demanded $100 per month maintenance, stating that her husband was employed by the Southern California Telephone company at $150 per month.

The action still is pending, no trial date ever having been set.

Mrs. Jane Guthrie Dies at Her Home

Mrs. Jane Ann Guthrie, 73, resident of this city for the past eight years, died at her home, 926 West Pine street, yesterday following an extended illness.

She was the mother of Mrs. Alex C. Stone of Caledonia, New York, Mrs. Walter Grant of Nueva Calif., and Mrs. Ronald Shearme, Santa Ana, with whom she made her home; sister of Mrs. William Poggendorf of Rochester, New York, John J. Elliott of Pavileon, New York, George Elliott of Hillsdale, Michigan, and James Elliott of Plymouth, Michigan. She also is survived by six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 11 a.m. from the chapel of the Smith and Tuthill Funeral home, Sixth and Broadway, with the Rev. Samuel Edgar officiating, after which the body will be forwarded to Caledonia N. Y., for final services.

PRODUCTIVE LABOR URGED AS WAY OUT

Pointing out that there are three alternative courses before the American people, H. Jerry Voorhis, head of the Voorhis school for boys at San Dimas, addressed a meeting at the People's Forum last night under auspices of the End Poverty League, in behalf of Upton Sinclair's campaign for governor.

The three alternatives he listed as: (1) go back to "rugged individualism" of 1926; (2) continue the dole by means of direct relief or "made work"; or (3) put the unemployed to work at productive labor as proposed by Upton Sinclair with his EPIC plan.

The speaker said the Roosevelt administration had put superhuman efforts into the crisis the past year and a half, but something more fundmental must be attempted if the unemployment problem is to be solved.

"We have got to be great in this world crisis, or perish,' Voorhis declared. "We have not been thinking straight. We have so much wealth piled so high, but so poorly distributed, that the mass of the public has lost the capacity to sustain itself. It is required of every true man, at this time, that he show courage, vision, and a deep passion for justice. Anything is possible in this Democracy if we believe in it firmly enough."

The speaker cited the objectives of the EPIC plan as follows: (1) To put the unemployed to work on idle land and in idle factories producing for themselves, and relieving taxpayers of the great relief burden; (2) To develop a tax system which would relieve those of small means and tax the anti-social accumulations of wealth; and (3) Pensions for the aged, for widowed mothers, and for those incapicitated for work.

Voorhis was introduced by Harry S. Gerhart, Sinclair manager for this district.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

-- News Behind The News --

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

SPEARS

The best harpooners in the congress are quietly getting their weapons out now for Treasury Secretary Morgenthau.

They seem to be as eager for his hide as they were for Professor Tugwell's a month ago, although they are going about their job more quietly this time. The suspicious part of it is that they are advancing on him from the cloakrooms in no fewer than four distinct directions at the same time. That may be only a coincidence, but it is a significant one.

At least no cabinet officer recently has had as many coincidental troubles shot at him at once as now whiz about the head of Mr. Roosevelt's No. One man.

GAME

The most vociferous gang against Morgenthau is the silver gang, although it is not the most important. They have made little effort to conceal their feelings about the way the secretary handled the silver bill. However, when they get what they are going to get on silver, they may quiet down.

Not so with the democratic senators howling about patronage. A leader in that crowd is Senator McKellar. His associates are charging the secretary with appointing republicans. Just at the present time that charge is as serious in the congressional inner circles as if Morgenthau had appointed lepers.

Floor Leader Robinson tried to straighten the matter out a few days ago by having Morgenthau in for a private pow-wow with democratic senators. The meeting could hardly be called a success.

CIVIL SERVICE

Morgenthau explained to the senators how he made appointments to the liquor unit. He had to have a lot of men in a hurry and believed the law required him to make the appointments under civil service. So he called for the civil service rolls of the old prohibition unit and took the men with the highest grades. There was no time to hold new examinations. One of the foremost democratic leaders stalked out of that conference and said:

"If the law requires Mr. Morgenthau to make appointments that way, we will amend the law."

The senators were generally mum about what happened in the conference. When Morgenthau found they had said nothing, he declined to talk also. That is why so little got out about it.

THIRD DIRECTION

These two movements might not be serious, except that simultaneously a congressional lobbying campaign against Morgenthau was undertaken by a disgruntled treasury official.

This official found out that Morgenthau wanted to get rid of him a few weeks ago. He has a good many friends in both houses of congress, and to those he hastened. He told them that Morgenthau had put secret service agents on his trail and a lot of such stuff.

It made merry cloakroom talk and stirred up the animals more. At present, the matter has not developed beyond that stage, but it may be aired soon.

INTEREST RATES

To round out the game, Senator Couzens is getting ready to open up against the treasury on the ground that it has been paying too much in interest rates.

That is what is behind the resolution Couzens introduced not long ago, calling on the treasury for a record of all rates on government securities.

Probably no one ever will be able to settle that argument. The treasury can point out that rates gradually have been reduced since the new administration took hold. It will say that it consults government bond market experts and fixes the interest rate on its own best judgment as to what the market will bear.

But of course, the real reason Mr. Morgenthau has been able to reduce interest rates is because Mr. Roosevelt promised a balanced budget in 1936, and the additional fact that Mr. Roosevelt is avoiding greenbacks.

All of which seems to be just about enough trouble for one man to handle. No one will be happier than Mr. Morgenthau when and if congress adjourns for the summer.

MARKET

If you can get a Wall Streeter to bare his soul, he will tell you the new stock regulation bill is not so bad, at least not as bad as they painted it. They can work under it.

What clipped them off their feet was Mr. Roosevelt coming out for the house bill. That was a trick they had not expected.

All through the congressional fight, the president kept very quiet. The opposition was lulled into a sense of security by the fact that house leaders were saying they did not hope to get both their margins and federal trade commission provisions through. They virtually announced during the debate that they would accept the senate independent commission idea and insist only on their margin provisions.

Mr. Roosevelt's announcement pulled both liberal chestnuts out of the fire. It was the only way that result could have been accomplished.

NOTES

Strong administration inner circlers are backing Counsel Healey of the Federal Trade Commission for the new Republican appointment as commissioner under the stock market bill. He was once law partner to Mr. Coolidge's attorney general, Sargent, and is regarded as the right man for the corporate reports work.

New York state applications for code eagles are running alarmingly behind expectations.

The best government bond authorities say the treasury's conversion plan proved to be only about 50 per cent successful.

• • •

Those old rumors about General Johnson leaving the NRA may come true in the near future. At least he had his head in his hands lately, thinking about it.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

CHARGES

Some of New York's leading silverites have a mad on at the U. S. Treasury.

They are flooding their Congressional contacts with complaints that the Treasury is rigging the silver market for its own benefit. They accuse Mr. Morgenthau of buying silver on declines in order to lay by a fat profit for the government when the metal is nationalized at 50 cents. They further charge him with tactics designed to depress silver prices to obtain a better bargain. Three specific allegations are made on the latter score.

(1) That publication of the list of silver buyers at his instigation was planned for its bearish effect on the silver market.

(2) That he has caused conflicting reports to be issued about the government's intentions regarding silver — thereby inducing fluctuations which the Treasury could count on in advance.

(3) That he has used the Treasury equalization fund to buy American dollars in Shanghai for the purpose of cheapening the Shanghai dollar. The point is that world silver prices are largely governed by quotations in Shanghai exchange.

TEAPOT

These charges are privately admitted to be based on deduction rather than actual evidence. It's true that a single purchaser has been buying the metal in large quantities recently but disinterested sources attribute that to Britain rather than to Mr. Morgenthau. As for conflicting reports—neutrals observe that the silverites themselves have been by no means unanimous about their ultimate destination and their chances of reaching it. It's not impossible that the Treasury has been indulging in the maneuvers described by its opponents but they would have a tough time proving it in court.

Most informed New Yorkers rate the row a teapot tempest but recognize that it may have embarrassing political repercussions.

MANDATORY

New York can't get excited about the feverish argument in Washington as to whether silver remonetization shall be mandatory as a policy. Authorities comment that the President would retain full freedom as to method of carrying out the policy—which leaves the situation for the near future exactly where it was before. "If it makes Borah happier, why not? That's about all the difference it would make."

Of course such action would commit us legally to eventual bimetallism but—if the President were not enthusiastic about this ultimate objective—he could easily arrange to spend a mighty long time on the road.

TARGET

Samuel Seabury's effort to put Lehman on the spot with his challenge to the Governor to denounce the Democratic legislators who opposed the New York City Economy Bill will be followed up. He and Kingsland Macy concocted the idea as a two-edged sword. If Lehman accepts the challenge it won't help Democratic harmony. If he ignores it he will add usefully to the store of first class material being gathered against him as a political target.

MACY

Republican State Chairman Macy wasn't pleased by the selection of McGoldrick for Comptroller. He had ideas of his own about a successor to Cunningham. The result is increased tension between Macy and LaGuardia. Macy feels the Fusion victory would not have been possible without his help and would appreciate a few more signs of gratitude from the city administration.

ISSUE

Meanwhile Tammany's cue is to play itself up as the poor man's friend. Borough President Samuel Levy—only Tammany member of the Board of Estimate—never loses a chance to harp on the need of revising the city's agreement with its bankers for the benefit of city employes. This

-- News Behind The News --

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon

SPEARS

The best harpooners in the congress are quietly getting their weapons out now for Treasury Secretary Morgenthau.

They seem to be as eager for his hide as they were for Professor Tugwell's a month ago, although they are going about their job more quietly this time. The suspicious part of it is that they are advancing on him from the cloakrooms in no fewer than four distinct directions at the same time. That may be only a coincidence, but it is a significant one.

At least no cabinet officer recently has had as many coincidental troubles shot at him at once as now whiz about the head of Mr. Roosevelt's No. One man.

GAME

The most vociferous gang against Morgenthau is the silver gang, although it is not the most important. They have made little effort to conceal their feelings about the way the secretary handled the silver bill. However, when they get what they are going to get on silver, they may quiet down.

Not so with the democratic senators howling about patronage. A leader in that crowd is Senator McKellar. His associates are charging the secretary with appointing republicans. Just at the present time that charge is as serious in the congressional inner circles as if Morgenthau had appointed lepers.

Floor Leader Robinson tried to straighten the matter out a few days ago by having Morgenthau in for a private pow-wow with democratic senators. The meeting could hardly be called a success.

CIVIL SERVICE

Morgenthau explained to the senators how he made appointments to the liquor unit. He had to have a lot of men in a hurry and believed the law required him to make the appointments under civil service. So he called for the civil service rolls of the old prohibition unit and took the men with the highest grades. There was no time to hold new examinations. One of the foremost democratic leaders stalked out of that conference and said:

"If the law requires Mr. Morgenthau to make appointments that way, we will amend the law."

The senators were generally mum about what happened in the conference. When Morgenthau found they had said nothing, he declined to talk also. That is why so little got out about it.

These two movements might not be serious, except that simultaneously a congressional lobbying campaign against Morgenthau was undertaken by a disgruntled treasury official.

This official found out that Morgenthau wanted to get rid of him a few weeks ago. He has a good many friends in both houses of congress, and to those he hastened. He told them that Morgenthau had put secret service agents on his trail and a lot of such stuff.

It made merry cloakroom talk and stirred up the animals more. At present, the matter has not developed beyond that stage, but it may be aired soon.

INTEREST RATES

To round out the game, Senator Couzens is getting ready to open up against the treasury on the ground that it has been paying too much in interest rates.

That is what is behind the resolution Couzens introduced not long ago, calling on the treasury for a record of all rates on government securities.

Probably no one ever will be able to settle that argument. The treasury can point out that rates gradually have been reduced since the new administration took hold. It will say that it consults government bond market experts and fixes the interest rate on its own best judgment as to what the market will bear.

But of course, the real reason Mr. Morgenthau has been able to reduce interest rates is because Mr. Roosevelt promised a balanced budget in 1936, and the additional fact that Mr. Roosevelt is avoiding greenbacks.

All of which seems to be just about enough trouble for one man to handle. No one will be happier than Mr. Morgenthau when and if congress adjourns for the summer.

MARKET

If you can get a Wall Streeter to bare his soul, he will tell you the new stock regulation bill is not so bad, at least not as bad as they painted it. They can work under it.

What clipped them off their feet was Mr. Roosevelt coming out for the house bill. That was a trick they had not expected.

All through the congressional fight, the president kept very quiet. The opposition was lulled into a sense of security by the fact that house leaders were saying they did not hope to get both their margins and federal trade commission provisions through. They virtually announced during the debate that they would accept the senate independent commission idea and insist only on their margin provisions.

Mr. Roosevelt's announcement pulled both liberal chestnuts out of the fire. It was the only way that result could have been accomplished.

NOTES

Strong administration inner circlers are backing Counsel Healey of the Federal Trade Commission for the new Republican appointment as commissioner under the stock market bill. He was once law partner to Mr. Coolidge's attorney general, Sargent, and is regarded as the right man for the corporate reports work.

New York state applications for code eagles are running alarmingly behind expectations.

The best government bond authorities say the treasury's conversion plan proved to be only about 50 per cent successful.

Those old rumors about General Johnson leaving the NRA may come true in the near future. At least he had his head in his hands lately, thinking about it.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

CHARGES

Some of New York's leading silverites have a mad on at the U. S. Treasury.

They are flooding their Congressional contacts with complaints that the Treasury is rigging the silver market for its own benefit. They accuse Mr. Morgenthau of buying silver on declines in order to lay by a fat profit for the government when the metal is nationalized at 50 cents. They further charge him with tactics designed to depress silver prices to obtain a better bargain. Three specific allegations are made on the latter score.

(1) That publication of the list of silver buyers at his instigation was planned for its bearish effect on the silver market.

(2) That he has caused conflicting reports to be issued about the government's intentions regarding silver — thereby inducing fluctuations which the Treasury could count on in advance.

(3) That he has used the Treasury equalization fund to buy American dollars in Shanghai for the purpose of cheapening the Shanghai dollar. The point is that world silver prices are largely governed by quotations in Shanghai exchange.

TEAPOT

These charges are privately admitted to be based on deduction rather than actual evidence. It's true that a single purchaser has been buying the metal in large quantities recently but disinterested sources attribute that to Britain rather than to Mr. Morgenthau. As for conflicting reports—neutrals observe that the silverites themselves have been by no means unanimous about their ultimate destination and their chances of reaching it. It's not impossible that the Treasury has been indulging in the maneuvers described by its opponents but they would have a tough time proving it in court.

Most informed New Yorkers rate the row a teapot tempest but recognize that it may have embarrassing political repercussions.

MANDATORY

New York can't get excited about the feverish argument in Washington as to whether silver remonetization shall be mandatory as a policy. Authorities comment that the President would retain full freedom as to method of carrying out the policy—which leaves the situation for the near future exactly where it was before. "If it makes Borah happier, why not? That's about all the difference it would make."

Of course such action would commit us legally to eventual bimetallism but—if the President were not enthusiastic about this ultimate objective—he could easily arrange to spend a mighty long time on the road.

TARGET

Samuel Seabury's effort to put Lehman on the spot with his challenge to the Governor to denounce the Democratic legislators who opposed the New York City Economy Bill will be followed up. He and Kingsland Macy concocted the idea as a two-edged sword. If Lehman accepts the challenge it won't help Democratic harmony. If he ignores it he will add usefully to the store of first class material being gathered against him as a political target.

MACY

Republican State Chairman Macy wasn't pleased by the selection of McGoldrick for Comptroller. He had ideas of his own about a successor to Cunningham. The result is increased tension between Macy and LaGuardia. Macy feels the Fusion victory would not have been possible without his help and would appreciate a few more signs of gratitude from the city administration.

ISSUE

Meanwhile Tammany's cue is to play itself up as the poor man's friend. Borough President Samuel Levy—only Tammany member of the Board of Estimate—never loses a chance to harp on the need of revising the city's agreement with its bankers for the benefit of city employes. This

NEW SERIAL TO BE STARTED BY ROBERT SPEED

Bob and Jud who have been in the creative writing, adult education, broadcasts from KREG for the past four months will begin a new serial called "The Business Counsellors" which will be heard at 6:45 tonight. This will be series of episodes developed along new and wholly original lines.

The skit will be built around two characters: an ex-street vender of patent medicines and prize packages, who has gone broke, and an ex-delicatessen proprietor looking for a safe and profitable investment for his savings. The two form a partnership that promises to be not only profitable but also a "boon to all mankind," to use the alluring expression of its promoter. The inclination of the public to seek outside information on the most intimate matters, the facility of the counsellors to sell advice and the apparently inexhaustible quantity and authentic quality of the advice sold offer opportunity for many amusing situations.

SALLY MUELLER IN VARIETY PROGRAM

"The Year's at the Spring," Beach; "Slave Song," Del Riego; "Were I Gardener," Chaminade; "Romance," Debussy, and "The Maids of Cadiz," Delibes, will comprise Sally Coe Mueller's presentation of songs tonight at 8 o'clock on KREG.

Miss Mueller's selection of songs are particularly suited to her voice and pleasing personality, it was stated. This, combined with an excellent background of vocal training, makes her broadcasts well received, program officials said.

PONCE DE LEON'S QUEST DRAMATIZED

"Magic Water" is the title of this week's "Front Page Drama" on KREG tonight at 8:45.

The sketch is a dramatization of Ponce de Leon's quest for the Fountain of Youth and the modern scientist who claims to have discovered it, and program officials state that the program is full of surprises and thrills.

Albert Van Dekker is featured in the cast.

KREG NOTES

The C. B. S. program, "Novelettes" scheduled at 8:30 tonight on KREG and consisting of fiddle, rhythm guitar and traps, offers arrangements by Fern Buckner, first violinist of the C. B. S. concert orchestra.

Tomorrow afteronon at 3:45, KREG offers another "A Chuckle and Laugh" program of variety gags and songs by noted humorists.

RECORDS SHOW BUT LITTLE PROBABILITY OF ADDITIONAL RAINFALL YET THIS SEASON

Amateur weather prophets who are in the habit of predicting rain by pains in their bones, by weather cycles, home-made devices and sundry other equipment, about this time of ths year in Orange county cease their speculations and prophecies, inasmuch as records over a period of 25 years show that rain the balance of this season is most unlikely.

Not that agriculturists in the county, all except those raising hay, would not appreciate a rain, according to Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg, but records over a long period kept by Albert Hill, formerly of Hill and Son, indicate that little rain has fallen during the month of May.

For the past 25 years in May it has rained but 12 of the years, and in those years but an average of .41 inches. What small amount of rain did fall came in the early part of May. The season is considered ended on May 22.

The records show that there is nothing regular about rainfall, Hill pointed out, and while rain has fallen every month of the year here, usually there is no rain in June, July and August.

This year Santa Ana is behind the average rainfall, records kept by Knox and Stout show. While the average rainfall over a 25-year period is 12.33 inches, the community this season has had but 8.89 inches, and no real rain since February 24. A trace of rain fell on March 24. At this time last year a total of 9.70 inches had fallen, while the total for the year was 9.81 inches. Last year .56 inches fell during May.

COUNTY RURAL EIGHTH GRADE STUDENTS TO MAKE TOUR OF COURTHOUSE NEXT WEDNESDAY

Eighth grade students from the 34 rural schools of the county will be taken on an educational tour of the courthouse next Wednesday through arrangements completed today by George Peterkin of the California Highway Patrol.

Peterkin is in charge of the school safety work in the county and has had frequent requests to take students through the county offices. In combining all the schools on one day, Peterkin and his fellow officers expect 500 visitors.

During the morning, the children, accompanied by their teachers and friends, will be taken through the courts, jail, identification bureau, radio station, highway patrol, and other offices. Department heads in each office will give short talks on the work handled and the procedure of the office.

During the late morning and in the afternoon, the children will attend superior court trials. Each of the presiding judges has consented to call a brief recess during the afternoon and give a short talk explaining how the court operate and the desirability of law enforcement and obeying the law.

Sheriff Logan Jackson will give a talk on the duties of sheriff and how the jail is operated, and the students will be taken into the jail corridors. Chief Technician Wendell Jones will describe the police radio system and Deputy Sheriff Herman Zabel will explain the identification department record bureau and photograph laboratory.

Judge Kenneth Morrison has agreed to talk on the work of the justice court and probation officials will tell of their work.

Many of the school children are planning to bring their lunches and spend the entire day here. At a later date, eighth grade school children from the city schools of the county will be invited.

"Children of eight-grade age can receive invaluable training and experience from our educational tour," Peterkin said today. "The students will carry their information back to the schoolroom for discussion and get a clearer view of government and law. The teachers in civics and allied classes can make these subjects much easier to understand after their pupils have gained a first hand picture of practical conditions."

SURVEY SHOWS RURAL NEED OF IMPROVEMENTS

Necessary improvements of farm homes, long delayed by adverse economic conditions, will be effected in the near future as those conditions improve, according to a farm housing survey just concluded by the Agricultural Extension Service of the University of California in cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture.

The survey, directed by university extension specialists, was part of a national Civil Works Administration project covering 300 counties. California counties included in the survey are Alameda, Fresno, Sacramento, Santa Clara, Sonoma, and Stanislaus. Of the total number of 35,385 farms in these counties, 14,185 were visited by county enumerators.

In answer to the question, "Were $500 available for improving your home what would you spend it for?" replies indicate the relative importance of repairs and improvements desired. First on the list are interior and exterior walls, ceilings and floors. These items are followed in turn, by: bathroom equipment, additional rooms, sanitary facilities, roofs, furnishings, water systems, laundry facilities, porches, foundations, doors, windows and screens; landscaping, built-in equipment, heating systems, cooking facilities, lighting systems, chimneys, power lines, home electric plants.

Ages of the dwellings also are indicated as a barometer of improvements needed. There are 3251 houses under 10 years of age, 6160 from 10 to 14 years old, 3629 are from 25 to 49 years; and 1146 are more than 50 years old. The homes have an average of five rooms, and the average number of regular occupants is four persons per house.

NEW SERIAL TO BE STARTED BY ROBERT SPEED

Bob and Jud who have been in the creative writing, adult education, broadcasts from KREG for the past four months will begin a new serial called "The Business Counsellors" which will be heard at 6:45 tonight. This will be series of episodes developed along new and wholly original lines.

The skit will be built around two characters: an ex-street vender of patent medicines and prize packages, who has gone broke, and an ex-delicatessen proprietor looking for a safe and profitable investment for his savings. The two form a partnership that promises to be not only profitable but also a "boon to all mankind," to use the alluring expression of its promoter. The inclination of the public to seek outside information on the most intimate matters, the facility of the counsellors to sell advice and the apparently inexhaustible quantity and authentic quality of the advice sold offer opportunity for many amusing situations.

SALLY MUELLER IN VARIETY PROGRAM

"The Year's at the Spring," Beach; "Slave Song," Del Riego; "Were I Gardener," Chaminade; "Romance," Debussy, and "The Maids of Cadiz," Delibes, will comprise Sally Coe Mueller's presentation of songs tonight at 8 o'clock on KREG.

Miss Mueller's selection of songs are particularly suited to her voice and pleasing personality, it was stated. This, combined with an excellent background of vocal training, makes her broadcasts well received, program officials said.

PONCE DE LEON'S QUEST DRAMATIZED

"Magic Water" is the title of this week's "Front Page Drama" on KREG tonight at 8:45.

The sketch is a dramatization of Ponce de Leon's quest for the Fountain of Youth and the modern scientist who claims to have discovered it, and program officials state that the program is full of surprises and thrills.

Albert Van Dekker is featured in the cast.

RECORDS SHOW BUT LITTLE PROBABILITY OF ADDITIONAL RAINFALL YET THIS SEASON

Amateur weather prophets who are in the habit of predicting rain by pains in their bones, by weather cycles, home-made devices and sundry other equipment, about this time of the year in Orange county cease their speculations and prophecies, inasmuch as records over a period of 25 years show that rain the balance of this season is most unlikely.

Not that agriculturists in the county, all except those raising hay, would not appreciate a rain, according to Farm Advisor Harold E. Wahlberg, but records over a long period kept by Albert Hill, formerly of Hill and Son, indicate that little rain has fallen during the month of May.

For the past 25 years in May it has rained but 12 of the years, and in those years but an average of .41 inches. What small amount of rain did fall came in the early part of May. The season is considered ended on May 22.

The records show that there is nothing regular about rainfall, Hill pointed out, and while rain has fallen every month of the year here, usually there is no rain in June, July and August.

This year Santa Ana is behind the average rainfall, records kept by Knox and Stout show. While the average rainfall over a 25-year period is 12.33 inches, the community this season has had but 8.89 inches, and no real rain since February 24. A trace of rain fell on March 24. At this time last year a total of 9.70 inches had fallen, while the total for the year was 9.81 inches. Last year .56 inches fell during May.

COUNTY RURAL EIGHTH GRADE STUDENTS TO MAKE TOUR OF COURTHOUSE NEXT WEDNESDAY

Eighth grade students from the 34 rural schools of the county will be taken on an educational four of the courthouse next Wednesday through arrangements completed today by George Peterkin of the California Highway Patrol.

Peterkin is in charge of the school safety work in the county and has had frequent requests to take students through the county offices. In combining all the schools on one day, Peterkin and his fellow officers expect 500 visitors.

During the morning, the children, accompanied by their teachers and friends, will be taken through the courts, jail, identification bureau, radio station, highway patrol, and other offices. Department heads in each office will give short talks on the work handled and the procedure of the office.

During the late morning and in the afternoon, the children will attend superior court trials. Each of the presiding judges has consented to call a brief recess during the afternoon and give a short talk explaining how the court operate and the desirability of law enforcement and obeying the law.

Sheriff Logan Jackson will give a talk on the duties of sheriff and how the jail is operated, and the students will be taken into the jail corridors. Chief Technician Wendell Jones will describe the police radio system and Deputy Sheriff Herman Zabel will explain the identification department record bureau and photograph laboratory.

Judge Kenneth Morrison has agreed to talk on the work of the justice court and probation officials will tell of their work.

Many of the school children are planning to bring their lunches and spend the entire day here. At a later date, eighth grade school children from the city schools of the county will be invited.

"Children of eight-grade age can receive invaluable training and experience from our educational tour," Peterkin said today. "The students will carry their information back to the schoolroom for discussion and get a clearer view of government and law. The teachers in civics and allied classes can make these subjects much easier to understand after their pupils have gained a first hand picture of practical conditions."

SURVEY SHOWS RURAL NEED OF IMPROVEMENTS

Necessary improvements of farm homes, long delayed by adverse economic conditions, will be effected in the near future as those conditions improve, according to a farm housing survey just concluded by the Agricultural Extension Service of the University of California in cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture.

The survey, directed by university extension specialists, was part of a national Civil Works Administration project covering 300 counties. California counties included in the survey are Alameda, Fresno, Sacramento, Santa Clara, Sonoma, and Stanislaus. Of the total number of 35,385 farms in these counties, 14,185 were visited by county enumerators.

In answer to the question, "Were $500 available for improving your home what would you spend it for?" replies indicate the relative importance of repairs and improvements desired. First on the list are interior and exterior walls, ceilings and floors. These items are followed in turn, by: bathroom equipment, additional rooms, sanitary facilities, roofs, furnishings, water systems, laundry facilities, porches, foundations, doors, windows and screens; landscaping, built-in equipment, heating systems, cooking facilities, lighting systems, chimneys, power lines, home electric plants.

Ages of the dwellings also are indicated as a barometer of improvements needed. There are 3251 houses under 10 years of age, 6160 from 10 to 14 years old, 3629 are from 25 to 49 years; and 1146 are more than 50 years old. The homes have an average of five rooms, and the average number of regular occupants is four persons per house.

MANAGER FOR PLUNGE NAMED BY BREA BOARD

BREA, May 18.—Brea city councilmen named Kenneth Sutliff as manager of the municipal plunge for the coming season at a salary of $100 a month, when they met Wednesday night. His assistant will be Vincent Wall. Mrs. Lena Smith was hired as matron of the plunge, both she and Wall to receive $16 a week.

A. L. Cone, chief of the fire department, reported there was nothing in the city's fire ordinance to prohibit the storage of gasoline above ground and said that this is being done in several instances in Brea. City Attorney Elmer Guy believed this point is covered in a state law and is to inform Cone how to proceed to check the menace.

Cone and a salesman submitted samples of fire hose from two supply houses but the councilmen did not take action in the matter. They contemplate the purchase of several hundred feet of hose to maintain the quota of about 1500 feet required by the department.

City Engineer R. W. Phelps was instructed to prepare plans for a frame tower for storing hose. E. J. Saunders, well driller, was present and discussed with the council various locations for sinking new wells to augment the city's supply of water. No definite action was taken.

Start Work On New Oil Test At Beach Soon

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 18.—Milburn and Hamilton have built the cellar and sump and graded for the derrick which they will install on the Newland-Borchard 60-acre tract on the east side. The new well will be spudded in as soon as the derrick can be erected and machinery installed. This is the first test of the east side in the past six years and is expected to be the most complete.

The H. B. Oil company, John H. Marion and H. M. McComb, has a lease on the D. O. Stewart tract adjoining the Newland-Borchard lease. Several other strong independent companies are reported negotiating for leases in the vicinity of the new test. The well is 2000 feet from the city limits.

OFFICERS FOR SAN CLEMENTE CLUB ELECTED

SAN CLEMENTE, May 18. — Mrs. George E. Higgins was elected president of San Clemente Woman's club at the annual business meeting in the social clubhouse this week. Mrs. Hiram Harlow of Dana Point was named vice president, Mrs. F. T. Hogeland secretary, and Mrs. John Riley, treasurer. The nominating committee compriser Mesdames Belle M. Wood, Sarah Rodgers and Henry Fate. All were elected by unanimous vote.

Mrs. F. W. Parsons, in charge of the business meeting, called for annual reports of officers and committee chairmen. Seven new members have been admitted this year, the present enrollment numbering 55. In addition to the annual membership dues and initiation fees, the treasury fund has been increased by "every member earn a dollar" drives, by sale of club stationery, by sponsoring of a play and by receipts from the arts and crafts, music and garden sections. After allowance of current and other necessary expenditures an appreciable balance remains in the treasury, it was reported. Organization of the three new sections has brought new interest to the club, it was stated.

The attendance contest between the two divisions captured by Mrs. Sarah Rodgers and Mrs. A. T. Smith closed with this meeting. Mrs. Rodgers' group won by one count. The banquet due from the losing side will be served on the occasion of the first luncheon meeting in September.

The annual luncheon is to be given in the Aquarium cafe June 5 at 1 o'clock. Mrs. Fred Shork is chairman of the program committee. The reservations chairman is Mrs. E. R. Bartlett.

At the close of the business meeting tea was served in honor of the newly elected officials by Mrs. L. B. Brown, Mrs. Fred Shork and Mrs. F. A. Neddermeyer, the hostess committee.

DONNA of the BIG TOP

by BEULAH POYNTER

©1934 NEA SERVICE, INC

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Donna Gabriel and Madeline Siddal who call themselves "The Gabriel Sisters" are trapeze performers with Renfroe's circus. When Madeline's grandfather who is blind asks her to spend a week-end at his farm she persuades Donna to go instead. Donna, pretending to be Madeline, falls in love with Bill Siddal, Madeline's cousin.

Con David, animal trainer, is devoted to Donna but she regards him merely as a friend. Madeline loves Con and schemes to win him.

Donna falls from the trapeze and is injured. Madeline wires Bill to come for her and begs Donna to continue the impersonation. Bill takes Donna to the farm to recuperate. Mrs. Planter, the housekeeper is suspicious of the girl.

CHAPTER X

There was a big crowd at the Lebanon station to see Donna and Bill arrive. Not all of them admitted that was the reason for their appearance on the depot platform, and innumerable excuses were invented. But the story of the tragedy had made Donna a heroine, and Bill, toward whom many of the local belles had cast amorous glances, had become something of a hero.

Grandfather Siddal was there, his sightless eyes roving over the crowd as he sat in the car beside Nub Planter. Young Doctor Lennox and his assistant, Ben Wheeler, were there, too. When the train drew up to the station they sprang upon the platform and entered the Pullman. The crowd, wide-eyed, watched Donna's descent through a lowered window and saw old man Siddal embrace his granddaughter.

There were tears in Donna's eyes as the make-shift ambulance rolled along the road to the farm. They were not tears of pain, for she scarcely felt the jolts and jars. She was happy—happier than she had ever been, and each tear was a prayer that she might be worthy of so much kindness and love.

Against her protest she was given the first floor room that had been Grandfather Siddal's since his blindness.

"It used to be your Ma's," said the old man. "I just took it so's not to bother any one helping me up and down stairs. Not that I can't climb the stairs! I'm as spry that way as I ever was. And I can get around my myself now all hunky-dory. But the window's low and you can look out across the fields and see Bill bringing home the cows. When the wheat's ripe it's like a sea of gold and mighty pretty. Then when you're able to walk a bit you can come out on the porch without a mite of trouble."

Donna thanked him with a kiss. It really was a lovely room. There was little of Amos Siddal's personality in it, and Mrs. Planter removed that when she took away his pipe, slippers and shabby dressing gown. The old-fashioned bureau was maple with a mirror decorated with hand-painted roses, and a "drawn work" center piece. On the pink-sprigged wall paper little golden-haired sheppardesses herded flocks. Pink satin cushions made gay the window seat and the maple rocker, and a large, gangling, gaily-dressed doll occupied a place of honor in one corner of the room. Donna wondered if it had belonged to Madeline. Then she concluded that Madeline's mother must have fallen for the fad of French dolls.

There were white shelves containing many books. A white wicker sewing basket was filled with bits of linen and colored silk thread. The rag rug was pink and pale blue, obviously made at home. Over the mantle-piece hung two photographs. One was a smaller copy of the crayon in the dining room. The other showed a fair-haired girl with a sweet, simpering sort of beauty.

"I never changed anything in Ada's room," Mrs. Planter said. Her manner toward Donna was still hostile. The housekeeper made no attempt to hide the resentment she felt over the extra labor the girl's presence would entail and because Bill's return had sent her son packing.

"You ought to have a nurse," Mrs. Planter mumbled as she hung Donna's clothing in the maple wardrobe. Madeline had, with much forethought, shipped Donna's trunk to her, though before doing so she had carefully removed the letter of Donna's name. "I've got 10 men to cook for now," Mrs. Planter went on, "and when harvest time comes around I won't even have time to think—let alone fetch and carry for you."

"Heavens!" Donna laughed. "I don't expect to be an invalid that long. I'll be helping you."

Mrs. Planter sniffed and Donna, determined to let nothing ruffle her temper, pretended not to hear.

She missed the long afternoons spent with Bill. Now that he was back on the farm he seemed to be busy every moment of the day. When evening arrived Grandfather Siddal came to Donna's room to say the prayers, after which Bill read aloud from the Bible. Always when the old man rose to go to his room Bill left with him.

Each evening Dona hoped Bill would return for a chat with her, but he never did. He was always considerate, always kindly, but his manner toward her never in any way hinted at more than cousinly affection.

Donna would lie awake, staring at the star-dotted sky, listening to the myriad of voices that made musical the night air, and wondering if she could be content without Bill's love. Now that she was ill she could be satisfied to see him occasionally or just to hear his voice, but later, when health had returned, would the hunger for his arms, his kisses, for all that his love could offer grow too strong for her? Could she endure the crumbs he gave her without hope of more?

Her sorest trial was Mrs. Planter. When the housekeeper saw that Donna did not grow restless and did not seem to long for the arena and the "big top" she became positively venomous. Under every sly remark the woman made Donna could sense the fangs.

"For a girl that run away from home because she couldn't stand farm life, I must say you're taking this mighty well! But then mebbe living with animals and worse'n animals has made you appreciate even a farm house."

"Yes," Donna answered gently.

"It's a good thing you're Bill Siddal's cousin or Mattie Blake's nose would be out of joint."

"Mattie Blake?"

"Yes. Bill's been right sweet on her since he come out here to live with Amos. Folks kinder thought they'd make a match of it. Bill could do a lot worse, even if Mattie is a country girl. No funny notions about her! She'd be satisfied to stay home and raise a family."

"Yes?" Donna's heart was beating with wild, irregular thumps. She hoped the vindictive old woman could not hear them.

"Men like to fuss around with flipperty-jibbets," the housekeeper continued, dusting the dresser, "but when it comes to marrying and settling down they want something else in a wife. As I says to Mattie's Ma the other day in church, 'You tell Mattie not to worry none about Bill. He's jest havin' his fling, and, oncet the newness wears off, he'll come trotting back!'"

Donna's lips were white with anger. "You aren't by any chance referring to me as a flipperty-jibbet?" she demanded.

"If the shoe fits, wear it! Any one with half an eye could see why you're not hankerin' after getting back to your show. And Bill is jest silly enough to ferget Mattie for a spell and be took in by your prettiness, but there can't anything come of it. If you don't know it, Bill does. It's again' religion and law for cousins to marry. Yes, ma'am—again' religion and law!"

She wisked out of the room with the righteous air of one who had done a painful duty, no matter what the cost.

Donna's fist clenched and unclenched. Tears of humiliation streamed down her cheeks. She had a crazy impulse to call after the old woman. "But Bill and I are not cousins! I've every right in the world to love him!" It was not discretion that stayed her tongue but the name of Mattie Blake. What more natural than that Bill Siddal should have a sweetheart? Certainly he had given no indication of being in love with Donna. He treated her almost as a sister.

Mrs. Planter's evil mind had seen what did not exist, but Donna had no intention of giving her the opportunity for sneering laughter.

If she really had been Madeline she would have demanded the dismissal of the housekeeper, but Dona's own position was too precarious for her to complain. And she was not at all sure that Mrs. Planter did not suspect some of the truth and was merely biding her time to cause trouble.

She was aware that Mrs. Planter spied on her, that she was not above steaming letters to read their contents, and that she would stop at nothing to marry Grandfather Siddal, thereby securing his small fortune.

Fortunately the brief notes Donna received from Madeline could have been read by any one. The other girl was so determined to carry on the masquerade that it was unnecessary for Donna to warn her to be careful when she wrote.

A light tap on the door made Donna brush away her tears hastily and force a smile to her lips. The door opened before she could say, "Come in," and Bill's dark head appeared. He grinned boyishly.

"Awake? That's fine. I've got a surprise for you."

The surprise was a wheel chair. "As your physician," Bill chuckled, "I am prescribing a trip to the garden in this chair for you."

Donna's little cry of joy was smothered against Bill's shirt bosom as he lifted her gently, as though she were a featherweight, and placed her in the chair. Yet the effort seemed to tire him, for he staggered slightly and his face flushed a deep scarlet.

"Now," he continued in a thickened voice, "we'll trot you out among the flowers."

"Oh, Bill!" the girl whispered. "Oh, Bill!"

His hands trembled as he spread the blanket over her knees, then wrapped a white knitted shawl about her shoulder. Against all reason and all discretion, she yielded to the temptation to rest her cheek against his hand as it touched her shoulder.

Bill drew a deep breath and suddenly jerked his hand away.

A. is sponsoring the evening of May 29 at Memorial hall, Huntington Beach. The date for the dance is considered particularly appropriate as it preceeds a holiday at school.

The dance is being given by the P.-T. A. to raise funds for its pledge of $50 to aid the students in publishing this year's Cauldron.

Frances Bergy and Jeanne Neil will have charge of the ticket sales. Card games will be provided for those who care to play bridge or "500." Free punch will be served throughout the evening.

DONNA of the BIG TOP

by BEULAH POYNTER

©1934 NEA SERVICE, INC

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Donna Gabriel and Madeline Siddal who call themselves "The Gabriel Sisters" are trapeze performers with Renfroe's circus. When Madeline's grandfather who is blind asks her to spend a week-end at his farm she persuades Donna to go instead. Donna, pretending to be Madeline, falls in love with Bill Siddal, Madeline's cousin.

Con David, animal trainer, is devoted to Donna but she regards him merely as a friend. Madeline loves Con and schemes to win him.

Donna falls from the trapeze and is injured. Madeline wires Bill to come for her and begs Donna to continue the impersonation. Bill takes Donna to the farm to recuperate. Mrs. Planter, the housekeeper is suspicious of the girl.

CHAPTER X

There was a big crowd at the Lebanon station to see Donna and Bill arrive. Not all of them admitted that was the reason for their appearance on the depot platform, and innumerable excuses were invented. But the story of the tragedy had made Donna a heroine, and Bill, toward whom many of the local belles had cast amorous glances, had become something of a hero.

Grandfather Siddal was there, his sightless eyes roving over the crowd as he sat in the car beside Nub Planter. Young Doctor Lennox and his assistant, Ben Wheeler, were there, too. When the train drew up to the station they sprang upon the platform and entered the Pullman. The crowd, wide-eyed, watched Donna's descent through a lowered window and saw old man Siddal embrace his granddaughter.

There were tears in Donna's eyes as the make-shift ambulance rolled along the road to the farm. They were not tears of pain, for she scarcely felt the jolts and jars. She was happy—happier than she had ever been, and each tear was a prayer that she might be worthy of so much kindness and love.

Against her protest she was given the first floor room that had been Grandfather Siddal's since his blindness.

"It used to be your Ma's," said the old man. "I just took it so's not to bother any one helping me up and down stairs. Not that I can't climb the stairs! I'm as spry that way as I ever was. And I can get around my myself now all hunky-dory. But the window's low and you can look out across the fields and see Bill bringing home the cows. When the wheat's ripe it's like a sea of gold and mighty pretty. Then when you're able to walk a bit you can come out on the porch without a mite of trouble."

Donna thanked him with a kiss. It really was a lovely room. There was little of Amos Siddal's personality in it, and Mrs. Planter removed that when she took away his pipe, slippers and shabby dressing gown. The old-fashioned bureau was maple with a mirror decorated with hand-painted roses, and a "drawn work" center piece. On the pink-sprigged wall paper little golden-haired sheppardesses herded flocks. Pink satin cushions made gay the window seat and the maple rocker, and a large, gangling, gaily-dressed doll occupied a place of honor in one corner of the room. Donna wondered if it had belonged to Madeline. Then she concluded that Madeline's mother must have fallen for the fad of French dolls.

There were white shelves containing many books. A white wicker sewing basket was filled with bits of linen and colored silk thread. The rag rug was pink and pale blue, obviously made at home. Over the mantle-piece hung two photographs. One was a smaller copy of the crayon in the dining room. The other showed a fair-haired girl with a sweet, simpering sort of beauty.

"I never changed anything in Ada's room," Mrs. Planter said. Her manner toward Donna was still hostile. The housekeeper made no attempt to hide the resentment she felt over the extra labor the girl's presence would entail and because Bill's return had sent her son packing.

"You ought to have a nurse," Mrs. Planter mumbled as she hung Donna's clothing in the maple wardrobe. Madeline had, with much forethought, shipped Donna's trunk to her, though before doing so she had carefully removed the letter of Donna's name. "I've got 10 men to cook for now," Mrs. Planter went on, "and when harvest time comes around I won't even have time to think—let alone fetch and carry for you."

"Heavens!" Donna laughed. "I don't expect to be an invalid that long. I'll be helping you."

Mrs. Planter sniffed and Donna, determined to let nothing ruffle her temper, pretended not to hear.

She missed the long afternoons spent with Bill. Now that he was back on the farm he seemed to be busy every moment of the day. When evening arrived Grandfather Siddal came to Donna's room to say the prayers, after which Bill read aloud from the Bible. Always when the old man rose to go to his room Bill left with him.

Each evening Dona hoped Bill would return for a chat with her, but he never did. He was always considerate, always kindly, but his manner toward her never in any way hinted at more than cousinly affection.

Donna would lie awake, staring at the star-dotted sky, listening to the myriad of voices that made musical the night air, and wondering if she could be content without Bill's love. Now that she was ill she could be satisfied to see him occasionally or just to hear his voice, but later, when health had returned, would the hunger for his arms, his kisses, for all that his love could offer grow too strong for her? Could she endure the crumbs he gave her without hope of more?

Her sorest trial was Mrs. Planter. When the housekeeper saw that Donna did not grow restless and did not seem to long for the arena and the "big top" she became positively venomous. Under every sly remark the woman made Donna could sense the fangs.

"For a girl that run away from home because she couldn't stand farm life, I must say you're taking this mighty well! But then mebbe living with animals and worse'n animals has made you appreciate even a farm house."

"Yes," Donna answered gently.

"It's a good thing you're Bill Siddal's cousin or Mattie Blake's nose would be out of joint."

"Mattie Blake?"

"Yes. Bill's been right sweet on her since he come out here to live with Amos. Folks kinder thought they'd make a match of it. Bill could do a lot worse, even if Mattie is a country girl. No funny notions about her! She'd be satisfied to stay home and raise a family."

"Yes?" Donna's heart was beating with wild, irregular thumps. She hoped the vindictive old woman could not hear them.

"Men like to fuss around with flipperty-jibbets," the housekeeper continued, dusting the dresser, "but when it comes to marrying and settling down they want something else in a wife. As I says to Mattie's Ma the other day in church, 'You tell Mattie not to worry none about Bill. He's jest havin' his fling, and, oncet the newness wears off, he'll come trotting back!"

Donna's lips were white with anger. "You aren't by any chance referring to me as a flipperty-jibbet?" she demanded.

"If the shoe fits, wear it! Any one with half an eye could see why you're not hankerin' after getting back to your show. And Bill is jest silly enough to ferget Mattie for a spell and be took in by your prettiness, but there can't anything come of it. If you don't know it, Bill does. It's again' religion and law for cousins to marry. Yes, ma'am—again' religion and law!"

She wisked out of the room with the righteous air of one who had done a painful duty, no matter what the cost.

Donna's fist clenched and unclenched. Tears of humiliation streamed down her cheeks. She had a crazy impulse to call after the old woman. "But Bill and I are not cousins! I've every right in the world to love him!" It was not discretion that stayed her tongue but the name of Mattie Blake. What more natural than that Bill Siddal should have a sweetheart? Certainly he had given no indication of being in love with Donna. He treated her almost as a sister.

Mrs. Planter's evil mind had seen what did not exist, but Donna had no intention of giving her the opportunity for sneering laughter.

If she really had been Madeline she would have demanded the dismissal of the housekeeper, but Dona's own position was too precarious for her to complain. And she was not at all sure that Mrs. Planter did not suspect some of the truth and was merely biding her time to cause trouble.

She was aware that Mrs. Planter spied on her, that she was not above steaming letters to read their contents, and that she would stop at nothing to marry Grandfather Siddal, thereby securing his small fortune.

Fortunately the brief notes Donna received from Madeline could have been read by any one. The other girl was so determined to carry on the masquerade that it was unnecessary for Donna to warn her to be careful when she wrote.

A light tap on the door made Donna brush away her tears hastily and force a smile to her lips. The door opened before she could say, "Come in," and Bill's dark head appeared. He grinned boyishly.

"Awake? That's fine. I've got a surprise for you."

The surprise was a wheel chair, "As your physician," Bill chuckled, "I am prescribing a trip to the garden in this chair for you."

Donna's little cry of joy was smothered against Bill's shirt bosom as he lifted her gently, as though she were a featherweight, and placed her in the chair. Yet the effort seemed to tire him, for he staggered slightly and his face flushed a deep scarlet.

"Now," he continued in a thickened voice, "we'll trot you out among the flowers."

"Oh, Bill!" the girl whispered, "Oh, Bill!"

His hands trembled as he spread the blanket over her knees, then wrapped a white knitted shawl about her shoulder. Against all reason and all discretion, she yielded to the temptation to rest her cheek against his hand as it touched her shoulder.

Bill drew a deep breath and suddenly jerked his hand away.

GLENN TALKS ON FRANCE AT LIONS MEETING

Observations by Prof. T. H. Glenn of the Junior College faculty regarding conditions of life in France featured the regular meeting of the Santa Ana Lions club, held yesterday noon at James cafe, with Warren Ashleigh acting as program chairman for the day.

The speaker said he did not pose as an authority upon France, but reported what he had seen, heard, and observed during his visit to France. He told of the international character of the country, and especially Paris, which he described as the most beautiful city in the world.

France has always been a haven for political refugees from other lands, he said, and while he was there probably a million Russians, exiled from their own country, were living in France, with many of them of noble rank gaining their living in menial occupations. Information since sent him is that 40,000 Germans, unfriendly to the Nazi regime, are now residing in Paris alone.

He described many characteristics of the French people, their gaiety, their love of conversation, their secluded home life, their interest in politics and governmental honesty, and their support of cultural things. Paris has always been a center for culture, with art treasures and museums, and municipal subsidies of four theaters.

Everyone in France must carry an identification card, he said, and wondered if such a system in America would not enable a much better check to be kept of criminals than is possible under the present loose system of this country.

President Carson Smith of the club introduced Bill White, court reporter, as the latest new member in the Lions club, making a total membership at the present time of 71.

An invitation was extended to all Lions to attend the County Council meeting to be held Monday evening at Brea, with Harold Yost of the Santa Ana club participating in the speaking contest, and also to journey to Pasadena for a visitation of May 25, when the Santa Ana club will put on the program for the Pasadena Lions den.

FULLERTON, May 18.—Every department of the Fullerton District Junior college and Union High school joined Thursday in presenting their annual exhibit of school activities, over 3000 guests being present.

In the afternoon the dramatic department of the junior college presented "Suppressed Desires," a satirical comedy, as their exhibit in the new auditorium. Mary Lou Follette, Harriet Adden and Grover Gordon, under the direction of Mrs. Esther Culp Litchfield, were the actors.

The language department exhibited the work of its students in a program of foreign plays, songs and dances at 8 o'clock in the old auditorium. Miss Mabel Sharpe, head of the language department, introduced Willard Zinn who acted as student master of ceremonies.

James Baker opened the program by singing "Sing Mir Ein Lied," accompanied by Miss Winifred Hawes. "A Roman Birthday," a short skit, was given by LeRoy Clark, James Fahs, Dan O'Hanlon and Edward Miller. Leonore Curtis and Mary Ruth Moll sang a duet in Spanish and the Spanish club offered two short skits, "Las Gafas," with Max Molina, Helen Boyd, and Harold Stedman as characters, and "El Ciego y el Cojo," with Gene Bushby and David Yorba as actors.

The French classes presented a restaurant scene in Paris with dances and songs. The Latin classes also had an interesting exhibit of Roman objects, such as the catacombs, a chariot race in the circus maximus and relief maps of Rome. Other classes and departments exhibited their work.

GETTLE KIDNAPERS CRITICIZE FITTS

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Cal., May 18.—(UP)—The Gettle kidnaping trio beginnig life terms in the state prison here, believe that District Attorney Buron Fitts of Los Angeles "double crossed" them it was learned today.

Undersheriff W. M. Veale of Contra Costa county quoted Jimmy Kirk, alleged "brains" of the gang that kidnaped William Gettle, wealthy Arcadia man, as being "bitter" because Fitts took steps to prevent Kirk, Roy Williams and Larry Kerrigan from obtaining paroles.

Veale, who rode part way to prison with Kirk, said the former bootlegger claims that the district attorney promised that if the trio pleaded guilty, they would receive life sentences with possibility of parole. Fitts also promised that the two women held in the case would not be prosecuted, Kirk claimed.

Jacobs Not To Defend Caspari

Attorney Otto Jacobs will not represent A. M. Caspari, owner of the Hof Brau cafe, in a police court trial on June 20 on a charge of conducting a saloon and barroom, the attorney announced today.

Jacobs said that Caspari was in his office prior to regularly scheduled trial last Thursday, and that he had telephone Judge J. G. Mitchell for Caspari to have the trial postponed until the cafe owner secured counsel. He said he had not made any agreement to defend Caspari.

Judge Mitchell, in giving The Register notice of continuance of the trial, said that he had conferred with Jacobs, who requested the postponement.

PLEDGES MOUNT IN RENOVIZING DRIVE IN CITY

Five hundred forty-seven improvement jobs, costing a total of $328,000, of which probably 75 per cent will go for labor.

That was the Renovize total of pledges today, after the crew of 11 survey men completed their seventh day of house-to-house canvassing yesterday, according to J. W. Estes, general manager of the campaign.

Pledges received yesterday totaled 73, and aggregated improvements to the value of $42,410.75, which brings the total up to $328,0000, or 65 per cent of the $500,000 goal which had been set for the campaign.

Everywhere is evidenced hearty support and widespread participation i nthe campaign, which is in line with President Roosevelt's plan for the entire nation, according to reports of the survey men, and several of the Renovize jobs have actually been started, thus putting several dozen men to work.

Some 12 compliance slips have already ben returned to the campaign office, as evidence that the jobs pledged by those individuals have been completed.

Wide Variety of Urojects

The wide variety of projects now being, and yet to be carried out during the four months campaign was well shown today, when W. J. Tway, executive secretary of the committee, tabulated totals for the various kinds of work to be undertaken by householders of Santa Ana.

The classifications cover the first 475 pledges received, aggregating $273,025.88, and result in the following totals for the various types of Renovize work shown:

New roofing and roof repairs, $3,111; new cabinets, $518; interior tile work, $465; electric work and improvements, $816.10; plumbing and heating, $1075.55; awnings, $159; metal work, $400; machinery replacements, $13,000.

BOY SAYS MOTHER AIDED DILLINGER

ST. PAUL, May 18.—(UP)—In a courtroom packed with federal agents to prevent another of John Dillinger's daring deliveries, a 13-year-old boy with curly hair today testified that his mother hid the Hoosier outlaw in their home.

At the same time a police call came from Flint, Mich., that one of the machine-gun bandits, who held up a Glenwood branch bank and escaped with $25,000 today, closely resembled the widely-hunted Dillinger.

"FIGHTING RANGER" ON STATE SCREEN

"The Righting .Ranger,. which opens today at Walker's State theater, brings Buck Jones in the role of a fearless hero who hunts the murderer of his brother and avenges the crime. There are many fast-moving action spots in the picture.

POLICE CLUES IN S. F. MURDER FALL

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—(UP)—Undismayed by the collapse of several of their leading clues, police sought new evidence today to sustain their charges that Millard Hickman, shipping engineer now under a murder indictment, killed a pretty party companion in Golden Gate park.

"We are still sure we have the right man," said Capt. of Detectives Charles Fullea after two points in the police case against the 45-year-old prisoner were proved fallacious.

Microscopic examination of stains found on a suit belonging to Hickman proved the marks were not blood but paint, as he had claimed. Tire marks found in the park were not made by Hickman's automobile, police admitted.

GLENN TALKS ON FRANCE AT LIONS MEETING

Observations by Prof. T. H. Glenn of the Junior College faculty regarding conditions of life in France featured the regular meeting of the Santa Ana Lions club, held yesterday noon at James cafe, with Warren Ashleigh acting as program chairman for the day.

The speaker said he did not pose as an authority upon France, but reported what he had seen, heard, and observed during his visit to France. He told of the international character of the country, and especially Paris, which he described as the most beautiful city in the world.

France has always been a haven for political refugees from other lands, he said, and while he was there probably a million Russians, exiled from their own country, were living in France, with many of them of noble rank gaining their living in menial occupations. Information since sent him is that 40,000 Germans, unfriendly to the Nazi regime, are now residing in Paris alone.

He described many characteristics of the French people, their gaiety, their love of conversation, their secluded home life, their interest in politics and governmental honesty, and their support of cultural things. Paris has always been a center for culture, with art treasures and museums, and municipal subsidies of four theaters.

Everyone in France must carry an identification card, he said, and wondered if such a system in America would not enable a much better check to be kept of criminals than is possible under the present loose system of this country.

President Carson Smith of the club introduced Bill White, court reporter, as the latest new member in the Lions club, making a total membership at the present time of 71.

An invitation was extended to all Lions to attend the County Council meeting to be held Monday evening at Brea, with Harold Yost of the Santa Ana club participating in the speaking contest, and also to journey to Pasadena for a visitation of May 25, when the Santa Ana club will put on the program for the Pasadena Lions den.

3000 INSPECT DISPLAYS OF COLLEGE AND HIGH SCHOOL

FULLERTON, May 18.—Every department of the Fullerton District Junior college and Union High school joined Thursday in presenting their annual exhibit of school activities, over 3000 guests being present.

In the afternoon the dramatic department of the junior college presented "Suppressed Desires," a satirical comedy, as their exhibit in the new auditorium. Mary Lou Follette, Harriet Adden and Grover Gordon, under the direction of Mrs. Esther Culp Litchfield, were the actors.

The language department exhibited the work of its students in a program of foreign plays, songs and dances at 8 o'clock in the old auditorium. Miss Mabel Sharpe, head of the language department, introduced Willard Zinn who acted as student master of ceremonies.

James Baker opened the program by singing "Sing Mir Ein Lied," accompanied by Miss Winifred Hawes. "A Roman Birthday," a short skit, was given by LeRoy Clark, James Fahs, Dan O'Hanlon and Edward Miller. Leonore Curtis and Mary Ruth Moll sang a duet in Spanish and the Spanish club offered two short skits, "Las Gafas," with Max Molina, Helen Boyd, and Harold Stedman as characters, and "El Ciego y el Cojo," with Gene Bushby and David Yorba as actors.

The French classes presented a restaurant scene in Paris with dances and songs. The Latin classes also had an interesting exhibit of Roman objects, such as the catacombs, a chariot race in the circus maximus and relief maps of Rome. Other classes and departments exhibited their work.

GETTLE KIDNAPERS CRITICIZE FITTS

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Cal., May 18.—(UP)—The Gettle kidnaping trio beginnig life terms in the state prison here, believe that District Attorney Buron Fitts of Los Angeles "double crossed" them it was learned today.

Undersheriff W. M. Veale of Contra Costa county quoted Jimmy Kirk, alleged "brains" of the gang that kidnaped William Gettle, wealthy Arcadia man, as being "bitter" because Fitts took steps to prevent Kirk, Roy Williams and Larry Kerrigan from obtaining paroles.

Veale, who rode part way to prison with Kirk, said the former bootlegger claims that the district attorney promised that if the trio pleaded guilty, they would receive life sentences with possibility of parole. Fitts also promised that the two women held in the case would not be prosecuted, Kirk claimed.

Jacobs Not To Defend Caspari

Attorney Otto Jacobs will not represent A. M. Caspari, owner of the Hof Brau cafe, in a police court trial on June 20 on a charge of conducting a saloon and barroom, the attorney announced today.

Jacobs said that Caspari was in his office prior to regularly scheduled trial last Thursday, and that he had telephone Judge J. G. Mitchell for Caspari to have the trial postponed until the cafe owner secured counsel. He said he had not made any agreement to defend Caspari.

Judge Mitchell, in giving The Register notice of continuance of the trial, said that he had conferred with Jacobs, who requested the postponement.

PLEDGES MOUNT IN RENOVIZING DRIVE IN CITY

Five hundred forty-seven improvement jobs, costing a total of $328,000, of which probably 75 per cent will go for labor.

That was the Renovize total of pledges today, after the crew of 11 survey men completed their seventh day of house-to-house canvassing yesterday, according to J. W. Estes, general manager of the campaign.

Pledges received yesterday totaled 73, and aggregated improvements to the value of $42,410.75, which brings the total up to $328,0000, or 65 per cent of the $500,000 goal which had been set for the campaign.

Everywhere is evidenced hearty support and widespread participation i nthe campaign, which is in line with President Roosevelt's plan for the entire nation, according to reports of the survey men, and several of the Renovize jobs have actually been started, thus putting several dozen men to work.

Some 12 compliance slips have already ben returned to the campaign office, as evidence that the jobs pledged by those individuals have been completed.

Wide Variety of Urojects

The wide variety of projects now being, and yet to be carried out during the four months campaign was well shown today, when W. J. Tway, executive secretary of the committee, tabulated totals for the various kinds of work to be undertaken by householders of Santa Ana.

The classifications cover the first 475 pledges received, aggregating $273,025.88, and result in the following totals for the various types of Renovize work shown:

General repairs, alterations, remodeling, $148,844.60; concrete and masonry, $852; new additions and new construction, $84,373; replacement furniture and home equipment, $2,586; painting, decorating, papering, $10,534; miscellaneous labor, $4377.50; draperies, floor covering, curtains, $1162.75.

Carpenter work, $1379.

Auto repairs, painting, parts, equipment, $5,592.83; house cleaning, sewing, yard labor, landscaping, tree planting, $5440.80; ventilating, termite control, $134.-500; cleaning, dyeing, special laundry, $440; plastering repairs, brush coating, $620; radio repairs, $144.25.

New roofing and roof repairs, $3,111; new cabinets, $518; interior tile work, $465; electric work and improvements, $816.10; plumbing and heating, $1075.55; awnings, $159; metal work, $400; machinery replacements, $13,000.

BOY SAYS MOTHER AIDED DILLINGER

ST. PAUL, May 18.—(UP)—In a courtroom packed with federal agents to prevent another of John Dillinger's daring deliveries, a 13-year-old boy with curly hair today testified that his mother hid the Hoosier outlaw in their home.

At the same time a police call came from Flint, Mich., that one of the machine-gun bandits, who held up a Glenwood branch bank and escaped with $25,000 today, closely resembled the widely-hunted Dillinger.

"FIGHTING RANGER" ON STATE SCREEN

"The Righting .Ranger,. which opens today at Walker's State theater, brings Buck Jones in the role of a fearless hero who hunts the murderer of his brother and avenges the crime. There are many fast-moving action spots in the picture.

Other entertainment on the program is a comedy, "Trying Our Torchy"; a Disney silly symphony in color, "Birds in Spring"; a news reel and a chapter of "The Wolf Dog."

The Mickey Mouse club meets at the theater at 1 p. m. tomorrow.

POLICE CLUES IN S. F. MURDER FALL

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—(UP)—Undismayed by the collapse of several of their leading clues, police sought new evidence today to sustain their charges that Millard Hickman, shipping engineer now under a murder indictment, killed a pretty party companion in Golden Gate park.

"We are still sure we have the right man," said Capt. of Detectives Charles Fullea after two points in the police case against the 45-year-old prisoner were proved fallacious.

Microscopic examination of stains found on a suit belonging to Hickman proved the marks were not blood but paint, as he had claimed. Tire marks found in the park were not made by Hickman's automobile, police admitted.

Tire and Battery Men Meet Tonight

Musical entertainment, dances by the Meglin kiddies and a song by Maurice Phillips will be on the program.

The banquet opens at 6:30 o'clock, with those interested invited to attend the dinner or the business meeting at 7:30.

By HARRY GRAYSON

Among the more precarious positions are managing baseball clubs and coaching college football teams.

There is less delay in the beheading of a losing baseball pilot. He never knows where he will be in the morning, whereas the gridiron guide, usually, at least, is permitted to linger for a season.

While neither post is exactly agreeable, the baseball boss is the better off when taking it on the chin. Ordinarily he has only one man to answer to. He can walk into the office and have it out—find out where he stands.

But the fumbling football foreman is confronted with something intangible. He can't get away from old grads, and students join the rest of the world in loving a winner. Indignation meetings are held behind the coach's back. Letters are written.

FONSECA COULDN'T PITCH

What launched all this was Lew Fonseca's summary dismissal as manager of the Chicago White Sox.

J. Louis Comiskey started the pleasant Portuguese off with what baseball men call the poorest set of major league batterymen in 25 years, and fired him after just 15 games, which wouldn't be a healthy losing streak for some big wheel outfits that have had better pitching and catching than the White Sox in 1934.

Fonseca may have lacked the aggressiveness of a successful diamond director, but a manager combining all the qualities of John McGraw and Connie Mack would have a tough time checking a parade over the plate with a staff of aces of which are the ancient and honorable Sam Jones and Milt Gaston, whose good days are well spaced.

And now we'll see what effect the personality of this pilot has on the score, for James J. Dykes, who picked up the burden, is exactly the opposite type.

Dykes is the second member of Connie Mack's great Philadelphia team of 1929, '30 and '31 to be elevated. He and Mickey Cochrane, the new Detroit strategist, supplied the dash and fire that played such a vital part in the Mackian comeback after 14 long, lean years.

But I doubt that the Chicago Americans will make much headway until Owner Comiskey puts a new engine in the old car, for that is what pitching and catching amount to. All the hustle in the world on the part of a man but won't silence opposing shillalahs.

COMISKEY REAPS NOT

Comiskey has no one but himself to blame for the plight of his club. In making no minor league connections, he failed to keep up with the times. Many criticize the St. Louis Cardinals chain store system, on the ground that it is harmful to the smaller fry, but when all other big time clubs fell in line, it was a mistake for the White Sox to go it alone.

Comiskey wasn't miserly. He was bitterly disappointed when the South Side contingent finished a scraggly sixth in 1933, after he paid the A's $100,000 for Dykes, Al Simmons, and "Mule" Haas.

He obtained George Earnshaw frim the same source last winter for $20,000 and Catcher Charley Berry, only to see his array drop nine straight contests and 11 of the first 15.

But Comiskey considered subsidizing three or four minor league clubs for farming purposes a waste of money, despite the fact that long since it was proved that it is the steady flow of talent from the lesser circuits that eventually molds a pennant-procuring combination up above.

Schools are essential, with most players requiring four or five years of experience before they are able to crash the fastest company.

Stars cannot always be picked from the air at any price, and, as in the case of Earnshaw, a fast ball doesn't always return with a change of scenery.

PICK FULLERTON IN S. C. MEET

BILL HAWKINS OF S. A. RATED 2ND IN HURDLES

Fullerton tomorrow will bring to Orange county the Southern California track championship for the first time since Santa Ana won it in 1930, according to a dopesheet prepared by The Register.

Although its "case" really rests with one man, Sprinter Harold Stedman, the compact little Fullerton squad is picked to make 17 points, four more than enough to win first place from Pasadena's Muir Tech and Glendale, which are reckoned second with 13. The meet will be held at the Los Angeles Coliseum.

Santa Ana's one-man team, Bill Hawkins, is doped to tie for tenth with Jefferson. Hawkins being given second place in both the high and low hurdles—a heavy assignment for the Saint star but well within the reach of an athlete of his competitive sprit. The first spot in both hurdles is, of course, conceded to Leroy Kirkpatrick of El Centro, who is expected to smash to pieces the existing Southern California prep records in both races.

Stedman shoulders Fullerton's burden. He is figured to win both sprints for 10 points, as well as anchor the Indian relay team which is given a questionable fourth place. Stedman's victory in the 220 seems certain but he will have a fight on his hands to break the tape ahead of Mac Robinson, fleet Muir Tech Negro. Other Fullerton points are anticipated from John Raitt, third in the shot put, and Tom Berkley, fourth in the low hurdles.

Berkley, long-legged and dusky captain of Fullerton's squad, has a royal chance of picking up a couple more points for his team in the hurdles. He ran a 24.9 race to beat Santa Ana's Hawkins in last week's preliminary meet.

The last Orange county team to win the All-Southern was Santa Ana's aggregation of 1930 which was led by Norman Paul, star low hurdler and broad jumper. Other members were Doyle Gilbert, broad-jumper; Al Reboin, hurdler, and Jim Daneri and Lloyd Nuzum, relay runners.

Tomorrow's dopesheet:

100—Stedman, Fullerton; Robinson, Muir Tech; Macon, Jefferson; Fox, San Diego Hoover; Taggart, Glendale.

220-Stedman, Fullerton; Fox, San Diego Hoover; Hines, Jefferson; Morgan, Huntington Park; Jones, Jefferson.

440—Hammond, Hollywood; Bonebrake, Orange; Malott, Excelsior; St. John, San Diego; Luck, Torrance.

880—Nickerson, Poly; Russell, La Jolla; Holland, Redondo; Isom, Fremont; Albert, South Pasadena; Weldon, Chaffey.

Mile—Hooper, Antelope Valley; Zamperini, Torrance; Mercer, Glendale Hoover; Jordan, Whittier; Elmo, Sherman Indians.

High hurdles—Kirkpatrick, El Centro; Hawkins, Santa Ana; Simon, Chaffey; McGaughey, Fairfax; Reece, Riis.

Low hurdles—Kirkpatrick, El Centro; Hawkins, Santa Ana; Day, San Diego Hoover; Berkley, Fullerton; Haygood, Glendale.

Relay—Manual Arts; Muir Tech; Glendale; Fullerton; Jefferson.

Shot put—Dannaldson, Hollywood; Young, Riis; Raitt, Fullerton; Troxel, Inglewood; Miller, Manual Arts.

Broad jump—Robinson, Muir Tech; Skinner, Manual Arts; Taggart, Glendale; Daniels, Jordan; Larzalere, Wilson.

Pole vault—Clarke, Glendale Hoover; Tie between Wonacott, Glendale Hoover and Rodriguez, Poly; tie between Day, Monrovia, and Mandella, Leuzinger.

Total points: Fullerton, 17; Muir Tech, 13; Glendale, 13; Manual Arts, 12½; Poly, 11; Glendale Hoover, 11; Hollywood, 10; El Centro, 10; San Diego Hoover, 9; Jefferson, 8; Santa Ana, 8; Antelope Valley, 5; Torrance, 5; Riis, 5; San Diego, 4½; Orange, 4; La Jolla, 4; Chaffey, 4; Excelsior, 3; Redlands, 3; Fremont, 3; Huntington Park, 2; South Pasadena, 2; Fairfax, 2; Inglewood, 2; Whittier, 2; Jordan, 2; Inglewood, 2; Leuzinger, 1½; Wilson, 1; Sherman Institute, 1.

A Couple of Varsity Men?

Tonight's Games

Santa Ana at Fullerton; Huntington Beach at Torrance; Long Beach at Anaheim.

Still confident of figuring in the first-half pennant race despite its defeat in the first game of the National league season, Santa Ana goes to Fullerton tonight to see what is what about Randolph Bell's rejuvenated club.

Long a lamb in night ball business, Fullerton has accomplished so much this semester that enthusiasm is running high there. Bell, a wise baseball man and a good judge of talent, believes he has the surprise package of the season. He thinks he has the best infield in the league, and the smartest pitcher in the veteran Earl Morrill who was a consistent winner at Westminster last year. Bell doesn't pick his outfit to win the championship but he says it will finish a lot better than seventh—the spot assigned to it by most newspaper writers and managers.

Off to Good Start

Fullerton made a good start Tuesday by blanking Long Beach, 2-0, and if it can get by Santa Ana will be well on its way to justifying Bell's optimism. Morrill will hurl, his catcher being Bill Widener, second string receiver for Torrance last season. Bob Sanders, Steve Barrett and Mazzio, three new men to the association, will be stationed at first base, second and shortstop. The veteran Larry Hemus patrols third, with Bell himself in left field, Bruce Harnois of Santa Ana in center, and Sam Miller in right.

Miller is the lone holdover from the '33 Fullerton outfit which folded up at mid-season and left the league holding the sack. Bell has promised that this won't happen this year.

Santa Ana will use exactly the same lineup and batting order that met Olive except that Ira DeBusk, instead of Jim Coates, will be on the mound. Manager Bill Cole hopes DeBusk can go the distance as he wants Coates to have a week's rest before the Anaheim struggle at the Bowl next Tuesday. Francis Conrad will operate at shortstop, Cole expressing complete confidence that the youngster not only will field well but also add a punch to the club.

Two other National league contests are scheduled tonight.

1933 Champs Clash

Perhaps the best game of the evening will be at Torrance between last year's champions and Huntington Beach, this season's pretender to the throne. There is no love lost between these teams which fought it out for the conference gonfalon in '33, and Manager Joe Rodgers of the Oilers didn't help soothe the troubled waters when he came out flatly this spring and picked five teams to finish in front of Torrance.

Beginning an all-Thursday schedule, Olive was humbled in its first home game by Westminster last night. Anybody but the pitcher who blanked Santa Ana two nights before, Olive's Rudy Heman was shelled off the round in the sixth inning after giving up six runs. Westminster did the rest of its scoring off Al Collman in the seventh, one of them being a homer by Floyd Montgomery. The box score:

Tobacco Squirt 'Fall' Latest In Mat Styles

NEW ORLEANS, May 18.—(UP)—Tommy Marvin, Indian wrestler, demonstrated a new tactic—the "tobacco squirt" in winning a fall from Chief Chewchki, another Indian, in last night's feature bout.

Clamping a chin lock on the chief, Marvin calmly filled Chewchiki's eyes with tobacco juice. The latter gave a series of real tribal war whoops and conceded the fall. Chewchki won the last two falls and the bout by knocking Marvin unconscious.

DONS DEFEATED IN LAST GAME OF BALL SEASON

Twelve costly errors, producing nine gift runs for the Braves, cost Santa Ana jaysee, its final Eastern conference baseball game at San Bernardino yesterday, 11 to 10.

The scorebook showed only two earned runs for San Bernardino, as compared with Santa Ana's nine, and indicated the Dons played a superior offensive game by earning 15 hits to 10. But the ledger also showed that San Bernardino presented a much tighter defense, and deserved its one-run victory which came in the ninth inning of a wobbly contest.

Earning everything it made on clean hits, Santa Ana chalked up an 8 to 3 lead in the first seven frames, and scored again in the eighth for a 9-3 command, but San Bernardino took advantage of Santa Ana's miserable defense to register five runs on three hits in the last of the eighth.

The pay-off came in the ninth, after Santa Ana had scored another run to make the count 10-8. Hough, pinch-hitting for San Bernardino, singled to right. Ray Furuta, Don hurler, walked the next two, and the Braves had the bases loaded with none away. Schmid skied out to center, Hough scoring after the catch. Webster lined a grounder to Leo Morse at short, whose throw home forced Cranford for the second out. Furuta whipped across two strikes on Frame, but on the next pitch Frame rapped a Texas leaguer to left field, accounting for the tying and winning runs.

DAVIDSON HAS EDGE IN FIRST 5-ROUND MATCH

State athletic commissioners are expected to approve, for an indefinite period, five-round main events and four-round preliminaries at amateur boxing clubs as a result of the success of last night's program at the Orange County Athletic club.

A large crowd found the extended matches more satisfactory in deciding winners where there was any doubt. In several contests the tide of battle swayed in the extra period.

Outpointed in the first round, "Dusty" Davidson, 200-pound Negro heavyweight from the CCC camp, came from behind to shellack Art Breaux, also colored, in the main event. The referee, Jackie Fields, one-time world's welterweight champion, had an easy decision to render as Davidson won the last four rounds in succession. Nevertheless, Breaux was good enough to give Davidson a serious contest in what was generally regarded as the best main event the highway arena has yet produced.

The semi-final was neither as satisfactory nor as lengthy. Paul Garcia knocked out Norman Lund, Long Beach newsboy, in the first round of an uneven bout. Lund behaved like a very inexperinced contender.

"Bud" Parker, CCC camp welter, lost of his few local starts in the special event, his conqueror being James Williams, one of seven

"Ebony Club" race-pugilists on the program. Williams simply was too good for Parker, scoring a knockout in the third after dealing out considerable punishment in earlier heats.

The crowd got a bang out of the Eddie Jackson-Johnny Peebles fracas which the latter, another CCC camp representative, won by a knockout in the third. Jackson was well ahead on points at the time, having won the first and second handily. But Peebles found the range in the third, and Jackson went down under a terrific bombardment.

Flooring Babe Rosales for nine in the first, George Crouch, colored, went on to a decision. "Bud" Wilson put "Pop Eye" McGoit in the slag four times, got a decision in a fight which was closer than the "score" would indicate. Referee Fields booted one when he handed Carmen Tullio the nod over Leo Lopez who carried every round. Paul Walins stopped Garden Grove's Frank Barago in the third, Barago being down three times. Dan Morena outpointed Jack Creigo and Clarence Thomas shaded Rudy Romero.

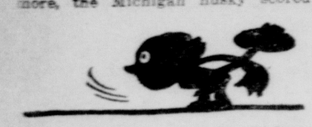

The Ebony club won four of the seven mixed matches.

MICHIGAN AND INDIANA RULE BIG TEN MEET

EVANSTON, Ill., May 18.—(UP)—Three athletes — Ivan Fuqua, Charlie Hornbostel and Willis Ward—and two schools—Michigan and Indiana—are expected to dominate the Big Ten track and field championships opening today in Dyche stadium.

Fuqua and Hornbostel, carrying the crimson banner of Indiana, are ready for a supreme effort in an attempt to give the Hoosiers their first Big Ten outdoor title.

Once more Ward, Michigan's versatile Negro, apparently bars Indiana's path to conference track and field supremacy. As a sophomore, the Michigan husky scored 18 points and enabled the Wolverines to beat out Indiana, 60 1-2 to 47 1-2. Last winter in the indoor meet, Ward captured three first places for 15 points and again Michigan finished ahead of Indiana, 38 to 33.

Ward is entered in four events, the 100-yard dash, the 120-yard high hurdles, high jump and broad jump. He is expected to win at least two of those events, may win another and in none is he expected to finish worse than second.

Between them, Fuqua and Hornbostel are counted on to score 20 or more points. Fuqua, one of America's fastest quarter-milers, is favored to defend his title in the 220 and 440 and is likely to place in the 100. Hornbostel, holder of the unofficial world's record for the half-mile, is counted on to defend his titles in the half-mile and mile. Fuqua and Hornbostel also will run on Indiana's championship mile relay quartet.

Preliminaries were scheduled today in 10 of the 15 events, with all finals tomorrow.

Inter-Squad Saint Game Ends In Tie

Captain Ray Hamilton's inter-squad football team at Santa Ana high school has been assigned to play two quarters with each of the other two Saint elevens next Tuesday, as the result of a 0-0 deadlock between squads captained by Byron Nott and Carl Schultz at Poly field yesterday.

Hamilton's squad was to meet the winner of the first game, but since the other two teams were so balanced that even a moral victory could not be determined, Coach Bill Foote decided to test the Hamilton team against both rivals next week.

Quarterback Alvin Lamb of the Schultz eleven intercepted a pass near midfield and raced down the sidelines for a touchdown in the first quarter, but it was ruled that he stepped out of bounds near the 25-yard line. Both teams had several scoring opportunities, but numerous fumbles marred their chances.

Bob Reid, Ray Huntzinger, Jack Robinson and Dick Geeting were the mainstays in the Nott line, while Don Evans co-starred with his captain, Tackle Schultz, in the other forward wall. Harry Gonzales, Carroll Joy, Nott and Lamb played the best backfield games.

BEGIN LORENZ CUP PLAY AT GOLF CLUB

Competition for the William Lorenz Cup, a handsome new trophy, will begin at the Santa Ana Country club next week. Medal play matches will be run off once a month, and the cup will go to the member who first wins it three times.

Women golfers had the course yesterday for a nine-hole selective tournament, Mrs. Elsie Bakre, winning in Class A with a card of 40-9-31, and Mrs. C. J. Cogan finishing first in Class B with 43-16-27.

TUSTIN ROUTS TARS

Tustin's baseball team practically cinched second place in the Orange league by routing Newport Harbor, 12-1, at Newport Harbor yesterday. The Farmers put on a seven-run rally in the sixth, after scoring four times in the third inning and once in the fourth. Wilson Seacord, Tustin pitcher, who fanned ten and allowed the Tars only five hits, collected four successive blows.

Among the more precarious positions are managing baseball clubs and coaching college football teams.

There is less delay in the beheading of a losing baseball pilot. He never knows where he will be in the morning, whereas the gridiron guide, usually, at least, is permitted to linger for a season.

While neither post is exactly agreeable, the baseball boss is the better off when taking it on the chin. Ordinarily he has only one man to answer to. He can walk into the office and have it out—find out where he stands.

But the fumbling football foreman is confronted with something intangible. He can't get away from old grads, and students join the rest of the world in loving a winner. Indignation meetings are held behind the coach's back. Letters are written.

FONSECA COULDN'T PITCH

What launched all this was Lew Fonseca's summary dismissal as manager of the Chicago White Sox.

J. Louis Comiskey started the pleasant Portuguese off with what baseball men call the poorest set of major league batterymen in 25 years, and fired him after just 15 games, which wouldn't be a healthy losing streak for some big wheel outfits that have had better pitching and catching than the White Sox in 1934.

Fonseca may have lacked the aggressiveness of a successful diamond director, but a manager combining all the qualities of John McGraw and Connie Mack would have a tough time checking a parade over the plate with a staff of aces of which are the ancient and honorable Sam Jones and Milt Gaston, whose good days are well spaced.

And now we'll see what effect the personality of this pilot has on the score, for James J. Dykes, who picked up the burden, is exactly the opposite type.

Dykes is the second member of Connie Mack's great Philadelphia team of 1929, '30 and '31 to be elevated. He and Mickey Cochrane, the new Detroit strategist, supplied the dash and fire that played such a vital part in the Mackian comeback after 14 long, lean years.

But I doubt that the Chicago Americans will make much headway until Owner Comiskey puts a new engine in the old car, for that is what pitching and catching amount to. All the hustle in the world on the part of a man but won't silence opposing shillalahs.

COMISKEY REAPS NOT

Comiskey has no one but himself to blame for the plight of his club. In making no minor league connections, he failed to keep up with the times. Many criticize the St. Louis Cardinals chain store system, on the ground that it is harmful to the smaller fry, but when all other big time clubs fell in line, it was a mistake for the White Sox to go it alone.

Comiskey wasn't miserly. He was bitterly disappointed when the South Side contingent finished a scraggly sixth in 1933, after he paid the A's $100,000 for Dykes, Al Simmons, and "Mule" Haas.

He obtained George Earnshaw frim the same source last winter for $20,000 and Catcher Charley Berry, only to see his array drop nine straight contests and 11 of the first 15.

But Comiskey considered subsidizing three or four minor league clubs for farming purposes a waste of money, despite the fact that long since it was proved that it is the steady flow of talent from the lesser circuits that eventually molds a pennant-procuring combination up above.

Schools are essential, with most players requiring four or five years of experience before they are able to crash the fastest company.

Stars cannot always be picked from the air at any price, and, as in the case of Earnshaw, a fast ball doesn't always return with a change of scenery.

PICK FULLERTON IN S. C. MEET

BILL HAWKINS OF S. A. RATED 2ND IN HURDLES

Fullerton tomorrow will bring to Orange county the Southern California track championship for the first time since Santa Ana won it in 1930, according to a dopesheet prepared by The Register.

Although its "case" really rests with one man, Sprinter Harold Stedman, the compact little Fullerton squad is picked to make 17 points, four more than enough to win first place from Pasadena's Muir Tech and Glendale, which are reckoned second with 13. The meet will be held at the Los Angeles Coliseum.

Santa Ana's one-man team, Bill Hawkins, is doped to tie for tenth with Jefferson, Hawkins being given second place in both the high and low hurdles—a heavy assignment for the Saint star but well within the reach of an athlete of his competitive sprit. The first spot in both hurdles is, of course, conceded to Leroy Kirkpatrick of El Centro, who is expected to smash to pieces the existing Southern California prep records in both races.

Stedman shoulders Fullerton's burden. He is figured to win both sprints for 10 points, as well as anchor the Indian relay team which is given a questionable fourth place. Stedman's victory in the 220 seems certain but he will have a fight on his hands to break the tape ahead of Mac Robinson, fleet Muir Tech Negro. Other Fullerton points are anticipated from John Raitt, third in the shot put, and Tom Berkley, fourth in the low hurdles.

Berkley, long-legged and dusky captain of Fullerton's squad, has a royal chance of picking up a couple more points for his team in the hurdles. He ran a 24.9 race to beat Santa Ana's Hawkins in last week's preliminary meet.

The last Orange county team to win the All-Southern was Santa Ana's aggregation of 1930 which was led by Norman Paul, star low hurdler and broad jumper. Other members were Doyle Gilbert, broad-jumper; Al Reboin, hurdler, and Jim Daneri and Lloyd Nuzum, relay runners.

Tomorrow's dopesheet:

100—Stedman, Fullerton; Robinson, Muir Tech; Macon, Jefferson; Fox, San Diego Hoover; Taggart, Glendale.

220-Stedman, Fullerton; Fox, San Diego Hoover; Hines, Jefferson; Morgan, Huntington Park; Jones, Jefferson.

440—Hammond, Hollywood; Bonebrake, Orange; Malott, Excelsior; St. John, San Diego; Luck, Torrance.

880—Nickerson, Poly; Russell, La Jolla; Holland, Redondo; Isom, Fremont; Albert, South Pasadena; Weldon, Chaffey.

Mile—Hooper, Antelope Valley; Zamperini, Torrance; Mercer, Glendale Hoover; Jordan, Whittier; Elmo, Sherman Indians.

High hurdles—Kirkpatrick, El Centro; Hawkins, Santa Ana; Simon, Chaffey; McGaughey, Fairfax; Reece, Riis.

Low hurdles—Kirkpatrick, El Centro; Hawkins, Santa Ana; Day, San Diego Hoover; Berkley, Fullerton; Haygood, Glendale.

Relay—Manual Arts; Muir Tech; Glendale; Fullerton; Jefferson.

Shot put—Dannaldson, Hollywood; Young, Riis; Raitt, Fullerton; Troxel, Inglewood; Miller, Manual Arts.

Broad jump—Robinson, Muir Tech; Skinner, Manual Arts; Taggart, Glendale; Daniels, Jordan; Larzalere, Wilson.

Total points: Fullerton, 17; Muir Tech, 13; Glendale, 13; Manual Arts, 12½; Poly, 11; Glendale Hoover, 11; Hollywood, 10; El Centro, 10; San Diego Hoover, 9; Jefferson, 8; Santa Ana, 8; Antelope Valley, 5; Torrance, 5; Riis, 5; San Diego, 4½; Orange, 4; La Jolla, 4; Chaffey, 4; Excelsior, 3; Redlands, 3; Fremont, 3; Huntington Park, 2; South Pasadena, 2; Fairfax, 2; Inglewood, 2; Whittier, 2; Jordan, 2; Inglewood, 2; Leuzinger, 1½; Wilson, 1; Sherman Institute, 1.

A Couple of Varsity Men?

Tonight's Games

Still confident of figuring in the first-half pennant race despite its defeat in the first game of the National league season, Santa Ana goes to Fullerton tonight to see what is what about Randolph Bell's rejuvenated club.

Long a lamb in night ball business, Fullerton has accomplished so much this semester that enthusiasm is running high there. Bell, a wise baseball man and a good judge of talent, believes he has the surprise package of the season. He thinks he has the best infield in the league, and the smartest pitcher in the veteran Earl Morrill who was a consistent winner at Westminster last year. Bell doesn't pick his outfit to win the championship but he says it will finish a lot better than seventh—the spot assigned to it by most newspaper writers and managers.

Off to Good Start

Fullerton made a good start Tuesday by blanking Long Beach, 2-0, and if it can get by Santa Ana will be well on its way to justifying Bell's optimism. Morrill will hurl, his catcher being Bill Widener, second string receiver for Torrance last season. Bob Sanders, Steve Barrett and Mazzio, three new men to the association, will be stationed at first base, second and shortstop. The veteran Larry Hemus patrols third, with Bell himself in left field, Bruce Harnois of Santa Ana in center, and Sam Miller in right.

Miller is the lone holdover from the '33 Fullerton outfit which folded up at mid-season and left the league holding the sack. Bell has promised that this won't happen this year.

Santa Ana will use exactly the same lineup and batting order that met Olive except that Ira DeBusk, instead of Jim Coates, will be on the mound. Manager Bill Cole hopes DeBusk can go the distance as he wants Coates to have a week's rest before the Anaheim struggle at the Bowl next Tuesday, Francis Conrad will operate at shortstop, Cole expressing complete confidence that the youngster not only will field well but also add a punch to the club.

Two other National league contests are scheduled tonight.

1933 Champs Clash

Perhaps the best game of the evening will be at Torrance between last year's champions and Huntington Beach, this season's pretender to the throne. There is no love lost between these teams which fought it out for the conference gonfalon in '33, and Manager Joe Rodgers of the Oilers didn't help soothe the troubled waters when he came out flatly this spring and picked five teams to finish in front of Torrance.

Beginning an all-Thursday schedule, Olive was humbled in its first home game by Westminster last night. Anybody but the pitcher who blanked Santa Ana two nights before, Olive's Rudy Heman was shelled off the round in the sixth inning after giving up six runs. Westminster did the rest of its scoring off Al Collman in the seventh, one of them being a homer by Floyd Montgomery. The box score:

Tobacco Squirt 'Fall' Latest In Mat Styles

NEW ORLEANS, May 18.—(UP)—Tommy Marvin, Indian wrestler, demonstrated a new tactic—the "tobacco squirt" in winning a fall from Chief Chewchki, another Indian, in last night's feature bout.

Clamping a chin lock on the chief, Marvin calmly filled Chewchiki's eyes with tobacco juice. The latter gave a series of real tribal war whoops and conceded the fall. Chewchki won the last two falls and the bout by knocking Marvin unconscious.

DONS DEFEATED IN LAST GAME OF BALL SEASON

Twelve costly errors, producing nine gift runs for the Braves, cost Santa Ana jaysee, its final Eastern conference baseball game at San Bernardino yesterday, 11 to 10.

The scorebook showed only two earned runs for San Bernardino, as compared with Santa Ana's nine, and indicated the Dons played a superior offensive game by earning 15 hits to 10. But the ledger also showed that San Bernardino presented a much tighter defense, and deserved its one-run victory which came in the ninth inning of a wobbly contest.

Earning everything it made on clean hits, Santa Ana chalked up an 8 to 3 lead in the first seven frames, and scored again in the eighth for a 9-3 command, but San Bernardino took advantage of Santa Ana's miserable defense to register five runs on three hits in the last of the eighth.

The pay-off came in the ninth, after Santa Ana had scored another run to make the count 10-8. Hough, pinch-hitting for San Bernardino, singled to right. Ray Furuta, Don hurler, walked the next two, and the Braves had the bases loaded with none away. Schmid skied out to center, Hough scoring after the catch. Webster lined a grounder to Leo Morse at short, whose throw home forced Cranford for the second out. Furuta whipped across two strikes on Frame, but on the next pitch Frame rapped a Texas leaguer to left field, accounting for the tying and winning runs.

DAVIDSON HAS EDGE IN FIRST 5-ROUND MATCH

State athletic commissioners are expected to approve, for an indefinite period, five-round main events and four-round preliminaries at amateur boxing clubs as a result of the success of last night's program at the Orange County Athletic club.

A large crowd found the extended matches more satisfactory in deciding winners where there was any doubt. In several contests the tide of battle swayed in the extra period.

Outpointed in the first round, "Dusty" Davidson, 200-pound Negro heavyweight from the CCC camp, came from behind to shellack Art Breaux, also colored, in the main event. The referee, Jackie Fields, one-time world's welterweight champion, had an easy decision to render as Davidson won the last four rounds in succession. Nevertheless, Breaux was good enough to give Davidson a serious contest in what was generally regarded as the best main event the highway arena has yet produced.

The semi-final was neither as satisfactory nor as lengthy, Paul Garcia knocked out Norman Lund, Long Beach newsboy, in the first round of an uneven bout. Lund behaved like a very inexperinced contender.

"Bud" Parker, CCC camp welter, lost of his few local starts in the special event, his conqueror being James Williams, one of seven

"Ebony Club" race-pugilists on the program. Williams simply was too good for Parker, scoring a knockout in the third after dealing out considerable punishment in earlier heats.

The crowd got a bang out of the Eddie Jackson-Johnny Peebles fracas which the latter, another CCC camp representative, won by a knockout in the third. Jackson was well ahead on points at the time, having won the first and second handily. But Peebles found the range in the third, and Jackson went down under a terrific bombardment.

Flooring Babe Rosales for nine in the first, George Crouch, colored, went on to a decision. "Bud" Wilson put "Pop Eye" McGoit in the slag four times, got a decision in a fight which was closer than the "score" would indicate. Referee Fields booted one when he handed Carmen Tullio the nod over Leo Lopez who carried every round. Paul Wallins stopped Garden Grove's Frank Barago in the third, Barago being down three times. Dan Morena outpointed Jack Creigo and Clarence Thomas shaded Rudy Romero.

The Ebony club won four of the seven mixed matches.

MICHIGAN AND INDIANA RULE BIG TEN MEET

EVANSTON, Ill., May 18.—(UP)—Three athletes — Ivan Fuqua, Charlie Hornbostel and Willis Ward—and two schools—Michigan and Indiana—are expected to dominate the Big Ten track and field championships opening today in Dyche stadium.

Fuqua and Hornbostel, carrying the crimson banner of Indiana, are ready for a supreme effort in an attempt to give the Hoosiers their first Big Ten outdoor title.

Once more Ward, Michigan's versatile Negro, apparently bars Indiana's path to conference track and field supremacy. As a sophomore, the Michigan husky scored 18 points and enabled the Wolverines to beat out Indiana, 60 1-2 to 47 1-2. Last winter in the indoor meet, Ward captured three first places for 15 points and again Michigan finished ahead of Indiana, 38 to 33.

Ward is entered in four events, the 100-yard dash, the 120-yard high hurdles, high jump and broad jump. He is expected to win at least two of those events, may win another and in none is he expected to finish worse than second.

Between them, Fuqua and Hornbostel are counted on to score 20 or more points. Fuqua, one of America's fastest quarter-milers, is favored to defend his title in the 220 and 440 and is likely to place in the 100. Hornbostel, holder of the unofficial world's record for the half-mile, is counted on to defend his titles in the half-mile and mile. Fuqua and Hornbostel also will run on Indiana's championship mile relay quartet.

Preliminaries were scheduled today in 10 of the 15 events, with all finals tomorrow.

Inter-Squad Saint Game Ends In Tie

Captain Ray Hamilton's inter-squad football team at Santa Ana high school has been assigned to play two quarters with each of the other two Saint elevens next Tuesday, as the result of a 0-0 deadlock between squads captained by Byron Nott and Carl Schultz at Poly field yesterday.

Hamilton's squad was to meet the winner of the first game, but since the other two teams were so balanced that even a moral victory could not be determined, Coach Bill Foote decided to test the Hamilton team against both rivals next week.

Quarterback Alvin Lamb of the Schultz eleven intercepted a pass near midfield and raced down the sidelines for a touchdown in the first quarter, but it was ruled that he stepped out of bounds near the 25-yard line. Both teams had several scoring opportunities, but numerous fumbles marred their chances.

Bob Reid, Ray Huntzinger, Jack Robinson and Dick Geeting were the mainstays in the Nott line, while Don Evans co-starred with his captain, Tackle Schultz, in the other forward wall. Harry Gonzales, Carroll Joy, Nott and Lamb played the best backfield games.

BEGIN LORENZ CUP PLAY AT GOLF CLUB

Competition for the William Lorenz Cup, a handsome new trophy, will begin at the Santa Ana Country club next week. Medal play matches will be run off once a month, and the cup will go to the member who first wins it three times.

Women golfers had the course yesterday for a nine-hole selective tournament, Mrs. Elsie Bakre, winning in Class A with a card of 40-9-31, and Mrs. C. J. Cogan finishing first in Class B with 43-16-27.

TUSTIN ROUTS TARS

Tustin's baseball team practically cinched second place in the Orange league by routing Newport Harbor, 12-1, at Newport Harbor yesterday. The Farmers put on a seven-run rally in the sixth, after scoring four times in the third inning and once in the fourth. Wilson Seacord, Tustin pitcher, who fanned ten and allowed the Tars only five hits, collected four successive blows.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

"You, Tommy Tucker? Gee, I've read about you often," Coppy said. Please tell us why you have to sing a song before you eat.

"I never have done that, you see. That's why it sounds strange to me. I do not mean your singing, 'cause that really sounded sweet."

"Well," said the lad, "my mother likes the voices of all little tykes. That's why I wish that you'd all join right in this pretty song.

"If she feeds me, she'll feed you, too. Im sure that appeals to you. Come on, let's start, and then some dandy food wil lcome, ere long."

All of the voices then rang out. "Well, goodness, what's this all about?" exclaimed a woman who stood in a doorway right nearby.

"Ho, mom!" said Tommy. "We want lunch! This singing was my happy hunch. I let these other tots join in, and I guess you know why."

"You bet I do," his mother said. "All right, you wee tots, come ahead." And very soon the Tinymites were having quite a meal.

When they had finished, Tommy said, "I'm tired, so I must go to bed." "Well, we'll run out and play," said Goldy. "That's how good we feel."

They found a garden right nearby and shortly heard wee Dotty cry, "Why, look, there's Mistress Mary, yuite contrary. My, she's sweet.

"She's brought fine flowers from the land. I'll ask if I can lend a hand. I do not think I've ever seen a garden quite so neat."

'Course Mistress Mary was surprised. Said she, "I never realized that I'd have company today," Then to her Dotty ran.

"Oh, let me sprinkle for a while," said she, and Dotty, with a smile, replied, "Oh, I'd be glad to miss. Here is my sprinkling can."

YOUNG ATTACKS CANDIDACY FOR JOHN R. QUINN

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—Denouncing John R. Quinn as an ingrate who has betrayed his sacred word by becoming a candidate for governor Former Governor C. C. Young has issued a scorching statement on the Quinn candidacy, as follows:

"In declaring his candidacy for governor, John R. Quinn has let personal ambition override his loyalty to the cause of good government and the sacredness of his word. For the past four years he has been protesting his deep obligation to me for appointing him Supervisor of Los Angeles county. On numerous occasions he has voluntarily stated to me and to dozens of others, his friends and my friends, that under no circumstances would he consider standing as a candidate against me.

"More than once has he confirmed this pledge in the newspapers, the last time six weeks ago, just after my announcement of candidacy, when he issued the following statement to the press: 'I will not run against Governor Young. Governor Young made a good governor and will make a good governor again. I will support him.'

"Immediately afterwards Quinn, I am told, was beseiged by detachments of Rolph relatives and Rolph office-holders. Since then the papers have been filled with predictions that he would be the Rolph candidate, with all the obligations which that must imply. The temptation apparently became too strong, and John Quinn has thrown over former loyalties and principles to become the heir apparent of the Rolph political machine.

"Three tempters of John R. Quinn did not pick him as crown prince of the Rolph succession because of his own merits. They have selected him as the one to grant the favors, spend the money, and save the jobs. By yielding to them he has raised as a definite, clear-cut issue for the approaching campaign whether there shall be a continuation or an end of Rolphism in California."

ACCIDENT REPORT REVEALS INCREASES AS HIGH AS 70 PER CENT WHERE LIQUOR USED

Reportable motor vehicle accidents received and tabulated by the California Highway Patrol during the first three months of 1934 show an increase of 467 accidents, or 6.34 per cent; an increase of 23 per cent in the number of drivers reported to have been drinking and involved in accidents; and a 70 per cent increase in the number of pedestrians reported to have been drinking, and either injured or killed. Drivers exceeding reasonable speed, at the time of accidents decreased 14 per cent, the report showed.

While those pedestrians killed, who were reported to have been drinking previous to their accident, constituted a comparative small part of the total pedestrians involved who had been drinking, it is significant that this type of accident shows the largest numerical increase in deaths, the highway patrol report stated.

It is further shown that the number of arrests made by the patrol during this period for driving while intoxicated, have increased materially. Responsibility for this type of accident rests entirely with the driver of the vehicle involved, it was reported.

During the first three months of this year, the number of deaths resulting from motor vehicle accidents in California have increased at an alarming rate. There were 607 killed in the 1934 period and only 481 in 1933, while there were 10,582 injured in 1934 and 9800 in 1933.

Drivers reported to have violated the right of way increased 10 per cent while there was a decrease of 14 per cent in the number of drivers reported to have been driving at a speed in excess of that warranted by conditions at the time of the accident.

RANCH ROBBED

Fifty chickens, two automobile tires and some tools were stolen Wednesday night from the McCumber ranch near Northam Station at Buena Park, it was reported to sheriff's officers yesterday. Deputy Sheriffs Steve Duhart, Claude Potter and Fred Swayze are investigating.

REVOKE LICENSE OF EARL BAKER, CITRUS SHIPPER

LOS ANGELES, May 18.—Revocation of the license of Earl Baker, Inc.,, Pomona, as a shipper of oranges and grapefruit, by action of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace on May 10, in Washington, was announced today by E. L. Markell, Southern California representative of the AAA. The 19 page decision just received describes 10 different charges which were sustained and states that any one of the 10 was sufficient to warrant revoking Baker's license to ship fruit under the California-Arizona Citrus Marketing agreement and license.

Under the heading "Findings of Fact", Secretary Wallace's decision finds that the growers advisory and distribution committees of the California-Arizona agreement were properly appointed; that the prorate was properly declared in effect on January 7, 1934; that Baker was engaged in the shipment of fruit in interstate commerce and failed to file application for allotments and estimates of fruit under his control; that Baker failed to report transfers of allotment as required in a number of cases; that it was impossible to assign prorates to Baker so he could lawfully ship fruit because he had not furnished this necessary information; and that Baker refused to permit examination of his records.

The revocation was stayed pending disposition of Baker's application for amendment of the agreement and license. This application has since been dismissed at Baker's own request, and as soon as this action clears at Washington, the license will stand revoked.

Two other cases ,namely Lott and Montgomery, were heard last week and action on them is expected from Washington shortly, according to Markell.

YOUNG ATTACKS CANDIDACY FOR JOHN R. QUINN

SAN FRANCISCO, May 18.—Denouncing John R. Quinn as an ingrate who has betrayed his sacred word by becoming a candidate for governor Former Governor C. C. Young has issued a scorching statement on the Quinn candidacy, as follows:

"In declaring his candidacy for governor, John R. Quinn has let personal ambition override his loyalty to the cause of good government and the sacredness of his word. For the past four years he has been protesting his deep obligation to me for appointing him Supervisor of Los Angeles county. On numerous occasions he has voluntarily stated to me and to dozens of others, his friends and my friends, that under no circumstances would he consider standing as a candidate against me.

"More than once has he confirmed this pledge in the newspapers, the last time six weeks ago, just after my announcement of candidacy, when he issued the following statement to the press: 'I will not run against Governor Young. Governor Young made a good governor and will make a good governor again. I will support him.'

"Immediately afterwards Quinn, I am told, was beseiged by detachments of Rolph relatives and Rolph office-holders. Since then the papers have been filled with predictions that he would be the Rolph candidate, with all the obligations which that must imply. The temptation apparently became too strong, and John Quinn has thrown over former loyalties and principles to become the heir apparent of the Rolph political machine.

"Three tempters of John R. Quinn did not pick him as crown prince of the Rolph succession because of his own merits. They have selected him as the one to grant the favors, spend the money, and save the jobs. By yielding to them he has raised as a definite, clear-cut issue for the approaching campaign whether there shall be a continuation or an end of Rolphism in California."

ACCIDENT REPORT REVEALS INCREASES AS HIGH AS 70 PER CENT WHERE LIQUOR USED

Reportable motor vehicle accidents received and tabulated by the California Highway Patrol during the first three months of 1934 show an increase of 467 accidents, or 6.34 per cent; an increase of 23 per cent in the number of drivers reported to have been drinking and involved in accidents; and a 70 per cent increase in the number of pedestrians reported to have been drinking, and either injured or killed. Those in charge of the program are W. E. Bowen, state vice president of Torrance, and Miss Dorothy Abbott of Placentia, state young people's superintendent.

The winner of this district contest Sunday afternoon will compete June 24 at the state C. E. convention at Alameda for the loving cup. BELIEVE CHILDREN COMMIT BURGLARIES

Children are believed to have been responsible for the burglary of the C. K. Simpson Milling company in Garden Grove yesterday and the burglary of the home of T. Hatada, R. D. 3, Box 48, on West First street.

After a screen had been ripped open and a window pried open in the office of the milling company, the thief reached through the window and took a radio and alarm clock from a desk.

Only two pennies were stolen from the Hatada home, although the entire home was ransacked. A screen was ripped off and a rock thrown through the window to gain entrance.

Deputy Sheriffs Robert Steinberger and R. R. Lutes are investigating both cases.

STUDENTS TO BE IN CHARGE OF REGISTER

Climaxing a series of field trips to newspapers throughout Southern California, a group of journalism students from the University of Southern California will assume the duties of the editorial staff of The Register for Saturday's edition.

Those who have acted as editors on the previous field trips this year, aided by staff members of the Daily Trojan, student publication, will comprise the force. Wendell Sether, editor-in-chief of the university paper, will head the staff, acting as city editor of The Register, and Marc N. Goodnow, field representative of the U. S. C. school of journalism, will be the faculty adviser for the trip.

The students will have complete charge of the paper, including the work of news reporting and editing, society, sports and county correspondence. Court trials, meetings and other events taking place this afternoon and tonight will be covered in advance by the Trojan journalists.

Assisting Sether in the work will be Jack Frankish, assistant editor of the Daily Trojan, who will act as assistant city editor; Ernest Foster, managing editor of the student publication, who will be telegraph editor; and Tom Lawless, day editor at U. S. C., and Gareth Muchmore, assistant day editor, who will assume the duties of the county editor.

Miss Margaret Lloyd, women's editor on the Daily Trojan, assisted by Miss Betty Lee Bonner, society editor on that paper, will take charge of the society department of The Register. Frank Breese, Daily Trojan sports head, working with Roland Applegate, will handle the sports section.

Reporters and re-write workers will include Miss Inez Effinger, one of the few women to work as day editor on the Daily Trojan; Wilbur Piguet, Bill Payette, and Dale Frady, day editors and assistant day editors.

Under the direction of Goodnow, the Trojan students have worked on the Ventura Star, Orange Daily News, Oceanside Blade-Tribune, Oxnard Courier, Santa Paula Chronicle, Wilmington Press, Redondo Breeze, Culver City Star News, El Segundo Herald, La Verne Leader, Azusa Herald, Inglewood Gazette, and the Chino Champion this spring. The Register is the largest newspaper which the students have taken over for a day.

Big Time Kidnap Rings Smashed, Government Wages Determined War To Stamp Out Remnants Of Gangs

Luer Abduction Cleaned Up Rapidly; Bremer Case Hard Nut to Crack; Karpis and Barker Hunted as Leaders

This is the fifth of a series of six absorbing stories on the nation's outlaws who have met merited end by bullet or rope or have landed behind prison bars, and the present-day "most-wanted" criminals, their records and detailed descriptions.

Mrs. George M. Chase

Holland

Karpis

Barker

IN THE WAVE of kidnaping which swept the country during the last few months, the U. S. Department of Justice acquitted itself splendidly.

Speedily it put behind the bars most of the principals in such cases as those of Mary McElroy and Nell Donnelly in Kansas City, Peggy McMath in Masachusetts, Jackie Thompson in Detroit, Adolphus Busch Orthwein in St. Louis, August Luer in Alton, Ill., Benjamin P. Power in Denver, Gordon H. Sawyer in Tucson, and Charles Urschel in Oklahoma.

But to make this record even more sweeping, and prove very definitely that there is nothing in kidnaping but discovery and prison, federal sleuths would like to round up at least five more "left-overs" from these and other kidnapings.

They are: Alvin Karpis and Doc Barker, believed to have been concerned in the Bremer kidnaping case, and also suspected of having operated with Clyde Barrow's gang and John Dillinger's.

Three also remain of those suspected in the Luer kidnaping case: Walter O'Malley, Lloyd Doyle and Mrs. G. M. Chase.

These five will be welcome callers at the department of justice.

Brutal to Aged Banker

Six of the Luer kidnap gang are already in jail. But the case was so repulsive that the government is anxious to round up the rest.

August Luer is a feeble 77-year old banker of Alton, Ill. The kidnapers entered his home, roughly handled both the aged man and his wife, and bundled him off in an auto.

In a foul and cramped basement they kept him confined for nearly a week—then they blindfolded him and released him on an open road. The kidnapers had been unable to make a safe contact to collect the $100,000 ransom they had demanded.

Federal forces worked unceasingly on the case, and excellent co-operation was achieved with local authorities. Mrs. Luer identified the picture of a former burglar and thug, "The Dice-box Kid", as one of the kidnapers.

Police went out and found him, and trapped him into admission that led to uncovering of the whole affair.

Ringleader Still Free

Though five men and a woman are now serving from five to 20 years for this cowardly crime, one of the suspected ringleaders in the plot is still at large. He is Walter Holland, known also as Walter or "Irish" O'Malley, burglar and hijacker.

With him is sought Lloyd "Blackie" Doyle, a man with no very black previous record, but who now stands indicted in the Luer case. The third is a woman, Mrs. George M. Chase, who has gone by the various names of Vivian Davis, Vivian Chase, Alice White, Vivian McDowell, Alice Waite, and Grace Hickey.

Mrs. Chase, though she, too, has no convictions behind her, is badly wanted to round out the complete mop-up of the Luer case.

Bremer Case Baffling

St. Paul's Bremer kidnaping case was a harder nut to crack. For 22 days thugs held concealed Edward G. Bremer, 37-year-old bank president, son of a prominent brewer, who is a friend of the president himself.

A gang of 10 or 12 men descended on Bremer just after he had taken his 8-year-old daughter to school one morning, beat him about the head, and carried him off.

This time the abductors carried on their negotiations successfully, and collected $200,000 in unmarked bills. They then released Bremer at Rochester, Minn.

Two months went by without any very tangible results. But now the case is beginning to open up. Chicago police have arrested a former state representative, and charged him with conspiracy in the Bremer kidnaping. They believe his arrest is the beginning of the breaking up of a "hot money" ring in Chicago which has specialized in disposal of ransom money and stolen bonds.

Fingerprints Are Found

Six men and two women, with a miscellaneous crime record behind every one of them, were rounded up in a bloodless raid on a farm near Mannford, Okla. Police gathered at night at Mannford in force, armed with every modern protectrve and offensive device, and descended on the farmhouse just as the sun rose.

The house surrounded, officers kicked in the door and arrested all the sleepy inmates before they could offer resistance. But they were small fry, wanted all over the United States, it is true, for various crimes, but small fry.

The best things found on this raid were fingerprints. The telltale prints of Arthur (Doc) Barker and Alvin Karpis were found on gasoline cans and flashlights about the farmhouse. Already under indictment in the Bremer case, these two known desperadoes are suspected of having played the major part in it, and to have been closely enough allied with John Dillinger that he himself may have had something to do with the kidnaping.

So the hunt for Barker and Karpis was speeded up.

Paroled; Back in Crime

Though he has twice escaped from custody, and was finally sentenced to life in the Oklahoma state penitentiary for murder, Barker was paroled in September, 1932, after serving 10 years. Since then he has been apparently active in a long series of crimes.

Barker has gone by the name of Bob Barker and Claude Dale, and has a brother Lloyd serving time in Fort Leavenworth.

Karpis, his probable comrade, is also a professional criminal who has served time for burglary, larceny, and safe-blowing. Karpis or Karpavics, has also gone under the names of Carter, Raymond Hadley, George Haller, Earl Peel, George Dunn, R. E. Hamilton and Ray Hunter.

When these two are rounded up, it is not unlikely that they may be found in connection with John Dillinger and his gang, for there is evidence that they have worked with them in recent months.

And that would make a round-up really worth going after.

NEXT: The Dillinger Gang, whose defiance of all the forces of law and order has made a sort of Roman holiday of the last few months.

AMERICAN SEEKING APPEAL IN PARIS

Mrs. Fawcett petitioned that she could be tried, properly, only on the specific Chambery charge under extradition laws.

EAT AND GROW SLIM

Luncheon

Crab or tuna fish salad
3 soda crackers
Pot of clear tea
Calory total, 275.

Since tuna fish is more easily obtained, we'll have a tuna fish salad. Make it this way:

Shred the heart of a head of lettuce into a salad plate, mixing with it finely diced celery (small heart), salt and pepper. Over this bed strew 1-2 cup of flaked tuna, garnish with 1 large sliced tomato, and 2 tablespoons mineral oil mayonnaise.

Some medico, breaking out in a rash of writing, said that the American nation is the most food-conscious and bowel-conscious of any nation on earth, and that our strict food observance is a lot of hooey! Be that as it may, let me add that due to our observance to diet rules, American women are probably the best looking women, as a whole, on earth. So-o-o! We'll keep right on with our interest in food and in adding to our knowledge of what makes intelligent eating.

To know food intelligently, and I am not speaking o ffood preparation, you need to know food values as set forth by the calory yard-stick. You may have a splendid list (330 items) by sending me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and one of your pet recipes.

Right now, I would like recipes for canning and pickling, please.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Cherry Preserves

5 pounds sugar.

Stem and wash cherries, pit them over the bowl, saving all juice. Drain the cherry juice over the sugar, if not enough to make into a thick syrup, add a little water. The syrup should be thick enough to make a soft ball in water. Pour in the cherries and when they reach a rolling boil, time them and cook 20 minutes, skimming frequently. Seal in jars as for canned fruit.

Are you familiar with Kentish cherries? I know of no variety which makes such marvelous cherry preserves as this kind, but of course there must be others which do. The cherry must be ripe-red and be tart enough to have lots of flavor in the heavy syrup. I make a jellied cherry preserve with commercial pectin which is delicious.

Rhubarb-Pineapple Conserve

3 pounds rhubarb
2 No. 2 1-2 cans pineapple
Sugar of weight equal to fruit
2 cups chopped walnuts or chopped blanched almonds.

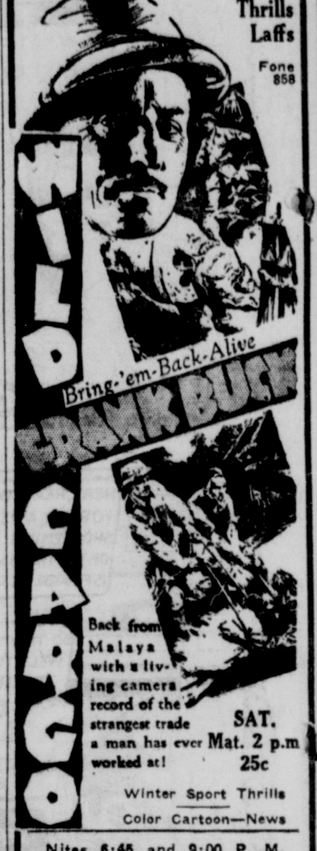

Wash and cut the rhubarb small, dice the pineapple and mix. Weigh the fruit and add sugar in equal weight, let stand over night, and if not sufficiently liquid in morning, add the juice of 1 can of pineapple. Bring to a rapid boil, skim, then simmer until thick, stirring often. Add the chopped nuts after the conserve has been taken off the fire. Put in small jars and seal with paraffin, then covers.

Saturday: We'll have food again. Cabbage stuffed with rice and walnuts . . . entirely different and very good.

Calory total, 275.

Since tuna fish is more easily obtained, we'll have a tuna fish salad. Make it this way:

Some medico, breaking out in a rash of writing, said that the American nation is the most food-conscious and bowel-conscious of any nation on earth, and that our strict food observance is a lot of hooey! Be that as it may, let me add that due to our observance to diet rules, American women are probably the best looking women, as a whole, on earth. So-o-o! We'll keep right on with our interest in food and in adding to our knowledge of what makes intelligent eating.

To know food intelligently, and I am not speaking o ffood preparation, you need to know food values as set forth by the calory yard-stick. You may have a splendid list (330 items) by sending me a stamped, self-addressed envelope and one of your pet recipes.

Right now, I would like recipes for canning and pickling, please.

TODAY'S RECIPE

Cherry Preserves

5 pounds sour red cherries
5 pounds sugar.

Stem and wash cherries, pit them over the bowl, saving all juice. Drain the cherry juice over the sugar, if not enough to make into a thick syrup, add a little water. The syrup should be thick enough to make a soft ball in water. Pour in the cherries and when they reach a rolling boil, time them and cook 20 minutes, skimming frequently. Seal in jars as for canned fruit.

Are you familiar with Kentish cherries? I know of no variety which makes such marvelous cherry preserves as this kind, but of course there must be others which do. The cherry must be ripe-red and be tart enough to have lots of flavor in the heavy syrup. I make a jellied cherry preserve with commercial pectin which is delicious.

Rhubarb-Pineapple Conserve

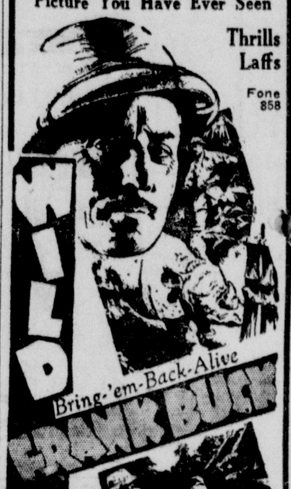

3 pounds rhubarb
2 No. 2 1-2 cans pineapple
Sugar of weight equal to fruit
2 cups chopped walnuts or chopped blanched almonds.

Wash and cut the rhubarb small, dice the pineapple and mix. Weigh the fruit and add sugar in equal weight, let stand over night, and if not sufficiently liquid in morning, add the juice of 1 can of pineapple. Bring to a rapid boil, skim, then simmer until thick, stirring often. Add the chopped nuts after the conserve has been taken off the fire. Put in small jars and seal with paraffin, then covers.

Saturday: We'll have food again. Cabbage stuffed with rice and walnuts . . . entirely different and very good.

La Habra School Students To Hear Riverside Pastor

LA HABRA, May 18.—La Habra grammar school girl graduates plan to wear dresses in nautical style at the graduation exercises June 14. The boys will wear cords. Dr. W. W. Catherwood, pastor of the First Baptist church, Riverside, will speak.

Democratic Club Hears Candidate

NEWPORT BEACH, May 18.—Neither Fascism or Communism holds any appeal to the people of America. They want no foreign "isms," but prefer the great middle ground of the greatest good to the greatest number as exemplified in President Roosevelt's program of Americanism and recovery.

This message was brought to the Harbor District Democratic club Wednesday night by James L. Davis, of Santa Ana, deputy district attorney, and candidate for the Democratic nomination for congress at the August primary, the meeting being held at the American Legion hall, with President Rex Turner presiding.

50 YEARS A MARTYR TO CONSTIPATION

But Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Brought Welcome Relief

Read this splendid letter from Mrs. Haynes:

"For 50 years I have been a martyr to constipation. Have tried every remedy under the sun.

"One day I read an account of some one who had been relieved by ALL-BRAN, but I thought 'What was the use of me trying anything more when all else had failed!'

"A while after, I read it again. That time I thought I would try it, it would do no harm anyway.

"I began with a small dish of your ALL-BRAN for breakfast, and wonderful to say, I never need to take any physic at all now. How I wish other poor sufferers from constipation could be persuaded to try it."—Mrs. Sarah Haynes, 138 Cedarwood Terrace, Rochester, N. Y.

Tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" and vitamin B to aid regular habits. Also iron for the blood.

This "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables. It's so much safer than taking patent medicines! Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN daily are usually sufficient. Severe cases, with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Get this delicious ready-to-eat cereal from your grocer. In the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

FARM BUREAU HEAD ON TRIP THROUGH EAST

Felton R. Browning, president of the Orange County Farm bureau, accompanied by his wife, is on his way today for a six weeks' business trip to New York City, it was learned today.

On the way the couple expected to stop in Washington, D. C., to contact Chester Gray, American Farm Bureau Federation representative at Washington, and to confer with government officials on many legislative matters on which the Farm Bureau is engaged at Washington.

Included in the investigation in which the Farm Bureau is interested, is the reciprocal trade question which is causing considerable concern to California farmers since many basic crops are dependent on tariffs, it was stated.

Brownine also will attempt to obtain first-hand information as to how the processing tax is working in those commodities where it has been tried. Processing tax is a very essential unit for the definite agricultural stabilization of the A. A. A., it was pointed out.

After leaving Washington the Brownings will go through Florida and on the way home will stop at the large eastern markets consuming centers such as Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Chicago. They expect to return here about June 15.

Court Notes

Vic Anderson and Henry Schmidt have filed an appeal in superior court from the recent judgment by Justice H. R. Morrison, Santa Ana, awarding L. B. Murphy judgement for $162 against Schmidt and Anderson. Murphy sued for recovery of locks, hinges and other equipment held by the defendants, or the cash equivalent of the property.

The Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles is plaintiff in a superior court action to foreclose a mortgage of $1589.20 against property of C. A. Shaw at Huntington Beach.

Abraham L. Jessee, charged with driving while under the influence of liquor, changed his plea from not guilty to guilty yesterday and applied to Superior Judge H. G. Ames for probation. His hearing was set for May 25.

Yes, ladies, you have a chance to catch the gold ring when you ride the merry-go-round. But the percentage is not in your favor. After the thrilling ride is over you may only have a nice lot of black iron rings that can't be cashed in for another ride. And although you have a chance of picking up something specially good as you go round and round the counter of bargain coffees, you'd better not count on it. It may be fun to save a few pennies per pound but you'll be out all you save in what you lose in flavor and strength. Play safe—buy Hills Bros. Coffee. It gives you more flavor and strength in every cup than any "bargain counter" coffee you could "ring." And after all, isn't that the way you drink coffee—by the cup rather than by the pound?

FARM BUREAU HEAD ON TRIP THROUGH EAST

Felton R. Browning, president of the Orange County Farm bureau, accompanied by his wife, is on his way today for a six weeks' business trip to New York City, it was learned today.

On the way the couple expected to stop in Washington, D. C., to contact Chester Gray, American Farm Bureau Federation representative at Washington, and to confer with government officials on many legislative matters on which the Farm Bureau is engaged at Washington.

Included in the investigation in which the Farm Bureau is interested, is the reciprocal trade question which is causing considerable concern to California farmers since many basic crops are dependent on tariffs, it was stated.

Browning also will attempt to obtain first-hand information as to how the processing tax is working in those commodities where it has been tried. Processing tax is a very essential unit for the definite agricultural stabilization of the A. A. A., it was pointed out.

After leaving Washington the Brownings will go through Florida, and on their way home will stop at the large eastern valencia consuming centers such as Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Chicago. They expect to return here about June 15.

Court Notes

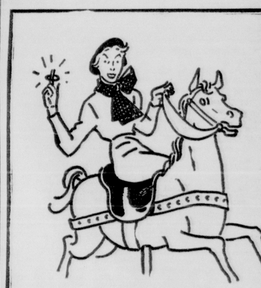

Vic Anderson and Henry Schmidt have filed an appeal in superior court from the recent judgment by Justice N. E. Morrison, Santa Ana, awarding L. B. Murphy judgement for $162 against Schmidt and Anderson. Murphy sued for recovery of locks, hinges and other equipment held by the defendants, the cash equivalent of the property.

The Security-First National Bank of Los Angeles is plaintiff in a superior court action to foreclose a mortgage of $1585.13 against property of C. A. Shaw at Huntington Beach.

Abraham L. Jessee, charged with driving while under the influence of liquor, changed his plea from not guilty to guilty Yesterday and appealed to Superior Judge H. G. Ames for probation. His hearing was set for May 25.

the gold ring

Yes, ladies, you have a chance to catch the gold ring when you ride the merry-go-round. But the percentage is not in your favor. After the thrilling ride is over you may only have a nice lot of black iron rings that can't be cashed in for another ride. And although you have a chance of picking up something specially good as you go round and round the counter of bargain coffees, you'd better not count on it. It may be fun to save a few pennies per pound but you'll be out all you save in what you lose in flavor and strength. Play safe—buy Hills Bros. Coffee. It gives you more flavor and strength in every cup than any "bargain counter" coffee you could "ring." And after all, isn't that the way you drink coffee—by the cup rather than by the pound?

L. A. Man Faces Bad Check Count

Charged with issuing a bank check with intent to defraud, Jack Fischer, 45, Los Angeles, was arrested yesterday, arraigned in justice court by Deputy Sheriff L. H. Nicholson and had his preliminary hearing set for May 23 at 9:30 a. m.

Fischer is alleged to have passed a fictitious check for $45.50 on August 18, 1933, in payment for a ton and one-half of beans from the C. C. Collins company. W. C. Collins of the bean firm was the complaining witness. Bail was fixed at $1500 by Judge Kenneth Morrison.

How to Hold Your Job!

The way to hold your job is to have your mind always clear, your disposition good, and to feel like working.

All these things depend very largely on what you eat. You can slow yourself up to the point of driving the boss crazy if you eat the wrong kind of lunch.

At least one meal a day, eat Shredded Wheat, milk, and fruit. This gives you the carbohydrates you need for energy, the proteins for tissue building, those mysterious vitamins that help you to resist disease, and bran to keep you regular.

No wonder it makes you feel fine. If you wanted to, you could live on this food combination and nothing else. It's economical—and it's mighty wise eating—especially during the hot weather. Start Shredded Wheat today and see how much more it puts you on top of your job.

How to make good coffee everytime

Only 3 things are necessary— (1) a drip coffee maker in which boiling water drips through (2) a specially prepared coffee and (3) a filter paper. That's all! And it never fails! Delicious every time! Always crystal clear! In a Drip Maker, the water drips through the coffee but one time, not many times as in a Percolator. At that one time, all the rich fragrant flavor is extracted from a coffee specially prepared to yield its flavor quickly. Any coffee prepared for the slow percolator process will not do. (Schilling DRIP Coffee is specially blended, roasted and ground—with filter papers enclosed.) A filter paper rests below the coffee to let through nothing but the delicious amber drops. Real drip coffee cannot be made otherwise. Try it! You'll join the millions who have turned to drip coffee.

Special $1.20 OFFER You can now buy a Special model Drip Coffee Maker and 1 lb. of Schilling Drip Coffee for $1.20 at your grocer's. If he cannot supply you, send his name and $1.20 to A Schilling & Co., San Francisco. Moneyback in either case if not satisfied.

Pay'n Takit

SOMETHING SAVED ON EVERYTHING

A NEW PAY'N TAKIT

NOW — TWO STORES TO SERVE SANTA ANA

FOURTH AND ROSS STS.
2323 NORTH MAIN STREET at EL PORTAL

Just a year ago this month, Santa Ana greeted her first Pay'n Takit store. During the past year, that store has proved itself to be a real source of saving for thousands of thrifty Santa Ana housewives.

A splendid assortments of quality fruits and vegetables, consistantly high quality meats, nationally advertised and popular brands of groceries—all at lowest prices—these features, combined with the famous Pay'n Takit service, have won and held numerous friends for the store at Fourth and Ross streets.

Now, in appreciation of the tremendous volumn of business that Santa Ana has given the first store, Pay'n Takit opens another store. The new store, located at 2323 North Main street, will bring this popular food service nearer to hundreds of families in the northern part of the city.

Visit the new store, meet the manager of each department. You'll find that the same low prices and efficient service prevail in this store. Many housewives will find that the convenience of the new location will save many hours of shopping time each month.

This is only the first step in Pay'n Takit's expansion program for Santa Ana. Watch for the announcement of other new stores to open soon.

ANAHEIM GOAT SCHEDULED FOR 'LAST ROUNDUP'

ANAHEIM, May 18.—This is another anecdote about the nanny goat of North Paulina street. It seems that she is "Headin' for the Last Roundup."

Day before yesterday residents of the street complained to the police that the goat, the property of a group of Filipino residents of the street, was in the habit of leaving its own back yard and visiting neighboring gardens where she would dine sumptuously on fresh vegetables. Officer Stephens was assigned to the case and secured an agreement from the owners of the goat to keep her fastened in her own yard.

Yesterday another complaint was received from the district. Apparently the goat found the lure of fresh carrots and other vegetables stronger than the fear of police reprisal. She was making the rounds of the gardens again. This time Officer Wilder was assigned to the case and he reported that the owners of the goat had agreed to get rid of their pet today.

Repeating her statement of yesterday the goat, when interviewed today said "Bla-a-a-h," which may or may not have meant "I'll be up to see you sometime."

TWO ARRESTED ON BURGLARY COUNTS

ANAHEIM, May 18.—With the arrest late yesterday of Bruce Cook, 18, and Russell Stewart, 17, Anaheim, police believe they have solved the burglarizing several months ago of the Fremont school shop and the shop of Nagel-Gohres. Some of the tools stolen in both burglaries have been identified. The youths were arraigned yesterday on burglary charges before Police Judge Frank Tausch and the date of their preliminary hearing was set for May 26 at 9 a. m. In default of $1000 bail each of the boys were remanded to the county jail.

According to the police the school shop was burglarized January 22 and the Nagel-Gohres shop was robbed on March 15. The arrests were made yesterday by Chief of Police James Bouldin and Sergeant James Pifer who have been investigating the robberies and followed location and identification of some of the stolen tools.

SCOUT HONOR COURT TO BE HELD TONIGHT

ANAHEIM, May 18—Merit badges and other honors will be awarded Anaheim Boy Scouts tonight at the last court of honor to be held before the summer season. The court will be held in Fremont school auditorium starting at 8 o'clock with Dr. R. M. Waltz, deputy district commissioner and Kenneth Peck in charge of the affair.

Opening and closing ceremonies tonight will be in charge of the Garden Grove troop with Troops 71 and 72, sponsored by the Elks and Masons of Anaheim presenting other scouting demonstrations. The principal address will be given by Frank Kellogg, vice principal at the high school. Col. M. B. Wellington of Santa Ana, president of the Orange County Scout Council, and Harrison White, county scout executive will be honor guests.

DINNER OF FREMONT P.T.A. IS CANCELLED

ANAHEIM, May 18.—Changing their plans for last night's meeting members of the Fremont P.-T. A., cancelled a dinner meeting in favor of a playlet and entertainment presented by students of the seventh and eighth grades.

The program was presented in the school auditorium and included presentation of the playlet "The Sport Shoppe" by students in the seventh grade food class under direction of Mrs. Marie Webster. Eighth grade food class girls calling themselves "The Singing Cooks" supplied music between scenes.

Mrs. Walter Ross sang several selections and M. A. Gauer, elementary school superintendent spoke on "The Use of Leisure Time."

PLAN UNION CHURCH SERVICES IN PARK

ANAHEIM, May 18.—Schedules for union church services to be held in the city park during July and August are being prepared by the Rev. Ray C. Harker and Conrad Jongwaard, secretary of the Anaheim Ministerial union. Instructions to prepare such a schedule was given the two men Wednesday at a meeting of the union.

Following a custom of many years the union services will be held each evening in the Greek theater at the park during July and August.

At the same meeting the Rev. O. E. Schroeder was appointed to preach the high school baccalaureate sermon June 17 in the Greek theater in the park. Other ministers also were assigned their parts in the service.

ANAHEIM GOAT SCHEDULED FOR 'LAST ROUNDUP'

ANAHEIM, May 18.—This is another anecdote about the nanny goat of North Paulina street. It seems that she is "Headin' for the Last Roundup."

Day before yesterday residents of the street complained to the police that the goat, the property of a group of Filipino residents of the street, was in the habit of leaving its own back yard and visiting neighboring gardens where she would dine sumptuously on fresh vegetables. Officer Stephens was assigned to the case and secured an agreement from the owners of the goat to keep her fastened in her own yard.

Yesterday another complaint was received from the district. Apparently the goat found the lure of fresh carrots and other vegetables stronger than the fear of police reprisal. She was making the rounds of the gardens again. This time Officer Wilder was assigned to the case and he reported that the owners of the goat had agreed to get rid of their pet today.

Repeating her statement of yesterday the goat, when interviewed today said "Bla-a-a-h," which may or may not have meant "I'll be up to see you sometime."

TWO ARRESTED ON BURGLARY COUNTS

ANAHEIM, May 18.—With the arrest late yesterday of Bruce Cook, 18, and Russell Stewart, 17, Anaheim, police believe they have solved the burglarizing several months ago of the Fremont school shop and the shop of Nagel-Gohres. Some of the tools stolen in both burglaries have been identified. The youths were arraigned yesterday on burglary charges before Police Judge Frank Tausch and the date of their preliminary hearing was set for May 26 at 9 a. m. In default of $1000 bail each of the boys were remanded to the county jail.

According to the police the school shop was burglarized January 22 and the Nagel-Gohres shop was robbed on March 15. The arrests were made yesterday by Chief of Police James Bouldin and Sergeant James Pifer who have been investigating the robberies and followed location and identification of some of the stolen tools.

SCOUT HONOR COURT TO BE HELD TONIGHT

ANAHEIM, May 18—Merit badges and other honors will be awarded Anaheim Boy Scouts tonight at the last court of honor to be held before the summer season. The court will be held in Fremont school auditorium starting at 8 o'clock with Dr. R. M. Waltz, deputy district commissioner and Kenneth Peck in charge of the affair.

Opening and closing ceremonies tonight will be in charge of the Garden Grove troop with Troops 71 and 72, sponsored by the Elks and Masons of Anaheim presenting other scouting demonstrations. The principal address will be given by Frank Kellogg, vice principal at the high school. Col. M. B. Wellington of Santa Ana, president of the Orange County Scout Council, and Harrison White, county scout executive will be honor guests.

DINNER OF FREMONT P.T.A. IS CANCELLED

ANAHEIM, May 18.—Changing their plans for last night's meeting members of the Fremont P.-T. A., cancelled a dinner meeting in favor of a playlet and entertainment presented by students of the seventh and eighth grades.

The program was presented in the school auditorium and included presentation of the playlet "The Sport Shoppe" by students in the seventh grade food class under direction of Mrs. Marie Webster. Eighth grade food class girls calling themselves "The Singing Cooks" supplied music between scenes.

Mrs. Walter Ross sang several selections and M. A. Gauer, elementary school superintendent spoke on "The Use of Leisure Time."

PLAN UNION CHURCH SERVICES IN PARK

ANAHEIM, May 18.—Schedules for union church services to be held in the city park during July and August are being prepared by the Rev. Ray C. Harker and Conrad Jongwaard, secretary of the Anaheim Ministerial union. Instructions to prepare such a schedule was given the two men Wednesday at a meeting of the union.

Following a custom of many years the union services will be held each evening in the Greek theater at the park during July and August.

At the same meeting the Rev. O. E. Schroeder was appointed to preach the high school baccalaureate sermon June 17 in the Greek theater in the park. Other ministers also were assigned their parts in the service.

THE LONGSHOREMEN'S STRIKE

The strike of the longshoremen, which has spread to other organizations that have struck in sympathy, is an exceedingly unfortunate affair.

A strike is always a bad thing from the public's viewpoint. It is used when negotiations between employer and employe have reached an impasse.

These negotiations are usually over the question of hours and wages. This is the case with the longshoremen demand an increase, and the employers refuse to grant it. Finally the strike was called.

A strike is supposed to substitute passive resistance, or withholding from the employers the product of the men, their labor, until the employer comes to terms. This is what is being done.

But too often, under such circumstances, the strikers, in their anxiety to keep virtual possession of their jobs, even when they are striking, become angry at those who are taking their jobs. They resort to violence, in order to prevent those substituting for the ones who refuse to work.

That these men have a perfect right to quit work, if they do not want to work, no one denies. But we can see no defense, from any point of view, for refusing to work, and then using violence to prevent another man, who wants to work, from working.

If the question is of collective bargaining, we cannot see why the administration, which has insisted on the right of bargaining, cannot be depended upon to keep continued order by assuring a fair deal, and the right of unified action of the employes. Either or both sides should appeal to the government for such action.

In fact, the government, which is society itself, organized, ought not to wait for such an appeal. A strike, in the manner in which it is being conducted in this affair, amounts to little less than civil war, and the strikers are without the pale of the law.

The law protects property; it protects men in their personal actions, and in their right to labor; it protects the employer in carrying on his program as he desires, providing he does it in harmony with the law. This has been done, as far as we can observe.

It may be possible, in equity and in justice, the demands of the longshoremen should have been granted, but there is no law which compels the employer to pay this additional remuneration, or reduce the hours. Hence they were within their right to refuse it.

The remedy for their workers would have been to continue their labor, urge the application of the code to their work, so that they might get redress, if they felt it was unjust.

They could go through various public means, such as the radio and the newspapers, or in public meetings, to present their cause, so as to bring the impact of public sentiment on their side, if their side were correct. But to take the law into their own hands and attack men to the injury of their person, the jeopardy of their lives, and the destruction of property, is intolerable.

It defeats the whole purpose of the strike. We haven't a word of excuse to offer for violence under such circumstances. Whatever may be the aggravation, we should remember that we are a people who are governed by law. These rules are made by representatives of our own choosing, or possibly by legislation which has been enacted by our direct vote.

If we feel that the operation of the law is unfair or unjust, we have the power, through our agencies, to change it. But the security of everything we hold dear is dependent upon our respect for those rules of the game of life, which we have adopted and which from time to time we change, perhaps too slowly, to better adapt them to the unfolding needs of the hour.

However we may disagree with one another in our economic beliefs, and in what we believe should be done for the good of society or ourselves, we should not differ, under any circumstances, on the proposition that the rules of the game, the law which we have enacted, shall determine our procedure.

This should apply to the employe and the employer. Law, and not the caprice of a man, or the rule of the mob, should be regnant as the determining factor in the method of our procedure.

Just at this time there are other obligations than the personal one that should prompt one to be patient, because our whole country is getting on better footing. The increased employment gives greater assurance to those who feel themselves unjustly treated as wage earners, that their demands in the future will be acknowledged, because there will not be so many in the army of the unemployed ready to take their places.

THE SURPLUS OF WHITE-COLLAR WORKERS

Dr. Morris S. Viteles of the University of Pennsylvania is credited with the statement that there are ten million white-collar workers in this country who can never be placed in jobs. There is nothing open to them except manual labor. He states further that there are fifteen million manual workers who will have to seek jobs in other lines.

This economic maladjustment has become a serious problem in this country. The desire for higher education, and the facilities for education offered, have been the cause for the over-expansion in the white-collar group. It is evident that some changes will have to be effected in the training of youth if this maladjustment in industry is to be cured.

In earlier days, and it has continued on into our day, it has been the custom of the boy to choose his vocation at the beginning of his education. As is well-known, this process has created a great many round pegs for square holes and square pegs for round holes. In every profession there are men who, to all appearances, have mistaken their calling. There are doctors who should never have been doctors, teachers who should never have become teachers, ministers who should never have become ministers. But there they are, and once prepared for a given vocation or profession, it is hard to make a change.

Educators are coming to the opinion that choosing a vocation should be preceded by an analysis of fundamental abilities possessed by the boy before he chooses. An anlysis of the capacity of each individual should be made for a given task. This alone, it is said, can prevent the making of a poor lawyer, who might have made a good carpenter or a good farmer.

As long as we had an undeveloped country, choices of vocation could be made without incurring much risk. There was always a scarcity of doctors in the undeveloped West. Civil and mining engineers were needed in large numbers to exploit new territory and new mineral resources. All that is in the past. The professions are overcrowded, and there are not office stools enough anywhere to accommodate the number who would like to sit on them.

It should be said that this obtains not only in the white-collar realm, but quite as much in every realm of labor and industry. In most industries there are nearly two men for every available job. This is the cause of the chronic unemployment which has been so rapidly increasing in this country. Yet, it is not always easy to determine the fitness of every man for a given vocation. Phillips Brooks, one of the greatest preachers this country has produced, was strongly advised not to study for the ministry, that he could never hope to succeed. Within the experience of every one of us, there are those from whom nothing was to be expected, who became great. And there were those from whom much was expected who flatted out completely.

The facts stated by Professor Viteles may be true, but it would be a pity if youth should stand hesitating always in the choice of a life vocation. There is still something to be said for Emerson's motto, 'Hitch your wagon to a star." Men of genius might easily be lost to the world were it not for the fact that there is still some hope that the boundless earth belongs to every one.

CLARA PHILLIPS' PAROLE IS GRANTED

Public interest will be again aroused in the case of Clara Phillips, the so-called "tiger woman," who was convicted some 12 years ago for the crime of manslaughter.

Her history is well known. There will be considerable criticism of the board of probations for granting her liberty, which does not begin, however, until a year hence.

By that time she will have been imprisoned some 13 years, barring a brief period when she was out as an escaped fugitive.

We would not attempt to pass judgment upon the case. We are not acquainted with her or her doings, but we do hope that in these cases that such people are under the observation of experts and are examined most thoroughly by them, with the interest of society in view, and that this shall be done by folks who are unaffected by personal appeals, the influence of attorneys, or any possible political consideration.

That phase of our life having to do with crime should be treated entirely with the object in mind of rendering the greatest protection to those who conform themselves to the law. Otherwise there is an increase in the criminality which we are seeking to destroy.

The pardons, paroles and commutations of sentences have been granted rather by favor than for society's interest, and this has been no small factor in contributing to the growth of crime.

We have had unfortunate experiences, such as with Governor Ferguson in Texas, and not much less unfortunate with our own governor in this state.

Students On Their Own

Detroit News

Olivet College announces that the responsibility of getting an education is to be upon the students. Beginning with the opening of the college year in September, requirements that students must be regularly in classes will cease. Mornings will be devoted to study, afternoons to athletics and evenings to debates and discussions. Students will be given advice by the professors, but not coached or taught or instructed.

If it is a novelty in this country, it is a very old idea in education. European universities always have been so conducted. Students and educators who have come under the European influence always have argued for the introduction of the method in the educational institutions of this country.

In one noteworthy instance trial was made of it. Dr. Alexander Meiklejohn, professor of philosophy, was called from Amherst College to the University of Wisconsin and permitted to establish on "Experimental College" with selected students. There were no assigned lessons and no classes, but each student pursued knowledge in accordance with a general theme. At the close of the second year the experiment was discontinued.

It is significant that Joseph Brewer, president of Olivet College, is a graduate of Oxford University, England. Educators will watch with interest his degree of success in conducting a Michigan small college according to the methods of the great English universities.

HOW TO BE A PEDANT

If you yearn to develop a culture
That will fill all your neighbors with awe,
If you want them to think
You're an erudite gink
Like Shakespeare and Bacon and Shaw,
Pore over a book of quotations
By lads who were deft with the pen,
Run your hands through your hair
With a world weary air
And spring a swell line now and then.

Speak of Proust in a negligent fashion,
Talk of eddas and sagas and glyphs,
Refer to the speech
Abyssinians teach,
And the tongue that is used by the Riffs.
Quote the stuff that was written by Pindar,
A wise learned poet, no doubt,
Who spent weary days
Making phrase after phrase
Whose meaning I can't figure out.

Then scholars will seek your acquaintance
And savants will gather around,
You will have the acclaim
Of the men in the game
Who are gifted and wise and profound.
You'll be feted and honored and laureled,
In forum, in palace and street.
As for me, I am glad
That you are a lad
Whom I probably never shall meet.

Little Benny's Note Book by Lee Pape

Pop and ma went to a ball last night, and this morning we was eating breakfist and ma said, Willyum did you ever in your life see such an uncommon number of frumps under one common roof?

Well, perhaps not, pop said. I never bother to look. It seems to me if you see one frump you see them all, the same as with Roman ruins, he said, and ma said, For instants take Mrs. Willoway Pitts, she's sippose to be rite in the vanguard of the forefront of sissiety, but nobody but a blind man would sispect it to see her in that blue velvet outfit that much of outdated the ark by many callenders. Don't tell me you didn't notice that, Willyum, ma said.

Well, to tell the truth I was bizzy sniggering at old Willoway Pitts himself, pop said. The old boy had his legs crossed and one garter was axualy showing, how's that for a public scandle? he said.

That's redickulous even to mention, ma said. And then there was Mrs. T. L. Eversly, you know, the real Mrs. Eversly, how could she come to a modern function like that in a prehistorick rig like that? she said, and pop said, Maybe she took an old fashion buggy. But to tell the truth I was giving all my attention to young Russel Ribbits and D. Samuel Brothers. They're reputed to be leaders of fashion and here young Ribbits had one shoelace with the tip missing from the end of it, and you may not bleeve it but the grate D. Samuel Brothers was sporting a silk hankerchiff with the very same lip rouge mark that I saw on it a month ago. I reckonized it immeeditly. Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

THE WAR DEBTS MUDDLE

In all the mad whirl of emotions surrounding the war debts issue the voice of reason must clamor for attention.

It is gravely unfortunate that we ever got mired in the mass of governmental loans to Europe.

It would have been a far sounder procedure, when we decided that the world war was our war as well as Europe's, to have given freely what we could to win the war.

It is strange that while protesting so loudly that we would not become politically entangled with European affairs we pursued precisely the sort of lending policy that has meant increasing political entanglement.

And now the debts issue has become so entangled in emotions and prejudices and demagogic claptrap that even the most enlightened national leadership feels obliged to keep a stiff upper lip and insist upon the bond.

The drift of events has not altered my judgment on the war debts since I last discussed them in these articles.

The all important issue is not the collection of these debts.

The all important issue is the reopening of the now clogged channels of world trade.

If world trade can be set going again to absorb more of our surplus farm and factory output, with the cancellation of these debts as part of the price, to cancel them will mean money in our pocket.

Congress should put in the hands of the president full power to deal with these debts. And the president's hands should not be tied by any swashbuckling and roaring about our rights. Of course we have the right to insist upon their payment. But the opportunity to trade is more important just now than the right to collect.

Our Children By Angelo Patri

THE WRONG END

We begin to correct our children at the wrong end of the job. We try to doctor up the symptom and neglect the cause. That keeps us patching and patching without ever getting anywhere. We could save a lot of trouble if we saved our efforts for the cause of the trouble and cleared that up first.

Peter was a nuisance in school and because of that he was a great trial at home as well. Every afternoon when he got home his mother said, "Peter, how did you get along today?"

"Not so hot."

"What does that mean?"

"I lost my books so I couldn't do my lessons and she kept me in."

"You lost your books?"

"I guess so. I couldn't find them."

"Your books are sitting right over there on the table where you left them last Friday when you got home. You mean to tell me that you didn't even open them? Aren't you ashamed of yourself? No wonder your teacher is out of patience with you. I am myself. The first thing you do now is to sit down at that table where I can see you, and do your home work."

"I lost the paper."

"Call up Douglas and ask him what you have to do."

"He wasn't at school today. He's got the mumps so I can't see him anyway."

"I suppose that means you will not have your lessons for tomorrow. You'll get up early and do them before school begins. You can get the work in school. Now you can change your clothes and clean the cellar."

Next morning Peter was not out of bed at eight o'clock although he had been called three times. He was late for school. He was kept in as usual. That week he was kept in every day. No work, no books, late both sessions, no pen, no pencil, a convenient headache and a general unfitness made a complete failure for the week. The principal said:

"Why don't you like school, Peter?"

"It's dead. Nothing to it," said Peter. "I want to be where there is something going on and getting somewhere. Even if it was only a school paper."

"If you want to run a school paper you may. If that will put life into the school job for you go to it but for pity's sake do something you truly want to do. If you don't get to work you are going to get to a sad place and that before many days pass over your head."

That was all Peter needed. Something to interest him, to stimulate his mind and set his body in motion and the school paper did that for him beautifully.

There is no use in keeping a child in after school for punishment. Keep him to search for the root of his difficulty and you may get somewhere.

NRA MEMBER U.S. WE DO OUR PART

THE LONGSHOREMEN'S STRIKE

The strike of the longshoremen, which has spread to other organizations that have struck in sympathy, is an exceedingly unfortunate affair.

A strike is always a bad thing from the public's viewpoint. It is used when negotiations between employer and employe have reached an impasse.

These negotiations are usually over the question of hours and wages. This is the case with the longshoremen's fight. The longshoremen demand an increase, and the employers refuse to grant it. Finally the strike was called.

A strike is supposed to substitute passive resistance, or withholding from the employers the product of the men, their labor, until the employer comes to terms. This is what is being done.

But too often, under such circumstances, the strikers, in their anxiety to keep virtual possession of their jobs, even when they are striking, become angry at those who are taking their jobs. They resort to violence, in order to prevent those substituting for the ones who refuse to work.

That these men have a perfect right to quit work, if they do not want to work, no one denies. But we can see no defense, from any point of view, for refusing to work, and then using violence to prevent another man, who wants to work, from working.

Of the men in the game
Who are gifted and wise and profound.
You'll be feted and honored and laureled,
In forum, in palace and street.
As for me, I am glad
That you are a lad
Whom I probably never shall meet.

Little Benny's Note Book by Lee Pape

Pop and ma went to a ball last night, and this morning we was eating breakfist and ma said, Willyum did you ever in your life see such an uncommon number of frumps under one common roof?

Well, perhaps not, pop said. I never bother to look. It seems to me if you see one frump you see them all, the same as with Roman ruins, he said, and ma said, For instants take Mrs. Willoway Pitts, she's sippose to be rite in the vanguard of the forefront of sissiety, but nobody but a blind man would sispect it to see her in that blue velvet outfit that much of outdated the ark by many callenders. Don't tell me you didn't notice that, Willyum, ma said.

Well, to tell the truth I was bizzy sniggering at old Willoway Pitts himself, pop said. The old boy had his legs crossed and one garter was axually showing, how's that for a public scandle? he said.

That's redickulous even to mention, ma said. And then there was Mrs. T. L. Eversly, you know, the real Mrs. Eversly, how could she come to a modern function like that in a prehistorick rig like that? she said, and pop said, Maybe she took an old fashion buggy. But to tell the truth I was giving all my attention to young Russel Ribbits and D. Samuel Brothers. They're reputed to be leaders of fashion and here young Ribbits had one shoelace with the tip missing from the end of it, and you may not bleeve it but the grate D. Samuel Brothers was sporting a silk hankerchiff with the very same lip rouge mark that I saw on it a month ago. I reckonized it immeeditly. Can you imagine a so called arbiter of stile overwerking a lip rouge mark like that instead of going honestly to werk and getting a fresh one? pop said.

O, I mite as well tak to a stone wall without ears, ma said. Reed your paper, she said.

Wich he did.

Thoughts On Modern Life

BY GLENN FRANK

THE WAR DEBTS MUDDLE

In all the mad whirl of emotions surrounding the war debts issue the voice of reason must clamor for attention.

It is gravely unfortunate that we ever got mired in the mass of governmental loans to Europe.

It would have been a far sounder procedure, when we decided that the world war was our war as well as Europe's, to have given freely what we could to win the war.

It is strange that while protesting so loudly that we would not become politically entangled with European affairs we pursued precisely the sort of lending policy that has meant increasing political entanglement.

And now the debts issue has become so entangled in emotions and prejudices and demagogic claptrap that even the most enlightened national leadership feels obliged to keep a stiff upper lip and insist upon the bond.

The drift of events has not altered my judgment on the war debts since I last discussed them in these articles.

The all important issue is not the collection of these debts.

The all important issue is the reopening of the now clogged channels of world trade.

If world trade can be set going again to absorb more of our surplus farm and factory output, with the cancellation of these debts as part of the price, to cancel them will mean money in our pocket.

Congress should put in the hands of the president full power to deal with these debts. And the president's hands should not be tied by any swashbuckling and roaring about our rights. Of course we have the right to insist upon their payment. But the opportunity to trade is more important just now than the right to collect.

Our Children

By Angelo Patri

THE WRONG END

We begin to correct our children at the wrong end of the job. We try to doctor up the symptom and neglect the cause. That keeps us patching and patching without ever getting anywhere. We could save a lot of trouble if we saved our efforts for the cause of the trouble and cleared that up first.

Peter was a nuisance in school and because of that he was a great trial at home as well. Every afternoon when he got home his mother said, "Peter, how did you get along today?"

"Not so hot."

"What does that mean?"

"I lost my books so I couldn't do my lessons and she kept me in."

"You lost your books?"

"I guess so. I couldn't find them."

"Your books are sitting right over there on the table where you left them last Friday when you got home. You mean to tell me that you didn't even open them? Aren't you ashamed of yourself? No wonder your teacher is out of patience with you. I am myself. The first thing you do now is to sit down at that table where I can see you, and do your home work."

"I lost the paper."

"Call up Douglas and ask him what you have to do."

"He wasn't at school today. He's got the mumps so I can't see him anyway."

"I suppose that means you will not have your lessons for tomorrow. You'll get up early and do them before school begins. You can get the work in school. Now you can change your clothes and clean the cellar."

Next morning Peter was not out of bed at eight o'clock although he had been called three times. He was late for school. He was kept in as usual. That week he was kept in every day. No work, no books, late both sessions, no pen, no pencil, a convenient headache and a general unfitness made a complete failure for the week. The principal said:

"Why don't you like school, Peter?"

"It's dead. Nothing to it," said Peter. "I want to be where there is something going on and getting somewhere. Even if it was only a school paper."

"If you want to run a school paper you may. If that will put life into the school job for you go to it but for pity's sake do something you truly want to do. If you don't get to work you are going to get to a sad place and that before many days pass over your head."

That was all Peter needed. Something to interest him, to stimulate his mind and set his body in motion and the school paper did that for him beautifully.

There is no use in keeping a child in after school for punishment. Keep him to search for the root of his difficulty and you may get somewhere.

(Mr. Patri will give special attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, inclosing a three-cent stamped, addressed envelope for reply.)
